

WILD AUTO RACE STARTS BANK RUN

Story of Mad Scramble to Get Hold of Alleged Forged Note Scares Depositors.

TROUBLE AT LA GRANDE

Officials Close Doors and Await Report of Examiner Gatch—Scriber Is Nervous Wreck—Says All Will End Well.

LA GRANDE, Or., Oct. 12.—(Special.)

A wild ride in a motor car, 30 miles away, Friday, to gain possession of a questionable note, has precipitated temporary suspension of the Farmers & Traders National Bank of this city. The bank is incorporated with a capital of $50,000 and its last report showed deposits of $125,000.

While the bank has been closed since morning, it is believed that the reorganization of the bank is well advanced. Bank Examiner Gatch is expected here tomorrow to take charge of the books.

The most logical solution of the bank trouble thus far advanced is that the directors were suspicious, and when it was noted that a note had been forged on N. K. West for $2000 depositors became alarmed.

Cashier in Nervous Collapse. Publicity was given to the alleged fraud Saturday night, and officials of the bank realizing that a run would follow this morning thought it best to close the institution until Examiner Gatch can make his report. Until then the public is in the dark as to the real trouble, knowing nothing except that a money stringency does not exist within the institution if the last published bank statement is correct.

Cashier Scrubber, now suffering with nervous collapse and unable to be interviewed at length, revealed this afternoon that the bank is solvent, and that should there be any discrepancy anywhere, his private fortune will be brought forward to reimburse the stockholders.

This afternoon he refused to discuss the forger's name, saying everything would be brought to light by the report of the examiner.

Wild Auto Race Made.

The bank at Elgin held a note on West of this city, and when it came due Friday asked for instructions from West. Then it became known to him that something was wrong. In an auto West sped toward Elgin personally to see the note, declaring he had not signed such an instrument.

Scriber also secured an automobile and, according to West, reached Elgin first. When West arrived the note had been taken up. West refused to talk about the matter.

Believe Bank Will Reopen.

The belief prevails that the claims against the institution will be paid in full and that there will be a speedy reorganization of the bank and that it will continue in business as usual. The last official statement of the bank's condition was made September 23. At that time the bank had loans and discounts of $150,000, other assets of $100,000, deposits of $250,000 and cash on hand of $25,000. The deposits amounted to $100,000. Among the heaviest depositors are: Union County, $20,000; Sherman, $10,000; and school district, $5,000; Amalgamated Sugar Company, $10,000, and other various amounts ranging from $100 to $500.

GUARD FLAG AT TOWER-TOP

Sophomores Spend Night in Air to Protect Class Emblem.

PULLMAN, Wash., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Spreading their blankets on the narrow spaces between the rafters of the new Auditorium building of the State College, four sophomores spent the night slumbering 150 feet above the ground to defend their class flag from freshmen.

The climax in class rivalry was reached Saturday night when the sophomores, under the leadership of the band, floated their banner from the flagstaff of the new Auditorium building. The only access to its roof was by means of a ladder leaning to a small trap door, some 20 feet above the landing. At 2 o'clock in the morning about 75 members of the '12 class had congregated to attack the stronghold. As fast as they gained the trapdoor leading to the roof their fingers were rapped with a stick and each freshman beat a retreat.

A couple of rifles were pressed into service, and a dozen or more shots failed to bring down the banner. The ladder began to creak under the dormitory, and by 5 o'clock the fracas had a goodly crowd of spectators. At 7 o'clock the sophomores succeeded in getting some breakfast for their classmates on the tower by the aid of a long rope. When school opened at 8 o'clock the sophomores were still perched high on the roof. At noon President Bryan ordered each class to take down its banner.

MILLS AND CAMPS REOPEN

Lumbering Operations Become Active in Eastern Chehalis County.

ELMA, Wash., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The Elma Lumber Company, which closed its camps and shut down a year ago, is making preparations to resume operations. The company will employ a large number of men and the reorganization of work will be of great benefit to the community.

TRACK-LAYING IS RESUMED

Oregon Electric Starts Crew Working Toward Forest Grove.

HILLSBORO, Or., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The Oregon Electric today resumed tracklaying on the Forest Grove extension, and steel will be laid to the east bank of Dairy creek, where it will be necessary to wait three weeks for a big fill across the bottom. With this grade completed steel can be laid into Forest Grove.

