LOOKING FOR LEVER

Liquor-Dealers Would Like to Pry Off Sunday Lid.

DO NOT RELISH SITUATION

Think They Should Be Dealt With as Leniently as Are Shopkeepers—Grand Jury to Dispatch Lid Cases.

The question as to whether tradespeople who so wish are to be deprived of the privilege of keeping their places open on Sunday will not be allowed to drag in the seeking of an answer. A number of shopkeepers who were arrested Sunday will insist on trials by jury in the Municipal Court. Under the closing law the trial jury may acquit any offender who shows it was a matter of "necessity or mercy" that caused him to operate on the seventh day. Fruit and confection dealers say they feel certain of being acquitted promptly by any jury.

Many of the names of those actually arrested Sunday were submitted to the county grand jury, yesterday. District Attorney Cameron expects that indictments will be returned, possibly in every case submitted. It will then be up to the Circuit Court to pass on the validity of the law as it now stands.

Continuances were allowed in the Municipal Court on the entire list when called ## for hearing yesterday morning.

The continuances were for 24 hours but it is not thought there will be any trials during today, although several of the alleged offenders say they wish trial without delay. John F. Logan, H. E. McGinn, D. J. Malarky and the firm of Teal & Minor have been retained by various interests and with this array of lawyers there is little doubt but that the interests of the retailers will be fully looked after.

"There is a genuine feeling of unrest among saloonkeepers who are looking for some sort of opening opportunity. So far as known there has been no definite organization of this class for the purpose of making capital out of the present situation. But there is much talk among the brotherhood of liquor-dispensers.

"If tradespeople can be taken to the police station, required to put up a small amount of bail and then allowed to return to business free from further molestation, then why cannot we do the same thing and have a fair chance to fight the law," was the sentiment expressed by a leading liquor man, yesterday.

"For one, I should be in favor of revoking your license if you kept open on Sunday and would vote that way," Councilman Baker informed one disgruntled dealer in booze who was airing his grievances, yesterday.

This attitude throws another difficulty in the way of the saloon element even should they forget out some defect in the law, or some vantage point of attack. But the law is not the same as that applying to tradespeople, and seems to be rock-ribbed. It says concisely and clearly that there shall be no selling of liquor on Sunday and is not patched up by amendments or belittled, with loopholes as is the law applying to Sunday trade in more legitimate lines. There has been wide-spread belief, however, that the present crusade had something to do with an effort to get the saloons open again and any move made by the liquor people will be watched with deep interest.

BROUGHER HITS LAPHAM

SARCASTIC COMMENT ON EAST SIDE BROTHER'S SERMON.

White Temple Shepherd Thinks Contemporary Ought to Feel Better Now.

That Rev. S. C. Lapham is grieving over the failure in his own work, and to relieve his feelings attacked the methods of his more prosperous brethren in the ministry, is the belief of Dr. J. Whitcomb Broucher, pastor of the White Temple, expressed yesterday when asked what he thought of Mr. Lapham's sermon Sunday. The well-known pastor of the First Baptist Church said that his brother preacher, who leads the flock of the second church, is the same denomination "never touched" him.

"Neither did his sermon apply to the work of the White Temple," continued Dr. Broucher. "He seemed to be attacking some church which has made a failure. The work of the White Temple has never been in better condition since I have been pastor than it is today. Crowds come thus to fill the double auditorium and people are turned away as usual. We are receiving new members by baptism nearly every Sunday.

"This sermon of Brother Lapham's reminds me of a remark I heard about a lady singer. When she had finished her solo a friend remarked, 'She sings with a great deal of feeling.' 'Yes,' returned the other party, 'but it must be awful to feel that way.'" Dr. Broucher added that "Brother Lapham no doubt feels better every Sunday.

"It may be that he is grieving over the failure of his own work. I can't tell," continued the divine. "If I had a Sunday off I would like to go over and listen to Brother Lapham deliver one of his 'messages of eternal truth' that are of such ## moment to men," which he says other preachers are not delivering. I am always ready to learn of any man who is succeeding and doing the work better than I am.

Dr. William Hiram Foulkes, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was asked what he thinks of the Lapham sermon of last Sunday, and refused to give his opinion. It was evident, however, that he did not agree with the East Side preacher, for he remarked that he did not wish to judge him.

"Let what he said stand on its merits," continued Dr. Foulkes, "and we need anything to it for me to express my opinion, neither will it take anything away."

CHINESE IN A TREMBLE

Witnesses in Murder Case in Fear of Tong Assassins.

Hired Chinese murderers have been assigned to the task of putting out of the way witnesses against Lem Woon and Yao Geung, convicted murderers of Lee Dai Hai. This statement is made by the police and was reiterated in the Circuit Court, yesterday, by Attorney D. J. Malarky, who asked the court to set an early date for arguments of the murderers' application for a new trial.

Lum Lung Gin, the Chinaman shot down Sunday night on the stairway leading to his room, at 47 Second street, was an important witness against the murderers. So far as could be learned there was no other reason for his murder. Other Chinese witnesses against the murderers are taking precautions, barricading themselves by night and hiring armed body guards to follow and protect them from assault.

The regular all-day meeting of the Oregon Holiness Association (Interdenominational) will be held today at Trinity M. E. Church, corner East Sherman and East Grant streets. Services at 11 A. M. and 3 and 8 P. M. All lovers of Bible holiness are invited.

READY FOR FRAUD CASES

CALIFORNIA TIMBER GRABBERS ON TRIAL OCTOBER 12.

Witnesses Being Summoned for Pacific Furniture & Lumber Co. Action Involving Californians.

United States Attorney McCourt is busy clearing the decks for the trial of the California defendants involved in the Pacific Furniture & Lumber Company, whose activity in Oregon timber grabbing was confined to Coos and Curry Counties. The trial of the cases is set for October 12 and for several days past Mr. McCourt has been busy furnishing the United States Marshal's office with the list of witnesses that will be summoned to tell of what they know about the methods used by the defendants in obtaining title to some of Oregon's best timber lands.

Most of the defendants are residents of Los Angeles. All of them resisted removal to the Oregon jurisdiction, but after a bitter legal battle, W. H. Smith, of San Francisco, F. A. Stuart, W. T. Kerr, John B. Miller, Richard Hynes, Lee R. Myers, Jeremiah Huntly, A. S. Johnson and A. H. Heddery were ordered to Oregon for trial. While the case was pending two of the defendants, R. D. Jones and Donald M. Goodwin, died. William D. Gould has not removed and Fred W. Dennis is still a fugitive from justice. The jury that will try the case will be summoned next Monday.

Jacob C. Cross was one of the fortunate defendants, the case against him being dismissed.
