Splendid Street-Car Service

Patrons of the show have nothing but praise for the splendid service rendered yesterday by the Street Railway Company and the O. R. & N. Company. There were hardly any delays at switches or crossings on the way out or back, the entire service being intelligently and efficiently organized to move the vast throngs rapidly and smoothly. Apparently an unlimited number of cars were available during the hours. Abundant preparations have been made for far larger crowds today.

Records Established Every Day So Far—Owing to Fast Track

- 2:06 1/4—Tidal Wave lowers his own record (2:08 3/4) seconds and establishes record for track.
- 2:07 1/4—Time of first race the fastest mile ever made on any new track in history of the turf.
- 2:08 1/4—Ray of Light establishes Coast record for 3-year-olds.
- 2:08 1/2—College Maid, the guileless pacer, lowered her own world's record from 2:09 to 2:08 1/2 Monday and to 2:08 1/4 yesterday. Today she will attempt to clip off another fraction.
- Two heats by Ray of Light constitute fastest time made by 3-year-olds anywhere this year.
- Five heats in 2:35 class yesterday constitute fastest five heats ever paced west of the Mississippi River.
- Fastest mile ever trotted in Oregon trotted by Daybreak Tuesday. He will try to break his record in the rich trotting event today.

CHARLEY D FIRST IN RECORD RACE

Wins Fastest Five-Heat Pace Ever Run West of Mississippi.

GREAT THRONG AT TRACK

College Maid Also Sets New Time, While Rosa R. Gets Bad Fall, Throwing Driver in Front of Grandstand.

Thousands crowded into the spacious grandstand and bleachers of the National Pacific Show at the Country Club's new grounds yesterday, and thousands cheered as thrilling series of racing events as has ever been witnessed on this Coast. And a multitude applauded the blooded animals and fancy stock that were on exhibition at the barns.

It was Portland day at the club and it was by far the biggest day in point of attendance, and, indeed, in point of actual interest and enthusiasm of this inaugural meet of the Pacific National Show. Spectacular racing events in the afternoon sent hats wildly into the air and caused the echoes of the cheering throng to reverberate through the surrounding hills.

Holiday Crowd at Races.

The big grandstand was filled, the long rows of bleachers were dense with humanity and the crowd even surged far up and down the fence on the outer edge of the track. Inside the track there were vehicles of every sort, fancy carriages with blooded teams, tandems, tallhops, automobiles, buggies and carriages, until the entire side of the infield was crowded, and a detachment of mounted policemen spent a busy afternoon in their endeavors to prevent entanglements of the teams.

Mayor Lane and the entire City Council attended in a body during the afternoon. Women were there in numbers and the thrilling finale of each event were intensified by excited feminine ejaculations and appeals to the drivers.

New Record for West.

In the racing records were again shattered and the new track of the National Pacific Show has demonstrated speed surpassed by none and equaled by only a few in the West. For instance, College Maid, the guileless pacer, lowered her record that was made Monday and stepped the fastest mile on this new track yesterday that she has ever gone. And in the great 2:09 pacing race, that required five thrilling heats to decide, a new Western record was established for it was the fastest five-heat pacing event ever run west of the Mississippi River.

Ideal weather was another feature of the day, which was marred by only one accident. The accident, however, had no serious consequences, but afforded as spectacular a scene as any thrill-loving audience could desire. It was in the second heat of the first race, a pacing event for 2-year-olds, that the accident happened.

Falls in Front of Grandstand.

Bonnie Antrim, winner of the race, was a length to the good in the stretch, Rosa R. with Prier up, driving him hard for first place. The mare was gaining, but just in front of the grandstand, perhaps 25 yards from the wire, the mare faltered, swerved and struck her left fore foot against the wheel of the Antrim sulky. Instantly the mare pitched forward and fell in a heap, the wheels springing high into the air and hurling the driver over her head upon the track. Neither the mare nor the driver received injuries of consequence.

The big race of the day was the second on the programme, for the Rose City purse of $2500. There were nine entries, and five distressing heats were necessary to decide the winner, before the lordly Charley D., a big bay horse as majestic in appearance as a horse could be, settled down and won in three successive heats, Magliadi took second money and Tidal Wave, the crack chestnut horse from Albany, annexed the third.

