FLIGHTS ARE MADE

Wilbur Wright Aviates Before Royalty.

TAKES PASSENGERS ALONG

Military Men Guests in Aeroplane. Machine Keeps Close to Ground, 75 Feet Being Highest Point. Will Get Testimonial.

LEMANS, France, Oct. 8.—Wilbur Wright, the American aeroplanist, today made several flights, which were witnessed by Dowager Queen Margherita of Italy. Among his passengers were Lieutenant-General Baden-Powell, of the British army; Count Serge Kaznakoff, a chamberlain to the Russian Emperor; Mrs. Bolle and Commandant Bouttineux, director of the military aerostatic park at Medon.

During these flights, which were not of very great lengths, Mr. Wright kept his machine comparatively close to the ground, except the flight in which he carried Commandant Bouttineux, when he ascended to a height of 75 feet.

Later, Mr. Wright was presented to the Dowager Queen, who warmly congratulated him. A public subscription has been opened at Lemans with the object of presenting a testimonial to Mr. Wright.

WANTS CONDITIONS IMPROVED

Herring With 200-Pound Aeroplane Objects to Fort Myer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A. M. Herring will take his 200-pound aeroplane to Washington Saturday. According to his amended contract with the Government the official trials are to begin on Tuesday, October 13, and he is confident that the machine will meet all requirements.

Mr. Herring will try hard to get permission to have the trials take place over better grounds than those at Fort Myer, where the flights of the Wright brothers' aeroplane were made. He says the trees of Arlington Cemetery, post buildings, etc., make the wind very tricky and for that reason a fair test cannot be had there.

Because of the lightness of the Herring machine (it weighs 650 pounds less than that of the Wright's) members of the Army Board on Aeronautics are tremendously interested in it, and it is likely the requests will be granted. If not Herring will go ahead at Fort Myer according to agreement.

DAILY METEOROLOGICAL REPORT.

PORTLAND, Oct 8.—Maximum temperature, 75 degrees; minimum, 49.3 degrees. River reading at 8 A. M., 2.6 feet; change in last 24 hours, rise of 0.3 foot. Total rainfall (5 P. M. to 5 P. M.), none; total since September 1, 0.29 inch; normal rainfall, 2.74 inches; deficiency, 2.45 inches. Total sunshine, October 7, 11 hours, 24 minutes; possible sunshine, 11 hours, 24 minutes. Barometer (reduced to sea-level) at 5 P. M., 30.05 inches.

The barometric pressure is rising west of the Cascade Mountains, especially along the coast of Southern Oregon and Northern California, and a moderate low-pressure area is developing over British Columbia and eastward. Cloudy weather is general along the Pacific Coast and over Washington and Western Montana, but no rain has fallen as yet. It is cooler this evening west of the Cascade Mountains except over the Sound and Strait, but the temperature continues considerably above the seasonal average except along the California coast.

The indications are for showers and cooler weather Friday in Washington, Western Oregon and Northern Idaho, but it will continue fair and moderately warm in Eastern Oregon and Southern Idaho.

Portland and vicinity—Probably showers and cooler; southwesterly winds.

Oregon—Probably showers and cooler west, fair east portion; southerly winds.

Washington—Probably showers and cooler, southwesterly winds.

Idaho—Probably showers and cooler north, fair south portion.
