HORSE SHOW OPENS MOST AUSPICIOUSLY

Grand Annual Display of Hunt Club Proves Great Success.

HORSES ON THEIR METTLE

Steeds Exhibited of Finest, and the Judges Have Difficulty in Awarding Ribbons—Fine Performance of Equines in Ring.

try list and the tremendously keen competition among the exhibitors, the awarding of the ribbons was splendidly done. At both the afternoon and evening shows the awarding of the ribbons was done with rare judgment, proving without question that both Walter Scott Hobart and E. D. Beylard are men thoroughly equipped for the work they are doing and horsemen of rare ability.

Hard Task for Judges.

It was no easy task, theirs, and in many of the classes so slight was the margin between the animals and the appointments that the blue might have been awarded to any one of the entries without question. This was especially so in the victoria class, in which all of the horses shown were owned by Portland exhibitors. It was not until the judges had looked at the three teams and had ordered them driven around the ring several times that the blue ribbon was finally awarded to T. B. Wilcox. The rivalry between Black Chief and Hindoo Prince, owned by Mr. Wilcox, and Lady Tuck and Lord Nip, owned by F. W. Leadbetter, was very keen and even the spectators, who are always prone to show their choice by applause, were in doubt as to which was the best pair until the award finally went to Mr. Wilcox' pair. Mr. Leadbetter's pair took the red and Citizen and Civilian, owned by Mrs. C. H. Lewis, received the white.

Awarding of Ribbons.

The riding and driving of Miss Bernice Baker, of Tacoma, soon captured the hearts of the spectators, and each time she received a blue ribbon or rode and drove around the ring she was applauded. With her entries of yesterday Miss Baker won four blue ribbons. D. E. Frederick, of Seattle, with his handsome roadsters, both in single and in the classes for pairs, also carried off four blue ribbons. Mr. Leadbetter won three blue ribbons, and Mrs. John W. Considine, Dr. A. C. Froom and Paul Wessinger two each. J. P. Porter, of Vancouver; Otto Breyman and Mrs. F. G. Buffum carried off one each.

The tandem class was one that created no end of interest, and the judging of this class was watched with keen enthusiasm. The blue went to Lady Tuck and Lord Nip, exhibited by Mrs. F. W. Leadbetter. T. B. Wilcox received the red and the white went to Miss Bernice Baker, Mrs. C. H. Lewis' pair getting the yellow.

Push Ball Game Interests.

The driving of little Miss Helen Wadsworth Farrell, the 9-year-old daughter of J. D. Farrell, of Seattle, and that of Miss Gorgiana Leadbetter were features that pleased the spectators. Both gave splendid exhibitions of horsemanship and both were exceptionally clever whips. Little Miss Farrell drove Merry Widow in the runabout class and in spite of the fact that the blue went to Miss Bernice Baker with Highland Gaines, when the red was given Merry Widow it was hard to tell which received the heartiest applause.

The pushball game between the Reds and the Blues created no end of excitement and fun and several times when the huge ball was sent bounding across the ring from the impact of both horse and rider, the spectators were brought to their feet. The Reds, captained by James Alexander, scored the first goal, and after a skirmish lasting several minutes the Blues, captained by Henry Metzger, captured one, leaving the issue in doubt. Those who played with the Reds were: Captain Alexander, Walters, Oppenheimer and Glutter. The Blues were: Captain Metzger, Skuse, Cronin and Blum.

Ladies' Jumping Class Attracts.

Another bit of excitement and one that the spectators took keen pleasure in was the ladies jumping class. The class was a very large one and with but one or two exceptions the jumping was faultless. The blue went to Mrs. F. G. Buffum, who jumped her own horse, Will Wehrung. Mrs. Buffum fenced her horse beautifully, Will Wehrung taking the fences without faltering. Mrs. R. J. Chipman jumped two horses in this class and took the red with Wallace L, owned by J. P. Porter, of Vancouver. It was the first time that Wallace L had ever been ridden over the jumps with a side saddle, yet in spite of this, under the skilful riding of Mrs. Chipman, she made him take the jumps, after a first desire to refuse. On the second time over the jumps, Mrs. Chipman sent Wallace L on about his business and he jumped well. Mrs. Goldsmith, of Seattle, won the white with J. F. Farrell's Fayette. This was the last class shown in the evening programme and in spite of the fact that the hour was late, so interested were the spectators, that they remained seated until the ribbons were all awarded.

Spectators Late in Arriving.

Owing to some confusion about the hour that the judging would start, the spectators were late in arriving, but as only two of the classes had been judged little was missed by the eager and enthusiastic audience. Mr. Hobart and Mr. Beylard began judging the first class promptly at 2 o'clock, and from that hour until ribbons were awarded to the jumpers in the in-and-out jumping class, there was not a moment's delay.

Class I came first, a class for trotters in which there were nine entries, and Dr. A. C. Froom has the honor of capturing the first blue ribbon, with Josephine Vernon, his handsome black two-year-old. J. P. Porter, of Vancouver, took the red ribbon with Ora May, while D. E. Frederick, of Seattle, was third and Esther M., owned by Fred T. Merrill, was fourth.

