WILBUR WRIGHT WINS NEW GLORY

American Breaks All Aeroplane Records by Flight in France.

OVER 91 MINUTES IN AIR

Crowd of 10,000, Including Many Distinguished Guests of French Aero Club, Wildly Cheer Aviator's Great Performance.

LE MANS, France, Sept. II.—In the pres-ence of the officials of the French Aero Club of Sarthe, American Ambassador Henry White, Geenral Bazaine-Hayter. Henry White, Geenral Dasanie Lives a commander of the Fourth Army Corps; a large number of French and foreign offi-cers and aeroplane experts and a wildly cheering crowd, Wilbur Wright, the American aeroplanist, this afternoon accomplished a signal triumph, capturing the world's record from his brother, Or-ville Wright, by a marvelously impressive flight of 1 hour, 31 minutes, 51 seconds, covering in that time an actual distance of 98 kilometers, or nearly 61 miles.

Tries for Two Prizes.

Owing to the recent accident at Fort Myer, the trial today for the Michelin cup for the greatest distante covered by an aeropiane in 1988 and the Aero Club prize of $1000 for the longest flight over an inclosed ground, attracted intense inter-

At 5:15 the aviator got away nicely, sailing majestically up the field. Round-ing the upper turn, Wright awept back to where the thousands were gathered and began describing ellipses. Round after round he made with the regularity of clockwork and the steadiness of a railroad train. The great crowd was at once delighted and amazed at the remarkable stability shown by the aeroplane.

Phantom in Darkness.

In the gathering darkness the spectacle hecame a thrilling one. The aeroplane could no longer be seen at the further end of the field; it appeared and disappeared of the field; it appeared and disappeared in the gloom like a white phantom, but the sound of the ceaseless churning of the propellers told the multitude, which had now grown frantic, that Wright was still in the air.

Matches were lighted to keep watch on the fleeling minutes, and night had fallen when, at the end of the 25d round. Wright shut off his motor and came lightly to the ground.

With a mad cheer the crowds broke through the lines and rushed forward, only being prevented from holsting the American in triumph on their shoulders

Could Have Gone Longer.

Mr. Wright told the Associated Press that he had descended only because of darkness; he still had sufficient essence in the tank to last an hour.

As the measurement under the rules is only taken from the flags, the official distance of the flight is given at 65.00 kilometers. For the Michelin aero prize, only the time before aunset counts, and therefore, in his attempt to win this trophy. Wright set a record of 53 minutes, covering 35.5 kilometers.

ing 38.6 kilometers.

Mr. Wright took his achievement with his usual modesty, but said that he was especially glad to have established a new world's record for his brother Orville's sake. He denied the report that he does not intend hereafter to carry passengers.

SAYS FALL WAS TOO SHORT

Aeroplane Would Have Righted Itself Soon, Wright Asserts.

scif Soon, Wright Asserts.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Orville Wright's own story of the tragic fate which befell his aeroplane at the Fort Myer testing field, resulting in the death of Lieutenant Selfridge and dangerous injuries to Mr. Wright himself, is told in a dispatch received in this city.

According to the story he is at a loss to account for the real reason of the fatal termination of what had promised to be a record-breaking flight. The immediate cause was plainly that one of the propellers struck a guy rope, he says, but he is unable even now to understand how it could have happened.

"I knew it was dangerous to have those how it could have happened.

"I knew it was dangerous to have those propellers revolve so that they would be likely to hit anything." said he, "but we tried to make them hit before—tried to force them to hit. They would not. They had plenty of clearance. I don't know how they hit that time—how they came to get there. But they did. Somehow that propeller and the wire came to. how that propeller and the wire came to-gether. The propeller hit the wire twice lightly, then hard. I heard it. I heard the crash. I did not look back. I did not the crass. I did not look back. I did not know what was happening. Selfridge looked back—I saw him. I den't know what he saw. I thought it was the trans-mission that had given way. I thought the propellers were ripping the machine

"Then we commenced to spin around. That was the unbroken propeller urging us onward. I cut off the propeller—pulled the cord—and we lost headway. The rudder was out of commission. It must have swuig to one side—useless—as soon as the wire got loose from the tall. We can't stay up without headway, so when the machine swung around in a circle and the rudder would not work and the engine was stopped—I thought it was grinding us to pieces—I could not see—we began to drop. I heard Selfridge say, 'Chi Chi' I expected to right the machine. It was falling edgewise. The only way to get headway was to fall—we did not fall far enough. It started to right. Twenty feet more and it would have righted. We did not have the 20 feet. That's all." we commenced to spin around. feet That's all."

Wrangled With Civilian.

"At the same place he became em-broiled with a civilian, Mr. Cushing, a resident in the neighborhood of the mili-tary reservation, and the War Depart-ment was obliged to interfere and stop his wrangling with Mr. Cushing.

These were only some among the Instances of incompetency and temperamental shortcomings which were brought to the attention of the department.