Will Bring Back Hatfield.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—San Jose and a deputy will start tomorrow for another trip to Sherman, Texas, and this time they will bring back Hatfield, the man who is being held as a Dunham suspect, whom the Sheriff on his former trip concluded was not the man wanted.

TRETT SPEAKS FORBAKER'S CAMP

Adds Large Audiences in Seventeen Southern Ohio Towns.

DEFENDS HIS OWN RECORD

Vigorously Replies to Attacks of Bryan and Gompers—Says He Has Been Benefactor, Not Oppressor of Labor.

AKRON, O., Oct. 12.—(Special.)

Seventeen Ohio towns saw and heard W. H. Taft today. He talked from Cincinnati to Akron, through a part of the route, with a portion of the territory Democratic. The candidate was greeted by large crowds. The important speeches of the day were at Zanesville, Cambridge and Akron, where, in each instance, the candidate led the train to meet his audience. In his Zanesville speech, Mr. Taft went after both Mr. Bryan and Mr. Gompers.

"Mr. Bryan goes around the country saying I am the father of injunctions," declared Mr. Taft. "It is not true. I did not invent injunctions, or introduce them into the country. It is quite natural that Mr. Bryan should make the mistake, because in a letter he wrote to the District Attorney of Belmont, O., he said he had not read my decisions."

Continuing Mr. Taft gave great emphasis to what he said as the effect of the decisions he had rendered, on the bench. "I laid down the law and I laid down the principles," he said, "upon which the labor organizations in this country have since built up their prosperity and their usefulness, and instead of saying that I am an enemy of labor, I am one of the greatest benefactors labor has had."

"I decided a case against the Brotherhood of Engineers and the brotherhood condemned me. In four years they got into court in St. Louis and they had to withdraw the injunction there because I laid down the principles upon which they could organize, could have their officers, could raise their funds, could sue and could be sued. I advised the officers, and in that case they induced, on the authority of my decision, the judge to withdraw his injunction and they went about and won the strike."

Is Labor's Benefactor. That same thing occurred in a court decision in Cincinnati, and in a decision rendered in Chicago. You will examine the cases you will find that instead of being an oppressor of labor I am its benefactor.

"I have been something besides a judge. I had 30,000 laborers under me on the Panama Canal. Of course we had disputes down there. We had to decide against the laborers. What did they do? I gave them the reasons for deciding the way I did. They elected me a member of their union. Why? Because I am fair to labor."

"Under that annunciation the trades unions have doubled in this country," he said, "and a prosperous country has been built up. The Federation of Labor has increased 100 per cent; Mr. Gompers' salary has been increased 50 per cent, and I am glad of it."

Taft for Woman Suffrage

Candidate Makes Pointed Remark in Speech to Children.

WASHINGTON, COURT HOUSE, O., Oct. 12.—In the short speech he delivered before 5 o'clock this morning to the residents of Morrow, and repeated here a little later, Mr. Taft, in excellent condition, notwithstanding the three weeks of constant campaigning he has undertaken.

"My dear children," remarked the candidate, "you don't vote now, but some day you will, and I hope that when you do the girls will vote as well as the boys."

DETROIT WINS ONE GAME

four times. His stinging single to right in the first drove in O'Leary with the first run of the game. In the fourth he reached first on a fielder's choice, but in the fifth he was hit out by slow grounder, scoring McIntyre. In the eighth his sprouting ability enabled him to make a double of a hit which with a less speedy man would have been good for only one base. In the next inning he singled and not only stole second but also stole third by a narrow margin. He had no opponent in the field, to the great regret of his admirers in the stands.

Others whose work contributed materially to the victory were O'Leary, Crawford and Rossman, each of whom made two hits, although Rossman and O'Leary were both charged with errors. To Mullin, however, the greatest credit was awarded by the spectators. Even in the fourth inning when all three of Chicago's runs were scored he never faltered. His nerve remained steady, his arm strong and his control excellent. The only base on balls which he allowed was turned into a run by Chicago.

Attendance Is Slim.

Despite the fact that the sun shone brightly today and the temperature was higher than yesterday, only 14,483 persons were registered at the various turnstiles, netting total receipts of $22,957. Dawn did not find the usual line of eager waiting purchasers at the single line formed and when play began there were still vacant seats in the more distant parts of the stands, where, probably, would have been filled had it not been that many of the spectators chose to occupy temporary seats in the overflow grounds on the right, center and left fields.

