Tells Voters at Chattanooga Their Interests Lie With Republican Party.

HELD BACK BY TRADITION

Eloquent and Logical Plea of Candidate Wins Him Warm Applause in Eleven Cities of Tennessee.

BRISTOL, Tenn., Oct. 15.—William H. Taft struck the keynote for his party at Chattanooga this morning. Throughout the day, which was spent in traveling the state, he followed the same line of argument, and met with the same hearty response. Mr. Taft emphasized this argument:

"With the material interests of the South dependent upon continuance of Republican policies; with nothing but historic tradition demanding its people to vote the Democratic ticket—praying meanwhile for the success of Republicanism; with Southern Democracy nothing but a fall to Northern Democracy's knee, why not now take the first political cold plunge, go politically where the material interests of the country demand and vote the Republican ticket?"

Speeches in Big Demand.

So great was the demand for the candidate that his itinerary of four stops in the state was increased to eleven. He spoke during the day and evening at Chattanooga, Cleveland, Athens, Sweetwater, Loudon, Lenoir City, Knoxville, Morristown, Greenville, Johnson City and Bristol. With an all-night run he will reach Salisbury, N. C., tomorrow night, and Richmond, Va., tomorrow night.

Receives Warm Welcome.

In Tennessee, as in other states the candidate has visited, he received the cordial backing of all factions of the party.

The candidate was met at Chattanooga by a large reception committee, upon which it was said were many Democrats as well as Republicans. Mr. Taft's reception here was characterized by the extreme cordiality for which the South is noted.

Displays Sense of Humor.

"When I knew you before, I was engaged in the respectable business of trying to administer justice. I have fallen from that estate, and I am now engaged in running for the Presidency, and it seems to me that with the interest I have always had in the South it was only proper I should come here and as a candidate for the Presidency on the Republican ticket express my presence and what I might say here my interest in bringing about such a result as will more closely unite the sections than they have been united.

Realizes All Difficulties.

"We all know the history of the country and we know the natural results of the war. We know how the South was ranged on the side of the Democratic party. We know the natural consequences of that. We know the homogeneous character of its people, the preservation of traditions of the family.

Republican Treasurer Classes Story With Many Other Democratic Campaign Canards.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, said tonight in reply to a statement made by Nathan Straus at Democratic headquarters that many Republicans in Wall Street had been required to give up $500 each to the Republican campaign fund.

Good Results of War.

"One of the things that brought the North and South together was the Spanish War. There, for the first time since the Civil War, we were able to demonstrate how close our hearts were across the Ohio River and the Mason and Dixon line, by a rush to uphold the flag of our country in freezing Cuba and in maintaining the authority of the flag of the country over it.

eloquence hurled at us from the floor of the Senate and House as to the awful things we were doing in the Philippines and the liberty we were sacrificing, but when we called upon the South to fight her quota of men, who were to fight the country's battles over there, who were to make part of the efficient government over there, we did not find the South wanting, and I am glad to be able to see that in the service in the Philippines and in the selection of men to represent America there in that government, we have never paid the slightest heed to state lines.

Democrats Are Honored.

"We have as many Democrats in the Philippine service today as we have Republicans, and we have as many Southern men as we have Northern men. Our own General Wright, of Tennessee, was Governor, and made a fine Governor there. The present Governor, Smith, is a Democrat, from California, and I do not think there is on the other side and are Republicans, but we did not know any difference out there, and the pleasure of dealing with government officials will be the same, no difference and in which no sectional lines were recognized is what makes me long for a similar condition in this country.

Asks Blunt Question.

"Are you going to vote the same way you have before and pray for Republican success, or are you going to assume some sort of responsibility with reference to the National Government? (Voice: Yes.) That is an interruption that somehow does not ruffle me.

"Senator Daniels and Senator Bacon, both distinguished Senators on the floor of that body, deplored the fact that the South has had no representation in the last 20 or 30 years in the councils of the Government. Well, I think that is true, perhaps we might differ as to the reason for it. I think it can be demonstrated that the reason for it is that therefore I join with them in deplored it, and exhausted its reasons altogether, has insisted on voting one way and praying the other, and then making itself an instrument of the Democratic party, no matter to what excess in economic doctrines that Democracy may go.

Tail of Northern Kite.

"They have been the kite to the Northern Democratic kite and when you are carried in the pocket of a man and make no uncomfortable disturbance in that pocket you are not going to exercise very much influence with the gentleman that carries you. Furnishing no electoral votes and substantially but little Congressional vote, and to a Republican Administration, it is not human nature that your leading men should have influence with Republican Administration, and that the Republicans of the South, as Republicans, shall come into the Administration and have that influence and power that the South is entitled to have by reason of the intelligence of its people."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—(Special.)

—Harry Suter and Oscar Jones, combined, couldn't head off the Beavers today. The Northerners took an early lead, thanks to the speed of developed back of control on the part of the two San Francisco twirlers, and although the Portland men piled up errors toward the close of the season, Suter and Jones were lucky to get two tallies, and the session closed 4 to 2 against them. Graneley pitched a good game for the Northern aggregation, and with better support would have shut out the third-place team.
