DISCUSS WATER BOARD ISSUE.

The United East Side Push Clubs and other civic clubs have asked that the sale of the water bonds for the new water main pipe line be made as soon as practical and actual work of construction started. In response to the resolutions City Auditor Barbour yesterday sent out the following communication: "I am instructed by the Committee on Ways and Means to inform you that your petition for the sale of bonds for the Bull Run pipeline will be considered at the next regular meeting of said committee, which will be held October 12, 1908, at 2 P. M." These civic clubs have been informed that the Water Committee is ready to start construction whenever the City Council acts.

WILL LAY HEAVY RAILS.

The Portland Railway, Light & Power Company has started work on Hawthorne avenue preparatory to relaying its double tracks with heavy steel rails before hard-surface pavement is put down on that street. The double tracks will have to be relaid between East Third and East Forty-fourth street, a distance of 41 blocks. It will cost the company nearly $100,000, so it is reported, to relay its tracks on Hawthorne avenue, while the pavement will cost the property-owners another $100,000. The present contract only extends to East Forty-fourth street, but it is understood that an effort will be made to have the same improvement continued to West avenue.

BRIDGE NEARING COMPLETION.

Cars will cross the new bridge over Sullivan's Gulch, on Union avenue, within about two weeks, according to the estimate of the time it will take to lay the tracks and pavement. As streetcars are now operating on the bridge, the Burnside bridge the business men are no longer anxious to have them resume trips on Union avenue. Temporary double tracks have been laid on Grand avenue north from Sullivan's Gulch. This new routing of cars was caused by the overcrowding of the Steel bridge. It is expected, however, that the cars will be routed over Union avenue when the bridge is completed.

These standards will be sold at 60 cents each, which is an advance over former prices. They will be ready for distribution to grainers within the next two weeks. Many will be sent to Liverpool and London for the use of the corn trade associations there for convenience in comparison with shipments of grain received at those ports.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE IS 18,625.

As the hop-picking season is not fully spent, it is thought the registration will climb still higher, although it is probable that the number now in attendance at the schools is nearly the limit.

MORMONS SECURE CHURCH

Purchase United Evangelical Edifice on East Side.

Rev. A. A. Winter, pastor of the First United Evangelical Church, on the southeast corner of East Tenth and East Street, announced yesterday that Mr. Nibbey has bought the property for the Mormon Church, which will occupy it for church purposes.

Services will be conducted in the church by United Evangelical people next Sunday and immediately thereafter the new owner will be given possession. Farewell services were held last Sunday in the church as it was then expected to vacate the property this week, and addresses were made by Rev. C. C. Pollag, who built the church, Dr. Blittner and others.

Temporary quarters will be secured for the pastor and for the congregation until a new church can be erected. A quarter block has been selected on East Sixteenth street about 600 feet south of the corner, and tentative plans for the new church have been drawn. It is expected to put up a building that will cost $10,000.

EDUCATED HORSES TO ACT

FRIEND OF MAN WILL SHOW HIS SUPERB TRAITS. Devotees of Work on Range and Ranch Certain to Appreciate Show of Buffalo Bill.

Portland, during the coming week, should attract the attention and the attendance of everyone interested in horsemanship and the artificial development of this useful friend of man. Through the incidental circumstance of the holding of the Country Club's meet with the developed modern equine in all stages of perfection and the visit of Buffalo Bill on Friday and Saturday next with his 600 horses, 215 splendid draft horses, mostly from the range countries of the West, and his 285 head of range saddle horses, comprising everything in the prairies of America, from the wild bucking bronco to the broken range saddle horse and the well-trained Texas cross-breed in the high school (Haute Ecole), this city will have everything that it is possible to see in the history of the horse.

The advent of Colonel Cody is most fortuitous, as the Country Club exhibition will show the higher grade of the horse imported from England, developed in Kentucky, and show the artificial gait of trotting and the natural gait of pacing in its perfection; while Colonel Cody's exhibition will exhibit the more primitive horse of the continent and in his exploitation will exhibit riders from every race and nation connected with the history of the cavalier. In contrast to the riding and driving of the perfected horse to sulky, buggy and other vehicles.

Major John M. Burke, long identified with Colonel Cody, who is in the city, is enthusiastic over the fact of the extraordinary meeting of two exhibitions so closely allied with the history of the horse. In conversation with him he spoke interestingly on horse history as follows:

"The history of events, the doings of men, has been a study in all ages. Before the days of books all this was handed down from generation to generation, orally, by tradition, and all learning partakes of it. How few comparatively, are they who stop to think that the horse has been a great factor in history!"

"Far back in the writing of the Bible, the part of the Old Testament in the fifth chapter and 23d verse of Judges speaks of the horse in the words:

"Then were the horse-hoofs broken by the men of the prairies of their mighty ones!" The second reference to the horse in Scripture is in Joshua, 11th chapter and fourth verse: "Went out they and all their hosts, and with them much people, even as the sand is upon the seashore in multitudes, with horses and chariots."

The history of the horse in America is interesting, from the fact that the great geologist or bone-hunter, Professor Marsh, of Yale College, whom Buffalo Bill guided often when a youth, found no trace of his existing on this continent since prehistoric times. He found the most perfect skeleton of prehistoric horse in Wyoming. It was the size of a Newfoundland dog, with teed feet. Since then, of course, the importations through England of the thoroughbred English horse (which has become known, in contradistinction to the wild horse of America, as the "American horse"), is the foundation of our American trotting, racing and carriage horse. But his perfection was brought about by the incorporation in later days of the Arabian horse, and subsequently, when the fine American horses of the Country Club are here in Portland they will also be at least partially of Arabian ancestry. Colonel Cody's horses, whose ancestors were also the Arab, and for whom America is indebted to their introduction by Cortez nearly 400 years ago.

Besides the American cowboy, Colonel Cody's exhibition gives a striking lesson in equestrianism, showing every known seat in the saddle, from the baroque Indian exhibition to the Mexican, Arab, Russian Cosack, English lancer, German and American Cavalryman, and the ranch girls of the West.

(News Item September 22.)

FINAL REPORT IN M'DONNELL ESTATE

As administrator of the partnership estate of John T. McDonnell, in the firm of McAllen & McDonnell, J. McAllen has made his final report to the County Court, showing that from January 1 to September 14 he received in cash $125,45.50 and expended $130,690.52, leaving a balance of $4458.72. Besides this, property belonging to McDonnell's estate has been sold for not less than $50,000, and there is in addition real estate valued at $20,000.

The management of the new corporation which took over the business of McAllen & McDonnell has decided to close out the entire stock at once. This is in line with the progressive methods of the new corporation—it being the intention to modernize the store in every possible way and bring the business up to the very highest standard. The lines carried will be those usually to be found in a first-class dry-goods store—namely, dress goods, silks, table linens, lace curtains, blankets, comforters, wash goods, muslin underwear, knit underwear, hosiery, corsets, gloves, laces, embroideries, neckwear, ribbons, purses, umbrellas, suits, coats, waists, skirts, kimonos, wrappers and children's wearing apparel of all kinds. Only the very best quality of goods will be carried, and it will be the policy of the store to reduce the prices to the lowest point consistent with good merchandising. As before stated, all present stocks will be closed out entirely. New Fall coats, suits, waists, etc., will be included in the sale at greatly reduced prices. A splendid opportunity to supply your needs at a decided saving. Out-of-town folks should take notice of this announcement and act.
