matter of common notoriety.

In defiance of the Attorney-General of the state (Okiahoma) he intended to protect the interests of a great corporation (the Prairie Off & Gas Company, controlled by the Standard) against the law. Contrast your action in this case of Governor Haskell with Mr. Taft's WASHINGTON. Sept. 23.-President Roosevelt tonight, following upon a pro longed conference with members of the Cabinet at the White House, prepared and gave out his reply to W. J. Bryan. the Democratic candidate, relative to W. R. Hearst's charges that Governor Haskell, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, had represented Standard Oil interests, both in Ohio and Oklahoma. Mr. Bryan had demanded proof of the charges, promising that in the event of their substantiation Mr. Haskell would be eliminated from the campaign.

Dismissing the Ohio case, which volved an allegation of attempted bribery, with the explanation that he had made no direct charge against Mr. Haskell as regards that particular instance. Mr. Roosevelt takes up the matter of the Prairie Oil & Gas Company and argues that Mr. Haskell's action in stopping legal proceedings begun by the Attorney General of Oklahoma demonstrates conclusively that he was controlled by the great corporation to which the Oklahoma company was subsidiary. Contrasts Bryan With Taft.

After contrasting Mr. Bryan's defense of Mr. Haskell with Mr. Taft's repudiation of Senator Foraker in conne with the Hearst charges against the Ohlo Senator, the President proceeds to declare that Mr. Haskell's "utter unfitfor association with any man anxious to appeal to the American people on a moral issue has been abundantly shown by other acts of his as Governor of Okiahoma," The President condemns Mr. Haskell's conduct in connection with various matters as disgraceful.

The latter portion of Mr. Roosevelt's deliverance is devoted to criticism Mr. Bryan's plan for regulating the trusts, which he characterizes as a measure that sounds more radical than any advocated by the Republicans, but which in practice would not work. Concluding. Mr. Roosevelt declares that no lawdefying corporation has anything to fear from Mr. Bryan, "save what it would suffer from the general paralysis of busi ness," which would follow Democrati-

Oklahoma Executive Accuses His Traducers of Falsilying Facts When Truth Fails to Serve Their Purpose.

GUTHRIE, Okla., Sept. 23.-Governor C. N. Haskell tonight issued a statement o the Associated Press in reply to Pres dent Roosevelt's letter to William J. Bryan, dealing with four specific charges against Governor Haskell: that he is subservient to Standard Oil, that he vetoed a child labor bill, that he dealt in Creek Indian lands and that he had allowed politics to dominate him in the removal of members of the faculty of the State University and the appointment of others to succeed them.

Governor Haskell's statement in part follows: "To the Associated Press: President

National Committee Considers Subject-Western Leaders Say Roosevelt Can Cause Taft Landslide.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 .- (Special.)-There is a strong possibility that President Roosevelt will make a trip through the country speaking for Mr. Taft the campaign is concluded. This intelli-gence leaked out at Republican National headquarters today in advance of the arrival of the candidate in the city.

National Chairman Hitchcock, Senator Dixon and other members of the Na tional committee have had the proposi tion under the most serious consideration for the last three days and it h known that it was submitted to Senator Crane while in Chicago. A definite de cision in the matter may not be made

While there has been more or less dis ussion ever since the campaign opene of the possibility of the President's taking the stump, the committee had taken no cognizance of the matter. It appears however, that during the last two weeks the National managers have been deluged with requests, prayers and demands that the President get into the speaking campaign personally.

The success the President has had in ingering up the campaign by his letters has led the committee to give serious consideration to the petitions to induce him to take the stump.
"Give us Roosevelt." write the Western correspondents. "Let Roosevelt talk-he will stir things up. Roosevelt on the stump would mean a landsilde for Taft, and that's what the Democrats are fearing more than anything else."

Mr. Hitchcock admitted that the plan was being considered, but declined to discuss it further. It is likely that it will be discussed by the advisory committee in New York, where Mr. Hitchcock will

ASSAULTED WHILE IN SALOON

W. S. Wood, Proprietor, Only Witness of Shooting.

TELLS STORY OF CRIME

Says Masked Man Entered Rear Door and Fired Three Bullets at Policeman, Who Was

Veteran on Force.

Sam S. Young, a veteran patrolman or the local force, was murdered at 10:20 Wood, East Nineteenth street and Umatilla avenue, Sellwood. The murder was witnessed by the proprietor of the saloon, who, with the officer, was the only occu pant of the place when the murderer is supposed to have entered. The murderer, according to Woods' story, entered from a rear door. He wore across his face a white cloth with two eyeholes cut in it. He fired three shots, one of which penetrated the officer's heart, causing instant death.

Bore Grudge Against Officer.