The game was scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock, but was postponed 45 minutes, waiting for the arrival of late comers to fill the unoccupied seats.

Detroit First to Score.

Detroit was the first to score. In its half of the first inning, O'Leary, with one out, lined on to hot for Steinfield. He went to second on Crawford's out and

Runs Come in Bunch.

With none out the Michigan contingent cheered wildly as Crawford came to bat and the resulting grounder was altogether too hot for Chance to hold. While Chance was whirling frantically around second the ball, Mullin crossed the plate and the other runners advanced a base each, leaving every point still occupied by a Tiger runner. The best Cobb beat from behind and he proved to be the game safely away. Mullin, the first man up, when three balls had been put across the plate, disdainfully moved away from the plate and Peister was unable to get the fourth one over. McIntyre singled to left and O'Leary laid down a nice bunt which filled the bases, and Peister failed to catch Mullin at third.

Runs Come in Bunch.

Peister held the Detroiters helpless in the seventh, but he was pounded hard in the eighth. Cobb hit to left for two bases, Rossman beat out a pretty bunt, sending Cobb to third. Schulte flew out and Peister moved up to second on Schulte's throw to the plate, holding Cobb at third. Thomas walked, filling the bases. Cobb scored on Coughlin's single to shortstop, and Peister hit safely to Chance, scoring Rossman. This ended the Detroit scoring, but they had all they needed, and more.

How Chicago Scored.

The story of Chicago's scoring is not a long one, although it looked in the fourth inning as if the world's champions were going to repeat the successes of Saturday and Sunday. After striking Schulte out, Mullin gave Evers his base on balls and the little runner raced and got caught by Mullin, raced to second and was safe on Rossman's high throw. Schulte fouled out, but Chance singled, scoring Evers. Chance's second out came home when Coughlin made a bad throw of Steinfield's grounder. Steinfield scored Chicago's third and last run, when Hoffman tripped the over Coughlin's head.

President Murphy, of the Chicago team, remained in his office throughout the game, owing to a severe cold. He stated that he would accompany the team to Detroit to see the games tomorrow and Wednesday, as his doctor has advised him to cure his cold by reposition before exposing himself. Score:

KEENE HAS THREE CHAMPIONS

Racer Colin, Unbeaten in Two Years, Heads List.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The places of the big winners of the turf for the season of 1908 are fixed and though one more week of big stakes remains of the season, the leading horses, as pointed out by the lesser stakes at the Yonkers track, and the Jamaica meeting, there is no chance of any shift in the positions of the leaders. The James R. Keene stable will win up the year's racing and go into Winter quarters with the Belmont Park course. The Keene establishment will retire with a list of unbeaten horses, holding the record for the greatest number of wins, unblemished by defeat through the year with Colin, unbeaten in two years on the turf, winner of 15 races and $13,271 in that period, at the head of the list.

John E. Madden already has retired for the season, the champion 2-year-old of 1908, Sir Martin, winner of eight out of 13 races, and second four times, with a total of $75,000 to his credit. Sir Martin, who holds the record as the biggest winner of the year, is scheduled to depart from England, where he is engaged in the Derby, St. Leger and other classic races of the season.

By the big total of Sir Martin's winnings does not lift him to the plane occupied by James R. Keene's winners of lesser sums in 1908. Sir Martin is the champion of three races and $50,146; Ballot, the leading 4-year-old, winner of $35,915 in five races and unbeaten through the year, and Celt, winner of $2,790 in two races, and also unbeaten in 1908. The Keene stable also shelters the leading winning mare of the year in Masketto, with $20,000 to her credit, and her earnings in the 2-year-old stages.

The leading winners for 1908 and their records follow: Sir Martin, eight races, $75,250; Filly, 2 years old, J. R. Keene's Masketto, five races, $25,800; J. R. Keene's Ballot, 3 years old, $20,000; J. R. Keene's Celt, 3 years old, $12,790; J. R. Keene's Masketto, 2 years old, $20,000; J. R. Keene's Priscillian, 3 years old, $13,271.

