BRYAN, AND THEN A PANIC

BUSINESS MAN OF BALTIMORE SPEAKS OF PERILS.

Election of the Nebraskan, He Declares, Will Upset Financial Markets of Country.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Sept. 24.—Of all the men who intend to vote for Bryan in November, there is probably not one more frank in stating his reason than a wealthy business man of Baltimore, with whom your correspondent talked a few days ago. In 1896 and in 1900 this gentleman, though a life-long Democrat, voted for McKinley because he was afraid of Bryanism. He was afraid that Bryan's election would mean business disaster. In 1904 he voted for Roosevelt, because he felt that Roosevelt's election would insure a continuance of PROSPERITY. Now he will vote for Bryan.

In response to a question he told why. "I should be said, by way of explanation, that this merchant, during the past 12 years of prosperity under Republican administrations, made practically every cent he owns today. He is now sufficiently wealthy to retire from the active direction of his business, which has been turned over to a trusted employee. While not one of Baltimore's wealthiest men, he can count his million. "I am going to vote for Bryan," said he, "for purely selfish reasons. I feel as sure now as I did 12 years ago that Bryan's election will bring on a panic. That is just what I want. If we have a panic I will be able to loan my money at a high rate of interest and on ample security, and make more in one year than I can make out of my business in ten years. A severe panic would double my wealth, and, naturally, I want to double it if I can. That, frankly, is why I shall vote for Bryan." And the striking feature of this declaration is that it is absolutely true; that man meant every word of it. There may be others supporting Bryan for the same reason, but none have been frank enough to confess it.

BANK PAYS FOR ITS ERROR

Bookkeeper Conflicts Accounts of Two W. H. Smiths.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 24.—(Special.)—The Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment for plaintiff in the case of the old National Bank of Spokane against the Exchange National Bank, of Coeur d'Alene, of Idaho. W. H. Smith deposited $2000 in the Exchange Bank and indorsed it to C. M. Sparks, who deposited it in the Old National Bank. The Exchange Bank had two depositors named W. H. Smith, and when the certificate was presented for payment, discovered that the W. H. Smith who originally owned the deposit had overdrawn his account more than $1000, a mistake having been made by the bookkeeper in the accounts of the two Smiths. The Exchange Bank refused to pay more on the certificate of deposit than its face less Smith's overdraft, but the Superior Court and now the Supreme Court holds the entire $2000 must be paid. Two Men Are Drowned. ABERDEEN, Wash., Sept. 24.—(Spe-

UNIONS MAY TAKE A HAND

Propose to Establish Own Lumber Yard on Grays Harbor.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Sept. 24.—(Special.)—Building prospects are still tied up here on account of the trouble between the millowners and carpenters. Two rumors are current today, one that the labor unions of the Harbor will establish a lumber yard of their own, and the other that some legal action may be taken to compel the delivery of lumber. It being claimed that the mill owned by an incorporated company must sell to whoever applies. Hearst Ticket in Montana. BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 24.—George Tucker, of Butte, A. J. Clegg, of Livingston, and Andrew Wormser, of Wormser City, in Park County, have been named as Presidential electors from Montana on a petition now being circulated by the Independence party. It is necessary to have 190 signers, and Alexander Mackel and J. J. Dallas, leaders of the party in Butte, state that more than half
