

WORKS DEVELOP WESTERN STATES

Trans-Mississippi Congress Opens With Notable Speakers.

IMMIGRANTS FOR WEST

John Barrett Condemns Neglect of Latin-American Trade and Says Other Nations Are Ready to Seize It.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—Assembled to promote the common interests of nearly a score of states comprising the West, several hundred delegates in attendance upon the opening session of the Nineteenth Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress today listened to gratifying assurances of cooperation and support from the National administration, from the representative of 26 republics of the Western continent who are interested in the pending deliberations, from the two leading candidates for the presidency of the United States and from the leading citizens of the states and territories comprising their own organizations.

Welcomed by City and State.

Reserving for the succeeding days of the congress the spirited debates promised on the conservation of natural resources and kindred topics, the visitors this morning basked in the warmth of every welcome. Representatives of the state and city honored by their coming, and this afternoon received with enthusiastic delight the official assurances of the city and state which promised a splendid fulfillment of Western hopes and Western ideals.

Not the least striking feature of the session was the astonishment expressed by delegates who witnessed for the first time the rapid rebuilding of San Francisco. A dozen speakers declared that the marvelous restoration of the city destroyed less than three years ago would prove the inspiration of the congress.

Sending Immigrants to West.

Attributing his presence to the interest felt by President Roosevelt in the Western states, Assistant Secretary of Commerce and Labor William R. Wheeler, the first speaker of the morning session, stated the greater part of his address to immigration. In part he said:

I am here as a manifestation of the President's good will and of the hearty interest he takes in your work, and I wish to take up a little of your time with the subject of immigration.

I realize the difficulties the West has encountered in a lack of the heaves of the nation's population. The great wave of immigration breaking on the Atlantic coast you receive but a slim supply of immigrants to meet the demand in the East. The Department of Commerce and Labor is endeavoring to send you a part of the surplus to your regions.

Through intelligence bureaus established in the various territories and endeavoring to assist in the attempt to bring the employer and the employe together, and when the machinery is little more firmly established, we will extend this system, operated by personal correspondence with farmers and business men in the Western States.

The completion of the Panama Canal will open to you the finest ready-made market than you expect. Through this medium there is a great opportunity to divert the Gulf States and the Pacific Coast, and I think it is time you were prepared to receive it.

John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of American Geographers, spoke at length of the lack of enterprise indicated by balances of trade existing between the United States and the countries of Central and South America. He said:

Cultivate Latin-American Trade.

There is danger of irreparable injury to the commerce of the United States unless realization of the opportunities presented by these republics comes at once. The countries of Europe and Asia are doing more now to get in touch with the coast of South America than is the United States. The completion of the Panama Canal will be the opportunity of opportunity to the United States, and they hope by sending their strongest diplomatic and commercial representatives to these Southern countries, to whom so strongly it is desired that it will be impossible to oust them when we awake. It is essential to expedite our trade in the Orient at the expense of our trade with Latin America. If the United States spent in Latin America the amount of money that it spends in strengthening Oriental trade, the relations would have grown 20 times as fast.

You may not know that the 6,000,000 people of Argentina carry more of our trade goods to the United States than do the 20,000,000 of Japan or China. Brazil sent $25,000,000 for irrigation before this country inaugurated its policy and actually appropriated more for that purpose than does this country.

The last speech of the afternoon was by J. P. Morgan, L. E. French, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, who, heading a delegation of ten from the Hawaiian Islands, came to thank the congress for its support in obtaining an appropriation for Pearl Harbor.

Greetings From Roosevelt.

Messages of greeting were read as follows: From President Roosevelt: "I greatly regret that it is not in my power to attend the Trans-Mississippi Congress. It is one of the bodies which can do most for this country, and I am in the heartiest and warmest sympathy with its purpose. If it were possible for me to attend any meeting this year, I should certainly have been present at yours. All that I can properly do as President is to further what your organization is seeking to accomplish, will as a matter of course be done."

From William J. Bryan.

"I pray accept my best wishes for the success of the congress and convey to those assembled my thanks for their appreciation of the work they are doing for the National welfare. Sincerely yours, WILLIAM J. BRYAN."

From William H. Taft.

"I am glad to hear that the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress is being held in San Francisco. I am sure that the meeting will be productive of much good."

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

President Case's Speech.

The first session closed with the address of J. B. Case, president of the congress, who reviewed the subjects to come before the congress. He declared that the reclamation work of the government rivaled the Panama Canal in magnitude and expressed the opinion that the government would hasten the settlement of unoccupied land and establish large dry homesteads and small irrigated ones. He urged co-operation between the Reclamation Service and companies operating under the Carey act, and that title to irrigated land be granted as a result of cultivation and not as a result of speculation. He dwelt on the importance of improving the Missouri and lower Arkansas rivers and condemned legislation hostile to railroads.