Tidal Wave's Fast Time.

The race was exciting and threw quite a scare into the admirers of Charley D., the California horse, that was touted to win easily. In the get-away of the first heat the California stallion was far back in the rear, while Lord Lovelace set the pace to the quarter. Tidal Wave and Magliadi pressed close on the leader to the three-quarter pole and into the stretch. There, it is claimed, Magliadi was pocketed, and broke, Tidal Wave forging a good lead to the front and winning the heat in the fastest time that has ever been made on the track. Magliadi took second, Lord Lovelace third and Geraldine fourth, Charley D. finishing ninth. Time, 2:04 1/4.

When the field took the word in the second heat, Charley D. was again far in the rear. He worked his way up to the middle of the procession, but there he remained, finishing sixth in this heat, while Tidal Wave again set the pace to the half, closely pursued by Magliadi. At the half the field was well bunched, with the Albany horse and Magliadi contending for first honors, Geraldine also showing an ambition in that line. In a driving finish Magliadi passed the wire half a length ahead of Tidal Wave, with Geraldine a close third and Miss Idaho fourth. Time, 2:08 1/4.

Charley D. Well in Front.

It was at the get-away of the third heat that Charley D. came into his own. It was a clean break and the big black had a position up towards the front. He immediately took the lead and despite the efforts of Tidal Wave to wrest the place from him maintained a lead of two lengths to the half when Magliadi and Tidal Wave both pressed him hard. However, the big Californian took the heat from Magliadi by a head, and to many in the grandstand it looked like a dead heat. Time, 2:08 1/4.

In the fourth General Heurtus had a length to the good in the get-away, but Charley D. passed him and led the field a length at the quarter, three others crowding closely for second place. Charley D. led the field by two lengths to the half, where the field strung out behind the leader who kept up his lead until under the wire, Geraldine winning second place from General Heurtus. Time, 2:07 1/4.

The fifth heat was a walk-away for the Charley horse who, despite a bad get-away, soon established a lead of three lengths and kept it for the remainder of the journey. General

Heurtus finished second and Magliadi third. Time, 2:06 1/4.

Lady Sunrise Wins Trot.

Lady Sunrise won the 2:30 trotting event in three successive heats. There was a field of three, Patsy Rice and Laura W. being the other contestants. The Lady was a good length to the bad in the get-away of the first heat, and it was only by the narrow margin that she finally passed Laura W. a few feet in front of the wire. The other two heats she won handily, her leadership never being in jeopardy. The time of the best heat of the race was 2:15 1/4. Bonnie Antrim won the first race, a pacing event for 2-year-olds, without difficulty. Rosa R. and Sadie T. divided second and third money. Time, 2:24 1/4 and 2:25.

In the mile handicap running race Kamsack walked away with first money against a field of five. Mary Dunn ran second with St. Albans third. The gelding took the lead at the start and with a good length to spare chased around the oval, winning handily.

Big Card for Today.

Today's racing card is one of the best that is to be offered. In the 2:15 trot for a purse of $1500 it is expected that the best race of the meet will be seen. Following are the entries:

Pacing, 2:20 class, $1000—Donax, Lou Miller, Josephine, Alt, Diaboli, Atlanta, Nellie Bishop, Mack N. Bushnell, Fank, 2:25.

Three-quarter mile running race—Birdie

P. Yank, Inisti, The Counsellor and Sally Goodwin.

LAUDS OREGON METROPOLIS

San Francisco Hotel Manager Tells of Portland.

Colonel J. C. Kirkpatrick, the genial San Francisco hotel man, who owns Charley D., the crack pacer and winner of the Rose City stakes in one of the most exciting races ever witnessed here, is flattered in his praise of Portland and the management of the new racetrack.

Colonel Kirkpatrick is the genial host of the Fairmont Hotel of San Francisco and on completion of the new Palace Hotel at the Bay City, will again assume the direction of that famous hostelry.