The thoroughbred saddle class for mares and geldings brought some splendid horses into the ring. The honor of winning the blue went to Gibson Boy, owned by F. L. Stewart, of Kelso, Wash. Crigil, owned by C. M. May, was second, and Sally Goodwin, owned by Fred T. Merrill, was third. The reserve ribbon went to Mrs. C. B. Sewall's Babbie.

One Pair Pacers Entered.

Only one pair of pacers entered the ring in class 16, and they were the handsome black team owned by Paul Wessinger. As they were driven around the ring exclamations of admiration and applause were heard from all parts of the building. The same pair, Alta Cora and Cora Patchen, were the only entries in class 8. J. W. Considine, Jr., of Seattle, and his toppy little high-stepper, Miniature Forest King, was an easy winner of the blue ribbon in the pony single driving class. His classy driving and the splendid action of Miniature Forest King won the admiration of all. The red ribbon went to Dr. George S. Whitesides' Bob, which was also cleverly driven.

Ridden by Dr. A. C. Froom, the blue ribbon in the saddle-horse class was won by Wallace L, an Oregon bred horse owned by J. P. Porter, of Vancouver, Wash. Gypsy, owned by J. Wesley Ladd, won the red, and the white ribbon went to Duchess, owned by M. L. Holbrook and ridden by James Nicol. The reserve was taken by Tony, owned and ridden by Mrs. W. H. Warrens.

F. W. Leadbetter sent a very handsome unicorn team into the ring, with Lady Tuck and Lord Nip as wheelers, and Monte Christo in the lead. A feature of the handsome turnout came when Mr. Hobart mounted the seat and drove the team, giving a fine exhibition as a whip.

A great deal of interest was created when Class 24 entered the ring. Mrs. J. W. Considine had both Sunshine and Belle Brandon entered, but she only drove Belle Brandon, and was awarded the ribbon. Dr. Froom took another ribbon with Josephine Vernon in the class for high school horses. Sol G., owned by John H. Gibson, took the red.

The real interest of the afternoon was centered in the combination horses, in which Miss Bernice Baker won the blue ribbon with Highland Gaines. Miss Baker also captured the blue ribbon in the class for five-gaited horses. In the class for pair of road horses, the blue ribbon was won by D. E. Frederick's handsome pair of blacks, Lyonors and Homer. Mr. Porter had the only other entry, Ora May and and Kittie Guy.

The in-and-out jump was a thriller for the crowd and when Frank, owned by Otto Breyman and ridden by William Walters, received the blue ribbon there was round after round of applause. In the first trial Frank sailed over both jumps without touching them, while Fayette, owned by J. D. Farrell and ridden by Jockey Harris, knocked the second bar down. On the second jump Frank scuffed the first fence, but took the second, and then Fayette went over both jumps in a manner that electrified the crowd.

Clackamas Values $23,000,000.

OREGON CITY, Or., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—County Assessor Nelson has announced that the assessed valuation of the property in Clackamas County will be $23,000,000, nearly double the valuation of last year. The property is assessed at its actual cash value in most cases. The annual meeting of the Board of Equalization will be held next Monday and continue for one month.

SOCIETY TURNS OUT

Portland Smart Set Attends Horse Show Opening.

RING IN BRIGHT SETTING

Beautiful Gowns Gleam With Jewels, and Entertaining Is General in Boxes, Where Easy Informality Rules.

Socially this year's Horse Show is far in advance of that of last year and considering the fact that this big annual event is comparatively a new thing for Portland, last night's opening was a delightful surprise in its brilliancy. The stiff formality which characterized last year's show has given way to an easy informality. Yesterday afternoon and last night there was much more visiting among the occupants of the boxes and altogether things moved with great smoothness. The display of gowns and jewels was also decidedly more attractive than that of a year ago and it was apparent that social Portland is developing rapidly in the matter of horse show entertaining. The grills last night were a bleze of glory, the Portland especially being a popular rendezvous. The decorations of this and a number of other grills were commented upon most favorably by both the outside and local visitors. There is no question that the present affair will be a complete success socially and the management of the show as well as local society leaders deserve especial credit for the interest they have manifested.

The skilful driving of members of the smart set was universally commented upon, some who have never before appeared publicly showing to especial advantage. The most recent horse show has fully justified every expectation and marks a new epoch in local social affairs.

Some exquisite gowns, jewels and furs were worn last evening and the scene presented a charming kaleidoscopic effect of color. Brilliant scarlet hunting, the Portland Club's colors, was everywhere in evidence and dominating the entire scene was the familiar Hunt Club emblem, the fox's head and crossed crops done in electric lights, hung conspicuously over the judges' stand. Parsons' Orchestra furnished music and the glare of lights, the brilliant gowns and the spirit of enthusiastic good-fellowship which was everywhere made the occasion one which will long abide in the annals of local social affairs.