The murderer, according to Woods, evidently bore a grudge against the officer. Young had been in the saloon only a few moments when the rear door of the place wes suddenly opened Woods, according to his story, started mmediately towards the door to see who was there. He was confronted by the masked figure who had just entered. Woods was between him and the officer. The intruder brushed Woods aside and stepped quickly towards Young, who by this time was approachling. "Come on," said the unknown, according to Woods, addressing Young, "For I have got you this time."

Opens Fire on Young.

The masked unknown held a revolver in his hand which he leveled at the officer as soon as he entered the place. Approaching close to the officer pened fire. He fired three times in rapid succession, and Young, staggering a mo ment, fell face downward upon the floor.

EX-PUGILIST DIES TRUE CHRISTIAN

HARRY MAYNARD CALLED SUD-DENLY BY DEATH.

Once Champion Middleweight of Coast. Then Saloonman, Then Missionary.

REDDING, Cal., Sept. 23 .- (Special.) Harry Maynard, a former middleweigh champion of the Pacific Coast, though for the last six years a devout and upright Christian worker, died suddenly at 1:30 this afternoon on the train while on his way from Red Bluff to Sacramento to join his wife. There was no fear of immediate death from a cancerous growth from which May-nard was suffering and he felt quite well enough this morning to undertake the journey to Sacramento.

After winning championship honors in the prize ring. Maynard opened a saloon in Red Bluff and prospered. He was doing a splendid business six years ago, when he was converted at a religlous meeting. He closed the saloon became a zealous Christian worker and did much good, his wife joining him, both working to uplift the fallen and

A year or so ago Maynard was put in charge of the elevators in the State Capitol at Sacramento. The position yielded him a good living, but he still kept up his religious work.

Goodwin Scorns Scandal in Divorce Suit Against Maxine Elliott.

RENO, Nev., Sept. 23 .- Nat C. Goodwin, the actor, instructed his attorneys today to permit the representative of the Journal to see the sealed complaint for divorce against his wife, Maxine Elliott, which he has filed here. The complaint is simply one of descriton for over one year, and contains nothing of a sensational character. It contains but three pages of typewritten matter, being very brief, and sets forth the simple fact of her desertion against his will; and that they have no children or property interest together.

The following statement was made by Mr. Goodwin regarding the suit: "Simple desertion, and this only, is alleged in the complaint."

Mr. Goodwin has too much regard for Mrs. Goodwin, as a woman, to surmise or allege anything whatever scandalin any wise reflecting on her

The summons from this court will reach Maxine Elliott tomorrow, having been mailed from here Monday. There will be no contest.

It is a 2:13 class frotting event and some ex-ceedingly fast animals have been entered. Other races are the 3-yearold trotting event for the Columbia purse, the 2:20 pacing race and a three-quarter mile running race. Col lege Maid will also go against time today. The sale of thoroughbred stock will begin promptly at 9 o'clock this morning, and judging of the blooded animals will be concluded today.

BY E. W. WRIGHT.

A million dollar show is giving daily performances out in the suburbs of Portland this week. It requires a force of more than 300 men to put on this big show, and it presents as an attraction nore than 2000 head of the finest bred horses, mules, cattle, sheep and hogs United States or in the world. Incidental to this wonderful exhibit, there are a number of races daily, which in and speed of the horses, average up with the best that are seen on the parlor tracks of the grand circuit where such shows usually draw crowds of from 30,-000 to 75,000 people. The price of admission to this big show, which is by far the greatest that Portland has ever had the opportunity to witness, with all of its attractions and excellent band concert between acts, is 50 cents and it costs an additional 5 cents for the pleasant car ride betwen Portland and the fairnds. This of course is much less than the price of admission to the average theatrical attraction which with 45 or 20 mediocre people and about $78 worth of scenery, plays to full houses in Portland.

Portland Should Support Show. But the million-dollar show which is staged and handled by 200 paid employes on a property representing a cash outlay of more than $150,000, until yesterday not only failed to secure as liberal support as is given the cheap theatrical attractions, but the number-of Portlanders in attendance on Monday and Tuesday was actually smaller than the number who made the long tiresome and more expensive trip to Salem a week earlier. Even yesterday. Portland was not entitled to all of the credit for the crowd, for thousands of out-of-town visitors were in ance. In this preliminary growl, I have treated this wonderful show simply as an attraction affording interest and pleasure at a small cost to the patrons. from this standpoint alone, the show in worth much more than the price of admission but there is another and overwhelmingly more important reason why Portlanders should give this great show somewhere near the support that is extended to a one-night-stand theatrical attraction at double the price and which takes all of the money out of town with it when it departs. This "other reason" is the one that is responsible for bringing the Pacific National Show into exist Ladykiller in jail for pawning his sweet-heart's jewelry. We have read for years of the commendable deed of the man who causes two blades of grass to grow where only one has grown before. but it is doubtful if the doubling the yield of green grass has an economic value equal to that which is created by produc ing a high-grade animal which will sell in the market for double and treble the price than is obtainable for scrub stock which consumes just as many blades of grass and as much other food as the high-grade animal. Oregon Great Stock State.
