BEER SALES LARGER

September First Month of Year to Show Gain.

INDEX TO GENERAL TRADE

Improvement in Brewery Business Should Soon Have Beneficial Effect on the Oregon Hop Trade.

According to the Revenue Bureau's statistics for September, made public yesterday, there was an increase in beer sales throughout the country in the month of 23,720 barrels, as compared with the output of September, 1907. Until September, there had been a decrease in the consumption of beer in each month of the current year, the shrinkage being greatest in August, amounting then to over 1,000,000 barrels.

Since the beginning of the year the total decrease in beer production has been 3,157,830 barrels. The output for the first nine months compares as follows:

	1907.	1908.	Decrease.
January	3,721,021	3,699,131	21,890
February	3,507,883	3,322,023	185,859
March	4,647,067	4,152,846	494,221
April	4,614,641	4,525,572	89,069
May	5,410,333	4,907,875	502,458
June	5,957,043	5,887,626	69,417
July	6,963,142	6,187,882	775,250
August	6,595,458	5,540,162	1,055,296
September	5,239,520	5,273,250	*23,720

*Increase.

It is worth noting that the beer consumption last month, while 23,720 barrels larger than in September last year, was also 119,634 barrels larger than in the same month two years ago. The credit for the falling off in the first eight months of this year is taken by the Prohibitionists. Yet it would seem as if industrial conditions in the Eastern states had more to do with it, especially as the decrease only began to show when the business contraction was greatest. The increase in the past month is attributed to the improvement in business conditions, though it has probably been helped in some part by the electioneering activities.

With the turning of the tide in their business affairs the brewers should begin to take a little more interest in Oregon hops.

QUIET CONDITIONS IN GRAIN TRADE.

Prices Hold Steady Though Little Business Is Passing.

Quiet conditions were reported in all the grain markets yesterday. The demand for wheat was very light and prices held about steady. There was not much doing in oats or barley, but the tone was very firm. An offer to buy 1000 tons of January-February oats at $31 was posted at the Board of Trade.

There will be a meeting of the grain department of the Board of Trade Friday, October 30 at 3 P. M. to discuss the affairs of the department as outlined in this paper yesterday.

The range of grain futures at the Board of Trade was as follows, f. o. b. warehouse, Portland:

OREGON EGGS SELLING AT 40 CENTS.

Supply Is Far Under Requirements—Poultry Firmer.

Although there are plenty of Eastern eggs on the market the demand for fresh Oregon eggs is so strong that the price of the latter has been advanced to 40 cents. Yesterday receipts of Oregon eggs were only 38 cases. Eastern eggs sell at from 27 to 32½ cents.

W. T. Turner, an old-time egg and poultry man, who is again in business on the street, states that eggs are now as high as they ever have been in his recollection and he does not look for any increase in the supply until after the turn of the year. While he was out of business in the past year Mr. Turner watched market conditions closely and he predicts that Front-street trade during the coming season will be very prosperous. Albert Estes is again associated with him.

Poultry was firm, with a good demand for chickens, old and young. Receipts were large, but cleaned up well.

The butter market was steady with sales of city creamery at 35 and 36 cents.

Cheese was quoted firm with a good shipping demand.

APPLES IN FROM SOUTHERN OREGON.

Grapes Move Steadily at Good Prices—Potatoes Are Weaker.

Among yesterday's fruit receipts were two cars of Southern Oregon apples, a straight car of Kings and a mixed car of Northern Spys and Kings. They were quoted at $1.25 per box.

There was a steady demand for grapes, which were firm, the best California Tokays bringing $1.25 and other varieties selling from 85 cents up. Local Concords were offered at 15@17½ cents and Eastern Concords at 35@40 cents.

Two officials of the Fruit Dispatch Company have been in this city looking after the banana business. Yesterday they visited Astoria to see if they could place carlots there.

The potato market is weak and offerings are heavier than they have been for some time and are likely to increase from now on. The demand is small and only for the best stock, which is not plentiful. Notwithstanding this, farmers are holding back for higher prices and not disposed to accept figures on which shippers could do business.