ENGLAND REGAINS LOST TITLE

Wins Professional Sculling Championship From Australia.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—After being held for ten years in Australia, the professional sculling championship of England was won back by Ernest Burgess of London, this afternoon. He easily defeated George Towns, of Australia, by a length and a half, over the Putney-Mortlake course of 4 1/2 miles. Burgess' time was 21 minutes, 12 1/2 seconds. In addition to the title, Barry won a purse of $2000. The new champion is a brother of W. A. Barry, from whom Towns wrested the title in 1898.

Morrison Escheat Suit Takes Six Days of Court's Time.

LA GRANDE, Or., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The Morrison escheat case, which has been occupying the attention of the Circuit Court for six full days, will go to the jury tomorrow noon. The testimony introduced by the defense lacked the sensational color that tinted the state's evidence.

The Circuit Court today had a brief rest from escheat proceedings when John Starns, of St. Margie, was arraigned on a charge of violating the local-option law. His arrest followed an indictment returned by the grand jury. He will plead tomorrow morning. The next case to come up for hearing is one of the $50,000 suits against the O. R. & N. for personal damages.

Ten years ago Mr. Mitchell, who was a Chicago boy, was traveling in North Carolina when he met Margaret Britton of Spartanburg.

Two years before, her uncle, Frank Trimmer, who owned much property in the town, had died, leaving a fortune of $200,000. The provision of his will was that the income from this was to be paid to his favorite Pully, as she was called, but that in event of her marriage and the birth of a child, the title of the estate was to be invested entirely in the child upon coming of age.

Mr. Mitchell's sister, who was murdered by William Bartholmew, who committed suicide in Iowa, a famous case eight years ago.

HORSES ARE HERE

Out-of-Town Entries for Coming Show on Ground. MANY COME FROM SPOKANE

Every One Took Blue Ribbons and Among Them Were Distributed Many Silver Cups and Other Trophies.

With the arrival of the handsome stack of John W. Condit's, J. D. Farrell, D. E. Frederick, Miss Ellenore Laidlaw and several other cracks, practically all of the out-of-town entries to the Portland Hunt Club horse show, which opens Thursday afternoon, are now quartered at the barns in the rear of the Oriental building.

Most of the horses that arrived, came direct from Spokane, where they have been shown during the past week at the horse show held in connection with the Interstate Fair, at which T. S. McGrath, president of the Hunt Club, officiated as judge. Every one of them captured several blue ribbons and collectively they took most of the silver cups and other trophies.

The following is an account of the winnings of the horses at Spokane, that will be seen at the horse show. The article is taken from a Spokane newspaper and gives some idea of what a classy lot of saddlers and harness horses that will be a part of the local show:

Searchlight is Champion. Searchlight, the great Laidlaw horse, won the championship racing and at the Interstate Fair and completed an unbroken record in the eight different classes in which he has entered alone. With Flashlight, he lost the saddle tandem event to Greenough Brothers' Mildred Paul and Black the early in the week.

Eight blue ribbons and the red, blue and yellow insignia of the champion is the reward for the magnificent black animal for his various contests at the second annual horse show of the Spokane horseman. The horse, which came to an end at the Interstate Fair yesterday.

The Seattle horse, those from the Farrell and Condit stables, captured almost an equal number of blue ribbons, Sunshine and Belle Brandon taking three team prizes and Sunshine capturing four individual prizes. Johnny Conditine got away with three, two with his team, Miniature Forest King and Quality Queen, and one with Quality Queen. He took several seconds and entered the tiny title race in several events out of her class with surprising success.

Laidlaw Leads in Blue Ribbons. A summary of the blue ribbon show, that Andrew Laidlaw, the Spokane horseman, won with 16 firsts and 4 seconds, the Morrison entries and the Conditine horses taking away 10 blue ribbons. The Farrell horse won five, three seconds and three thirds. Mason's horses got away with ten seconds and one third. Mrs. Conditine took four seconds and one third.

In the team race, the champion class, in which Searchlight was given a worthy contest by Tommy Mack, with little Miss Helen Songfelder in the saddle, the principal event of the afternoon was the high-jumping contest in which Foxcatcher, the Farrell horse, cleared 5 feet 6 inches in an exhibition lead over plain white bars. The jockey had a lot of difficulty making the horse take the bars, but handled the fretting animal cleverly. He finally took it beautifully and the stands roared with applause.