Grant's Plan Indorsed.

"In 1908 Brigadeler-General (now Major-General) Grant, the Department Com-mander, forwarded the report on Colonel Stewart's command to the division headquarters with the comment that the 'un-happy condition of affairs at Fort Will-iams' was due to the action of the com-manding officer, his shortcoming being temperamental, which caused him so to irritate those around him that in the opinion of General Grant the only way to meet the defect was to 'get rid of the irritant, which can be done by offering Colonel Stewart an alternative of relief from command or retirement on his own application.

"The Chief of Artillery indorsed General Grant's recommendation that Colonel Stewart be offered the alternative of relief from command or retirement."

The President's letter gives in detail the history of further tyrannies. Briefly they are:

"Colonel Stewart was given another chance, being ordered to Fort Barrancas, Department of the Guif. General Diwall, commanding, was finally compelled to report that Stewart was temperamentally control of the position because of tyranny. unfit for his position, because of tyranny and other defects, and numerous in-stances are quoted.

Calls Him Tyrant.

When Stewart forwarded an applica When Stewart forwarded an applica-tion to be appointed Brigadier-General the Department Commander opposed it on the grounds of Stewart's "malice, vin-dictiveness, frequent tyrannies and unfit-ness." The Division Commander in his report to the War Department agreed that Stewart was "unfit.

that Stewart was "unfi."

More complaints followed and after an investigation, in July, 1907, Colonel Stewart was found guilty of tyrannical and unreasonable conduct toward a civilian employe of the Government.

The President's letter quotes high officers of the Army, all of whom had to deal with Colonel Stewart, and their verdict was unanimous that he was temperamentally unfit to command.

Again Asked to Quit.

Again Asked to Quit.

General Murray, Chief of Artiflery, again recommended that to Colonel Stewart there be offered the alternative of relief from command or retirement upon his own application. Accordingly, on the advice of the four General officers, Grant. Duvall. Davis and Murray, all of them his superior officers, who were most intimately acquainted with the facts of the case. Colonel Stewart was sent to the ungarrisoned post of Fort Grant.

"It was found upon inquiry that there were four posts available for such assignment," the letter continues. "Fort Assinibone was deemed unsuitable, as the Winter season is so long and severe. Fort Keogh, although without a regular garrison, is occupied by a small detachment of troops. "Colonel Stewart's conduct toward enlisted men has been so tyrannical and unjust that the department could not consent to subjecting them to his exclusive control, and therefore Fort Keogh was excluded. Keogh was excluded.

Fort Grant Is Healthy.

"Fort Brown, at Brownsville, Texas, has been left without a garrison, but a Colonel Stewart has been continually embroiled with civilians, it was deemed inadvisable that he should be sent to this particular post. There remained only Fort Grant. It is an entirely healthy post and the question of its employment as a light artillery post is now under consideration.' in conclusion the President said:

Deserves No Consideration.

"The facts above given show that Colonel Stewart is entitled to no consid-eration whatever; that he ought to be retired from the Army forthwith and that to adopt any other disposition of the case than that which has actually been adopt-ed would be unfair to the interests of the Army, and particularly unfair to the inerests of the enlisted men and unjust to the civilians at any post to which he might be assigned."

Opposes Military Trial.

"Now, as to your suggestion as to a "Now, as to your suggestion as to a trial, for the reasons given above, and also the memorandum which I herewith forward, there is no point in having a court-martial. At present, I do not see how any court of inquiry would express an opinion to which I should pay more heed than to the judgment of Generals Wade, Grant, Murray, Duvall and Davis, in accordance with whose recommendations I have acted.

Case Absolutely Clear.

"The case is absolutely clear. Nothing would more quickly destroy all discipline in the Army than to continually grant courts of inquiry to contentions, inefficient or disobedient officers whose misconduct is already proved beyond possibility of rebuttal. Baseless requests for such courts are continually made by of-fenders of contentious disposition. It would be highly unnestrable to grant. Such measures as those taken in this case are purely within the scope of the Presi-dent's duties and authority.

Regarded as Precedent.

The course followed in this case is the course which will hereafter be followed to the great benefit of the Army, in all such cases. Letters to this effect havaiready been addressed to the commanding officers of the several departments."

That hoard reported that the Colonel was practically blind in one eye and that, because of the additional fact that he had heart trouble, he was disabled for military service. Privilege to take the ride was denied Colonel Stewart, the examining board in its report declaring that to do so would endanger his life. Brigadier-General Hall is president of the examining and retiring board at Washington which will take up the case. Its functions will be to ascertain formally the facts and make a report on them to the Secretary of War for his use and the President's. Colonel Stewart's "exile" to Fort Grant dates back a year. Before being sent there, however, he was given an opportunity while at Fort Barrancas, Fla., to retire but to this offer Colonel Stewart replied:

"If appointed Brigadier, will retire; if not, will remain on duty." The department's intentions regarding Colonel Stewart at the time were to send him to Fort Grant without command un-til he reached the minimum age of 62, permitting of his compulsory retirement by the President unless, in the meantime, he should voluntarily retire after 40 years'

When information was sought at the War Department as to the basis for such action, the only comment forthcoming was that Colonel Stewart was "tempowas that cooled Stewart, it had been asserted, was unfit for commanding a body of men, and he did not get along with subordinates. Oldtime Majorities Predicted in Indiana, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Settling Local Fights Before Firing Big Guns.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—That the funds necessary to defray the expenses of a long, vigorous speaking campaign have not been forthcoming was frankly admitted today by Chairman Hitchcock, of the Republican National Committee. The statement was made in explanation of the delays that have attended the beginning of the campaign work in most of the states.