STOCKS ON THE RISE

Wall Street Prepares for Big Investment Demand.

ACCUMULATION GOES ON

Activity Congested in a Few of the Speculative Favorites, Especially the Harriman Pacifics. Bonds Are Firm.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The aggressive operations to lift prices of stocks which commenced in volume yesterday were continued today, with no strong news developments as a basis for the movement. The number of shares transferred had risen by noon to a total as large as the aggregate for the whole day yesterday. The number of different issues traded in was a long one, and included many issues often inactive for a long period. The great congestion of activity in a few favorite speculative stocks continued, however, a distinguished feature of the dealings. This was especially true of the two Harriman Pacifics, and St. Paul came into close sympathy with them. Reading had its usual prominent place and the Hill stocks, the copper industrials and United States Steel being added, the overwhelming preponderance of all transactions for the day would be accounted for.

Some of the rumors in circulation to account for the day's advances had to do with individual properties, but the mainstay of the speculation was the rather mysterious allusions to important developments in the political field which were regarded as releasing the speculation from some of the bonds of uncertainty which have held it. The expression is quite universal in Wall street of the feeling that promptly with the passing of the elections there is to be an outburst of public demand for securities for investment rather than for speculation. It is the expectation of this demand which prompts the professional demand for stocks at the present time. That reliance will be placed on this expected demand to absorb a considerable volume of profit-taking sales is safe to assume from all past precedents.

Yesterday's reports persisted concerning Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific, of the intended retirement of the preferred stock in the case of the former and of a projected extra dividend disbursement in the case of the latter. The St. Paul movement was accompanied by talk of the large profits to accrue from the early operation of the Pacific Coast extension.

It was common remark on the floor of the exchange that stocks are in "strong hands," that is, are held by interests that can withhold them from sale except on profitable terms, and that, consequently, prices can be easily advanced when favorable conditions arise. They were, in fact, easily advanced today and quite firmly held without effect from the profit-taking sales invited by the rise, except for Northern Pacific.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $5,440,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Wheat Advances in Spite of Pressure.

STRONG AT THE CLOSE

Bullish News From Argentina of Crop Damage by Frost—Higher Prices at Foreign Grain Centers.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The wheat market opened firm, with prices a shade to ⅛@⅜c higher than the previous close. The market was bullishly affected by moderate advances in the price of wheat at the principal European grain centers and by Argentine advices which claimed damage by the recent frosts. A number of leading commission houses pounded the market the first few minutes, which resulted in a quick decline of nearly ½c. The market suddenly was barren of offerings and prices advanced as rapidly as they had previously declined. Throughout the remainder of the session a firm tone prevailed and the market closed steady at almost the top notch. The news from Argentina was the chief factor, although a number of other influences tended to inspire buying. Rains were reported in some sections of the Winter wheat belt, but the wet weather was still not so great as had been forecasted. The official prediction, however, was for rain extending from the Missouri River eastward to the Ohio River. News from the Northwest was of a bullish character.

Corn was weak during the first part of the session, but regained a large part of the loss later in the day. Shorts were fairly active bidders of corn late in the day and this caused the December delivery to close firm. May was steady and July weak.

Trade in oats was dull. Cash options were steady to ⅛c lower. The close was strong, with prices up ⅜ to ⅝c.

Provisions were active at the close. Prices were up 10 to 15c.

Jaxon Still Trouble-Maker.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Winnipeg says: Honore Joseph Jaxon, who was prominent in the United States last year because of his correspondence with President Roosevelt on the Haywood-Moyer-Pettibone "undesirable citizen" question, has caused much comment in the country west of Winnipeg by appearing as a candidate for the Ottawa Parliament. He has been put forward as the candidate of an independent element that has arisen among the farmers and workingmen, and seems to have strength.

In his appeal to the voters Jaxon attacks both leading parties, and puts forth a statement which strikes radically at Canadian claims to govern the Northwest.

Mr. Jaxon's candidacy will probably bring up the question whether he is a Canadian or belongs under the United States flag by birth.
