SAYS HE HIRED ENTRYMEN KERR TELLS OF DEAL FOR COOS COUNTY LAND. Completion of Los Angeles Fraud Case Will Probably Require Great Part of Next Week. Satisfactory progress is being made by the Federal officials in the prosecution of the men charged with conspiracy to defraud the Government of valuable timber lands in Curry County. William T. Kerr, manager of the Pacific Furniture & Lumber Company's store at Port Orford, continued his testimony for the Government at yesterday's sessions of the court. He testified to having arranged with several entrymen to file on timber land for the benefit of the company, the principal stockholders of which are defendants in the case on trial. Mr. Kerr did not testify that any stipulated amount should be paid the men filing on the land for the company, although most of them subsequently received a credit for $100 on the books of the concern at Port Orford from which point the land operations of the company were carried on. The witness testified that the filing fees, together with other preliminary expenses, were advanced to the entrymen by himself as the official representative of the Los Angeles Company. During the day a number of letters were introduced tending to show that Jeremiah Huntley, ex-United States Commissioner in Curry County and one of the defendants in the case on trial, had a knowledge of the alleged conspiracy and was a party to its consummation. It is probable that the greater part of next week will be required for the Government to conclude its case. KID GLOVES, 95 CENTS. Real French kid, all leading Fall shades, popular 2-clasp style and standard $1.50 grade. Gloves fitted at counter. McAllen & McDonnell, Third and Morrison streets. Last Klamath Falls Excursion. The Southern Pacific Company will run the last of the season's excursions to Klamath Falls, leaving Portland at 1:30 A. M. Sunday, October 18. Round trip $5. Limit 28 days. Klamath Falls is, indeed, the land of opportunity and many careful investors have taken advantage of these low fare excursions to investigate in that wonderfully fertile and undeveloped basin. A special Pullman car will be run through to Weed for the comfort of this party. Pullman fare $2, including night in car at Weed. Passengers may enter the car any time after 9:30 o'clock Saturday night. Call at city ticket office, Third and Washington streets, for particulars. Olympia Meat Extract, good for grandmas or baby. Only 12-100 of 1 per cent alcohol. Phones: Main 671, A 2467.

WOMAN BILKS CITY STORES DETECTIVES ARE ELUDED BY CLEVER SWINDLER. Merchants Deliver Goods in Response to Telephone Orders Given by Persistent Thief. Mysteriously eluding city detectives and those employed by the big department stores, a clever female crook is causing consternation in police circles and, incidentally, has succeeded in defrauding many of the stores of goods and wearing apparel of the value of several hundred dollars. Meager as are the descriptions the police have been able to secure of her, it is known that she is young and exceedingly handsome. That she is remarkably clever is admitted even by the detectives, for her successful operations in Portland have demonstrated that she is possessed of unusual shrewdness and nerve. Although she has operated in this city for several weeks, neither the city nor department store detectives have been able to secure more than the most meager and unsatisfactory description of her, and have failed utterly in gaining a clew establishing her identity. Few days are permitted to elapse without the filing of a report at police headquarters of another hold and clever deception by this mysterious woman. Department stores, dry goods

stores, millinery stores, and other places where women's apparel is sold, have been victimized by her, and she has played no favorites, though Meier & Frank Company, Olds, Wortman & King and Lipman, Wolfe & Co. are said to have suffered most heavily. The woman rarely goes to the stores in person, conducting her operations largely by telephone. A favorite method of hers is to call the store by telephone, order certain articles sent to a certain address, and then order them charged to some woman whose name is well known and whose credit is never questioned. When the bill is sent to the woman whose name has been fraudulently used, it is, of course, returned and with it a protest. This scheme has been worked many times, and strangely, it has been successfully worked on the same firm more than once. Another scheme is to order the goods sent C. O. D. to a certain address. Before their arrival she calls at the address, explains to the person who lives there that she has made a mistake in giving an order, and desires permission to remain until the goods arrive. The request is readily granted, and on the arrival of the messenger with the goods she tells him to wait till she brings him the money. Of course, she doesn't return. However, she has tried that method so often that she has evidently abandoned it, having failed to swindle merchants by that means for several weeks. Detectives have been trying for weeks to find a clew that might lead to her apprehension, but have failed completely. Bread, cheese and beer was the supper given to a 3-months-old baby; it was stated in a case at Brentford (London) Police Court.