CHAIRMAN MACK COLLAPSES

OVERWORK AND COLD TOO MUCH FOR HIM.

Under Care of Physician and Trained Nurse, but Illness Not Thought to Be Serious.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic National committee, collapsed tonight as a result of fatigue and a severe cold, and is under the care of a physician and a trained nurse.

The illness of Mr. Mack came suddenly and alarmed the members of the Democratic committee. Dr. Hammond, of the Auditorium Hotel, was summoned and he said that Mr. Mack was in a little more than ordinary nervous exhaustion. He did not believe that the illness was serious and intimated that the patient would be able to resume his duties in a few days.

Chairman Mack arrived in Chicago from New York yesterday afternoon.

BIFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Norman E. Mack learned of her husband's illness late tonight. After conferring with friends in Chicago by long distance telephone, Mrs. Mack decided to leave for Chicago at 10:30 tomorrow morning.

OBJECTS TO CEREMONY

DALAI LAMA WILL NOT SEE EMPEROR OF CHINA.

Audience Canceled Because of Holy One's Balking at Observances Demanded.

PEKIN, Oct. 6.—The scene of the Chinese Tibet comedy has been transferred from the provinces to Pekin. The latest act in the comedy is the proposed audience of the Dalai Lama, of Tibet, with the Emperor of China.

This was to have occurred today and elaborate preparations for the occasion were made. The Dalai Lama had been brought into the capital for the meeting, but he firmly resisted the coaxing of the Chinese officials in the ceremony that China made. The Dalai Lama has been engaged in granting audiences to the diplomatic representatives in Pekin and he is described by those who have seen him as lacking in intelligence and character.

There is no love lost between the city officers and the followers of the ruler of Tibet. The head priest of the Dalai Lama has had several encounters with the officials who are prone to call him uncomplimentary names to his face.

PARALYTIC BOARDS TRAIN

Missing Pendleton Youth Said to Be Headed for Portland.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—Will Boner, the partially paralyzed young man who disappeared from this city yesterday morning under rather mysterious circumstances, is making his way toward Portland, according to information received by the police today.

It was learned that he had walked to Barnhart station, 10 miles west of here, and there boarded a freight train at 9 o'clock last evening. The frantic father hopes to overtake his son before the latter reaches Portland.

Found Dead in Bed.

Mrs. Lottie Thompson was found dead in her bed at 122 Twelfth street, at 1:30 o'clock this morning. She was unattended when she died and passed away apparently without a struggle. Mrs. Thompson was 39 years old and her husband is in Walla Walla. He has been communicated with and will probably arrive today. The woman has been quite ill for some time and was considered sufficiently recovered to leave the hospital about a month ago.

MAYOR'S ORDERS ARE CARRIED OUT

Unfortunate Women Driven Away From Tenderloin District.

NO ARRESTS NECESSARY

Some Move to Residence Sections, Others to Rooming-Houses. None Resists Edict to Leave Haunts.

The women of the tenderloin have obeyed the command of the police to "move on." They have abandoned the parlor houses and dives of the North End, and some of them have sought shelter in different parts of the city. Perhaps 50 of the women, or 25 per cent of the total number, have departed from the city. Others remained, some finding accommodations in uptown apartment-houses, others in flats and dwelling-houses in localities where their presence, if known, might cause a storm of protest. It is said that several of the ex-inmates of one of the parlor houses have secured a flat in exclusive Irvington, and have established their residence there. Indeed, the big crusade for the eradication of the social evil has so far resulted in something that does not resemble very closely Mayor Lane's announced policy. Houses and resorts that were openly known as bagnios have closed, by order of the police. Rooming-houses of doubtful character, on the other hand, and even thoroughly respectable hotels, have not only remained open, but have even thronged with guests. Several of the unfortunate women who had succeeded in saving a portion of their earnings have rented rooming-houses and profess to have determined to engage in a legitimate business for themselves.

Various Rumors Afloat.

Various rumors have been started concerning the probable location of the women. It is stated by some that they will gradually assemble at a certain place outside the city limits within easy access of the city. However, little credence is attached to these reports.

Chief Grittmacher was decidedly averse yesterday to discussing his plans for carrying out Mayor Lane's orders. His force of men who have been selected for that work has not been thoroughly organized and did nothing yesterday except to visit the various houses in what was formerly known as the restricted district. Strangely enough Tom Kay, whose previous record today outside the city limits within easy access of the city. However, little credence is attached to these reports.
