Will Exlarge Grange Hall—It has been decided to proceed at once with the plans to enlarge the building of Evening Star Grange, No. II, on the Section Line road, South Mount Tabor. Completed three years ago at a cost of $550 it has already been found too small for the growing memberahlp, which is now over $99 and others are still coming in at every meeting. The committee on funds is engaged in collecting subscriptions that have been made, and of which there is about $1000. It is estimated that it will cost $1500 to carry out the plans for enlargement of the building. There will be a regular meeting of the Grange tomorrow when there will be some announcements about the plans.

Complexing Concrete Work.— The

COMPLETING CONCRETE WORK. — The Northwest Bridge Company is complet-ing the concrete pavement on the Union-svenus bridge over Sullivan's Guich, and it will be finished by Saturday eveand it will be finished by Saturday evening. It will then have to stand for some time before the asphalt can be laid on the roadway. However, the sidewalks probably can be used next week. Double tar tracks have been laid, but is yet there is no connection at either end of the bridge. Fills will yet have to be made at either end of the bridge between the abutments and the paved portions of Union avenue. It will likely be at least another month before all this can be done and before streetcar and general traffic can use the new bridge. Parror Shapper Sulpresed.—Rev. H.

RELIEF WILL BE AFFORDED. The Oregonian last night was informed that steps are being taken to effect an organization designed to afford relief of a definite and permanent kind for the women who are being made the victims of Mayor Lane's reform movement. It is planned to place such women as manifest a desire or intention to lead a correct life in proper surroundings, so that they may earn an honorable living, or, if they need it, may be provided for until they are competent to go into some worthy pursuit. The movement is in the hands of experienced charitable and sympathetic people, who will take their own way of communicating with the women, and who desire for the present that no publicity be given to their plans beyond an announcement, designed chiefly for the eyes of the unfortunate women, that something definite, practical and helpful will be done for them. The Oregonian last night was

OPERA STARS IN CONCERT

Members of Metropolitan Company to Sing in Portland.

The programme to be presented at the concert of four grand opera stars in this city has been admirably arranged to reveal the best talents of the singers, and to give the patrons of the entertainment a chance to hear these great artists at their hear.

Madame Marie Rappold, the new prime donna, who has been setting New York-ers wild by the marvelous grace of her singing in opera, is no less giorious in concert. Josephine Jacoby's brilliant conconcert. Josephine Jacoby Strinan con-traito voice was heard frequently in con-cert before she became a familiar figure in the Metropolitan Opera Company, and she is perfectly at home in choral work. Both Riccardo Martin and Guiseppe Campanari enjoy occasional incursions into concert as a relief from the exacting opera roles, and are quite as impressive and effective in one as in the other.

It is extremely doubtful if any such a company of distinguished artists ever before toured in concert. All are mem-bers of the Metropolitan Opera Company. of New York, and all have reached the highest pinnacle of fame by their singing and impersonations of great opera roles, When heard together their voices gain