Mr. Hitchcock expressed the opinio Mr. Hitchcock expressed the opinion that, if an active campaign can be carried on for 30 days, that is, for the month of October, the Republican National ticket will be successful in all the normally Republican states and in most of tha states that have been put in the doubtful column by conservative politicians. Ever since the campaign spened, Mr. Ever since the campaign epened, Mr. Hitchcock has been confronted with criticisms that there has not been sufficient action. These criticisms have been difficult to meet for the reason, he said, that he could not take the public into his confidence concerning all matters being handled at National headquarters. It has been Mr. Hitchcock's belief that nothing could be accomplished by pouring into a state ammunition directed at the National campaign when there is conflict going on state ammunition directed at the National campaign when there is conflict going on in the state over some local issue that entirely overshadows the National issues. Practically all of Mr. Hitchcock's advisers agreed that it would be the proper policy to settle the quarrels in the states before opening the National campaign and it so happened that it was in the states regarded as doubtful that these conflicts were being carried on. were being carried on.

Comments on Finding of $300,000 in Democratic Treasury.

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 21.—Republican State Chairman T. L. Woodruff spent some time in conference with the President today. Before leaving for New York Mr. Woodruff said: "I found the President pleased with the situation in the state and also with the National campaign, but he empha-sized the need of hard work to bring about the success of the party.

"Incidentally, the President remarked that he considered it significant that $300,000 had been found in the treasury of the Democratic party after Judge Parker had declared throughout the last campaign that the party's treasury was receiving nothing from corporations, and further because it was announced at the time of the election that the treasury was empty.

"The President said that he thought it looked queer that such a large sum of money should turn up after Mr. Haskell was appointed treasurer of the National committee.

Anti-Saloon League Workers, 1000 Strong, Overwhelm Enemies of

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 21.-(Special.)-The abstinence forces of Indiana nade a notable demonstration here to day when more than 1000 of the crusader assembled in the lobby of the State House and knelt in prayer for the passage of the county local option bill.

The demonstration was arranged by the Anti-Saloon League and those present included ministers, Sunday school teachers and others, many women being in the crowd. Three cars brought to the city the ministers of the Methodist Conference at Shelbyville, who went direct to the State House and took part in the exercises. Every delegation that came to the city marched to the Governor's office and cheered the Executive.

present wore white ribbons pinned on the lapels of their coats and on these ribbons was printed in large letters, "We Want County Local Option."

Several ministers made speeches, explaining their presence and saying that they came because Crawford Fairbanks, president of the Terre Haute Brewing Company, Albert Lacher, president of the Indianapolis Brewing Company, and others of their kind, were at the head of a lobby to prevent the passage of a local option bill and it became the Christian duty of men in the church to counteract such influence if possible.

After the prayer meeting the workers distributed themseives among the Sena-tors and Representatives who are known to be, or supposed to be, opposed to the to be, or supposed to be, opposed to the bill. Twenty or 30 workers would surround a Senator or Representative and ply him with questions so fast that it would almost bewilder him to keep up with the interrogatories. Some of the men thus cornered wore pitiful expressions and seemed anxious to get away, but they were met by other crowds of workers as fast as they escaped, and two or three of them fled from the State House in despatr. Results Not Apparent.

What the workers accomplished, if anything, did not become apparent today, as the session of the House passed without any reference to local option, but in the Senate the dual feature was cut out of the Anti-Saloon League's bill and it was passed to a second reading.
Only one Republican spoke on the bill and it was advanced by a strict party vote, & Democrats to 14 Republicans.

Heart Troubles

The heart may be weak just the same as the eyes, stomach or other organs. It often happens that a person is born with a weak heart. Then again disease, fevers, over-exertion, anxiety, nervousness, rheumatism, etc. weaken the heart. The result is shortness of breath, palpitation, pain in the heart, or in some of the nerves of the chest or abdomen. The heart should be strengthened with a tonic, and for this nothing equals Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

"I had LaGrippe last fall as I thought in a mild form. I was weak, tired feeling, and short of breath; could hardly go about, and a good deal of the time sort of an asthmatic breathing and extremely nervous. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine and now I feel so much better in every way. I am so thankful that I began taking this medicine, and shall not hestitate to tell others how much good it has done me.