When seen at his apartments at the Oregon Hotel last night, just before his departure for San Francisco, where he had been called on important business, Colonel Kirkpatrick had the following to say in appreciation of the courtesies extended him while on this visit to Portland, and his satisfaction at having won the Rose City stakes:

"Portland has grown wonderfully since I was last here, and I am most agreeably surprised at the metropolitan aspect she has attained since my previous visit. Portland has always been noted for the hospitality of her citizens, and I find that this splendid attribute has increased that has elapsed between my two infrequent visits. Heretofore I have been accustomed to spend my vacations abroad, but I shall remedy this in the future and devote more time in getting acquainted with my own country.

"To win the first Rose City stake with my horse, Charley D., is a source of great satisfaction to me. In the past I have been in the habit of sending my horses East to the grand circuit, but there is no need of so doing now, for the Northwest circuit affords all the advantages both in tracks as well as worthy purses as are offered on the grand circuit. I do not know of a racetrack in the country more ideally located than your Rose City track. In fact for a track that has just been constructed, it is really wonderful. Its natural advantages, both of location and adaptability are surprising, and I believe that on completion the grounds and racing facilities will be the best in America. Portland deserves great praise for this step toward the promotion of the harness racing game, and if the addition of my entries can help any each year, I can now promise that they will be forthcoming as long as I have the inclination to follow the harness horse as a means of diversion and sport."

Colonel Kirkpatrick was called home unexpectedly last night, for he had expected to remain in Portland during the entire meet. However, he has left his stable in charge of his trainer, Joseph Thompson, and these horses will be seen later in the week.

Colonel Kirkpatrick is known throughout Europe and America as the double of King Edward VII. and when questioned about some of his European experiences, he modestly asked to be excused from speaking of them.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick, who accompanies her husband on this trip, is a warm admirer of the Oregon Olympic athletes. She came over from London on the same steamer with Forrest Smithson, of whom she spoke in the highest terms. "Oregon should well be proud of these boys, for if the other two are anything like Mr. Smithson," she said, "the state can boast of her sons with pride. I was fortunate enough to witness the Olympic games on the day Mr. Smithson won his glorious victory, and I was most agreeably surprised when he won so splendidly for he was a Pacific Coast boy and my sympathies were naturally with him in his race. I had the pleasure of meeting him while coming over on the Majestic."

SAYS BRIBE WAS OFFERED

CHARGE AGAINST DEPUTY GAME WARDEN GREEN.

Warren Swetland, Arrested for Selling Trout, Also Declares Only Young Salmon Were Served.

Charges that J. L. Green, deputy state fish and game warden, went fishing for a bribe at the Perkins hotel restaurant, were made from the witness stand in Justice of the Peace Bell's Court yesterday. The charges were made by Warren Swetland, manager of the Perkins Hotel Company, who was on trial charged with serving brook trout at his hostelry. Mr. Swetland not only swore that Green made repeated hints for a bribe but testified that the officer undertook to prosecute him for failing to pay up.

"He came to the hotel, ordered trout, was given three young salmon and these he carried away, substituted for mountain trout and preferred charges against the hotel," Swetland said. "The hotel man said he was certain the substitution had been made because he buys young salmon in large numbers, cooks them in butter and bacon and serves them as trout. It is not illegal to serve the young salmon although mountain trout are barred by law."

"I'm positive he didn't get a brook trout out of the hotel restaurant," Swetland added. "It was entirely clear to me what he had done when he offered these mountain trout in evidence. My cooks prepare the fish in butter and bacon while the fish he shows are simply broiled. I would die charge a cook that did anything so crude as broil a trout."

Green was asked to explain the hostelry man's charge. He averred he had merely said it would cost $75 to settle with the law and had made no suggestion of settling outside of court.

The case was tried out before a jury but no agreement was reached. Mr. Swetland said last night he had witnesses to prove his charges and that he did not intend to drop the matter. He had not decided what action he would take against the deputy fish and game warden, but said the charge of seeking a bribe or manufacturing evidence would be pushed to the extent of the law.

Not Before Grand Jury.

Attorney Jeremiah Bronaugh, who was mentioned yesterday in a news item as having been cited to appear before the grand jury, denies that any such summons was issued for him, and claims that the report is in error. Mr. Bronaugh says that he is acting as attorney for J. A. Carlson, who is suing E. P. Prober for a sum of money alleged to have been fraudulently secured from him by the aforementioned Prober, who has had a judgment rendered against him, and who is appealing the case.
