County Land-Fraud Case to Go On.

DEMURRER IS OVERRULED

Attorney MacLemore Makes Brilliant Argument and Is Answered by District Attorney McCourt.

Judge Wolverton yesterday afternoon overruled the demurrer filed by Attorney MacLemore in behalf of the California defendants and ordered that the men who represented the Pacific Furniture & Land Company, charged with a conspiracy to obtain title to 30,000 acres of land in Curry County be brought to trial. Attorney MacLemore attacked the validity of the indictment with considerable vigor in a brilliant argument which lasted all of Monday afternoon and yesterday morning. He was ably answered by United States Attorney McCourt and by Tracey C. Becker, special assistant to the Attorney-General.

Attorney-MacLemore concluded his ar-Judge Wolverton yesterday afternoon

Attorney MacLemore concluded his argument shorily after court convened yesterday afternoon and Judge Wolverton after carefully reviewing all of the points made by the defense, held that the indictment stood and said that he was in doubt only on the sixth count The dictment stood and said that he was in doubt only on the sixth count. The court held the indictment to be sufficient to try the defendants and said that after the evidence was in and he was convinced that the sixth count did not sufficiently set out the overt act, he would so instruct the jury.

Judge Wolverton then ordered the trial to proceed, but owing to the appearance of John Manning, ex-District Attorney, in the case as one of the attorneys for the defense, a request was made by both the defense, a request was made by both Attorney Manning and Attorney MacLe-more for a recess until this morning in order that the attorneys for the defense might have time to prepare themselves for trial.

Judge Wolverton was at first not in-clined to grant this request, but when informed that one of the defendants was informed that one of the detendants was ill and not in court to plead, he granted the recess. After the pleas of not gullty had been entered by Hynes, Myers and Hedderly, court was adjourned. Smith, the defendant who was Ill, will plead this morning.

During the morning session Jeremiah Huntley, ex-United States Commissioner, and one of the defendants, withdrew his plea of "not guilty" entered on Monday. He announced that he would be a party to the demurrer then being argued. This request was granted and he was entered with the rest of the defendants. Huntley entered his plea of not guilty together with the others. Myers was the only defendant not in the city. He is under bond and will come to Portland when ordered

MUSICAL ACT IS BIG HIT

Eight Zingaris Prove Drawing Card at Pantages.

The feature number at Pantages Theater this week is one of the finest musical acts that has ever visited Portland. The act is down on the programme as the Eight Zingaris, and a more picturesque troupe possessing better voices has not been seen here for a long time.

The troupe consists of five women and three men, and their choruses and solos are decidedly pleasing. A dainty little miss possessing a splendid soprano voice sings "The Last Rose of Summer" in a manner that evokes prolonged applause and calls forth several encores at each performance.

The singing of the Toreador song from "Carmen" is a distinct hit, and the bari-tone soloist one of the best heard in local theaters in months. Another pleasing set on the bill is the singing and dancing of Thomas and Payne, who succeed in pleasing The buck dancing on skates is a
