A quartet by the boys, and mandolin and a guitar dust were rendered during the sorvice. Mr. Wilson told a number of stories, and then asked the boys what part they were planning to take in the de-velopment of the great Northwest. He called attention to the coming of the Swift packing plant, and of the estab-Hishment of several condensed-milk fac-tories in the state within the last few years. He Temarked that they will need large numbers of young men. In a few years, he said, we might even find a telephone in the pocket of every business man, so that he could call up his office by wireless, no matter where he might be. city life. The social evil, we are told, has never heen successfully shollabed from any city since the world bekan. It seems to be argued from this that what has been, and what is, must be. I have never had any confidence in such reasoning. There are a thousand things that have never been done before that are being done to day in every department of life. There are some 'new things under the suf' even if Solomon up to his day had not even any of them. This world is not only making great progress materially and intellectually, but also morally and spirit-ually, and we are going to do some things in the moral world as well as in the ma-terial world that have never been thered of before. 'There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamed of in your philosophy.'' Fight Will Be Necessary.

LIFE be affected to learn that there was one great fact of Christianity that even the "universail doubter" could not doubt. The certainty of Christ's resurrection rests, like any other historical fact, on the testimony of witnesses who could not 100 the testimony of the missorical fact, on the testimony of witnessers who could not be mistaken as to the facts, and whose veracity cannot be called in question. Resting on this great fact, we may say with Paul.
