CONTER ON ANNEXATION-South Mount

Constraints to be annexed to Portland, or at least a considerable portland, or at least a considerable portland, or at least a considerable portland of people want to come in. Secretary J. Kinnard, of the South Mount Tabor Im-provement Association, has called a meeting of the citizens for next Friday night to take up the matter and appoint a committee to confer with the Arleta people about joint action. The impres-sion has gone out that the Arleta people are going ahead for annexation and are leaving South Mount Tabor out of con-stituration. To this there is objection, and a conference committee will be ap-pointed Fridar to insist that South Mount Tabor be included in the move-ment that may be voted on in Novem-ber. TRIED IN MUNICIPAL COURT.

Other Sunday Closing Offenders to Be Investigated by Grand Jury at Once.

Billiard hall and poolroom operators who kept their places open last Sunday, are to be held for trial in the Municipa Court. Cigar dealers, fruit venders and tradespeople who violated the Sunday law will await action of the grand jury. This arrangement of the cases has been made by District Attorney Cameron Yesterday he filed complaints in the Municipal Court against all the pool and Municipal Court against all the pool and billiard people and they are cited to appear today for trial. All other cases were taken to the grand jury and from the number of policemen called before that body yesterday the conclusion may be reached that Sunday closing is al-ready under inquiry by that body. In the event of an early report the cases can be gotten into the Circuit Court this week and the validity of the Sunday-closing law tested in its application to tradespeople.

The billiard and pool people, however, seem to have a rougher row to hoe. They can hardily expect a jury to say that Sunday pool playing is an act of necessity or mercy. If the grand jury should drop the cases submitted, the billiard and pool men would be left with the law standing against them and little public sentiment to back them in any fight they might make on the validity of the law. But should the grand jury in-dict the others, then the cases will be tested on a basis of law validity. If the dict the others, then the cases will be tested on a basis of law validity. If the law is invalid it cannot affect the pool people more than the others. In view of this situation and an unwillingness to have the poolhouses open efforts are being made to separate the interests of the two classes of Sunday traffic.
