this, the first of the three days he is to speak in Indiana, W. H. Taft has talked to more people than on any provious day of the campaign. In each of his 16 speeches, the listeners and applauders have numbered thou samls. Rejuvenated in voice, energy and enthusiasm by his one day of rest, the candidate handled the campaign even a greater degree of positiveness than

In the first speech he made he ridiculed Mr. Bryan's charge of "bribery." in connection with the promises of overs to their employes of more work with Republican success and the order business men for goods said to be made contingent upon the same result. At Linton, where he spoke to several thousand coalminers, he gave them the distory of the writ of injunction, some thing he has not previously done.

At Terre Haute, he made a clear dis finction between the Republican and Demecratic platforms on the question of in-junction and declared business to be properry There were two occasions during the day when Candidate Debs came in for attention. These were at the Terre Haute meeting, the home of Debs, and at the two meetings at Evansville.

The largest outdoor gathering Mr. Taft said he had ever addressed was assembled at Terra Haute, when the Taft special arrived there this afternoon. Many present said it was the largest gathering in the history of the state two parties set forth, the candidate declared with great vehemence: Protects the Poor.

That is where the Republican party stands; that is where I stand, and I do not care what happens politically, that is where I am going to stand. I have issued injunctions against lawless jaboring men who were visialing somebody else's rights. If I had not done it. I should not have the right to be here saiding for your suffrage. What kind of Judge do you want? Do you want a judge that distinguishes between classes decides in favor of one class and against another is it not the judge who under his oath, with the law as it is laid down in the textbook and the statute and with the evidence before him, under his cast decides socreting to the justice of the case and then issues the order that the law requires him to issue?

Defines Injunction. Defines Injunction: An injunction is merely an order with reference to the prevention of the abuse made before the fact occurs, which is to injure or not injure the part). Where an injury has been done a man brings suit to regover damages for the injury but where the injury is of a character recurring from time to time in small auts for which you cannot recover damages that are adequate, there equity says that a man may have prevention rather than care.

Then he may go to court and say. This men is going to can down my tree. That tree won't grow in 20 years. It belongs to me, it is on my place, and he's my tendent He is going to injure it by wasting that tree. He goes into court and asks the judge to leave an injunction to prevent the cutting form of the tree. Is prevention better than cure in such a case? Why them should a judge refuse to issue the injunction?

West of Justice.

Writ of Justice.

That kind of remedy has been in force for 400 years, and is the most remedial writ that we have it arose to protect poor men, not to oppress them. For instance, the way it arose was this A main borrowed $500 on his farm. He give a warrisage which is form was an absolute conveyance subject to being made void by the payment of $500. But the farm was worth $10.000. He falled to pay the $500 on the dat and is less they put the man off the $10.000 farm for $500.

He went to the king in the old days, and he said. This is a fire kind of justice that you are giving me. You allow this man to take my $10.000 farm for $500.

The king said to his Lord Keep, who subsequently became the Lord Cheep, who subman to take my $10.000 farm for $500.

The king said to his Lord Keep, who subsequently became the Lord Cheep, who subsequently became the Lord Cheep was then an ecolosiant, and he sent for the state it is justice. The Lord Keep was then an ecolosiant, and he sent for the was about to and he said. This is unconstitutional I am not going to permit you to do it. I enjoin you from prosecuting a suit.

That is the way the injunction came on The Lord Channellor said. If am going to enjoin you and you have got to come into court. I will enjoin you from prosecuting a suit.

That is the way the injunction grew up it grew up to protect the poor against.

and that $50.00 shall go to this man who owns the farm."

That is the way the injunction grew up it strew up to protect the poor against injuries for which they could not have adequate remedy at law. It is a remedy that should be enforced against anyone who does a lawless act, who cannot have adequate remedy at law, and to have it shollabed morely because it has sometimes been abused and sumetimes lessed against laboring men is to destroy the character of your courts, is to destroy the character of your courts, is to destroy the selence of the law and snact class legislation that

COACHMAN POSES AS GERMAN BARON

BORROWS $15,000 FROM TUFT-HUNTERS AND GOES.

Pseudo - Aristocratic Rateatcher Finds Ample Funds for Champagne, Anto Rides, Etc.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22-(Special) -A bogus German "Baron," known as Von Senden at the Pacific Union Club and as "E. Miller" on the Board of Health's list of "rat-catchers," and in an Oakland livery stable, where he worked, is missing. He disappeared October 13, taking with him $15,000 in gold contributed by some of the most prominent of San Francisco business men.

With a month's salary as a rat-catcher for his original capital, he patronized the most fashionable cafes and established unlimited credit by borrowing from one restaurant man to GOVERNOR CORNERS HIM pay another. He spent thousands on champagne, automobiles and the gay company of the tenderloin. He was introduced at the Pacific Union Club. He asserted that he was the proprietor of a 6000-acre Marin County dairy farm, delivering 1000 pounds of butter a day to local commission men, and borrowed large sums from Meyerfeld, of the Louvre, and other cafe proprie tors. Tuesday he had borrowed $15,000 in cash and disappeared.

Investigation indicates the probabli-ity that the "Baron" was once a coachnan on the famed Von Senden estates in Germany.

MINERS FALL DOWN SHAFT

One of Three, Terribly Injured, Shows Marvelous Stolcism.

RENO. Nev., Oct. Z -Three miners fell 65 feet down the shaft of the Rattler 2 mine at Ramsey yesterday and two of them were so terribly injured that they were brought to Reno for treatment. C. Magaroli, the most severely hurt, stood a 20-mile trip in a wagon without a groan, although his back is broken. His stolcism, physicians say, surpasses anything they ever had seen.

Peter Hultz had ribs broken, a shoulder dislocated and his left ear torn from his head. He will recover. Magaroll's case is doubtful.

Ask any Democrat, any organization Democrat, and he will tell you "no chance at all." Inquire of Republican leaders, and they will tell you privately that he will be defeated. If you know them well enough to gain their confidence they will add that they are glad of it. But there is no organized effort to cut Hughes. It might react on Taft, and that fact has been impressed upon the leaders. So the word has gone out to loyally sup port the entire ticket, and the subleaders are carrying out the order, although without enthusiassn.

Lacking in Enthusiasm.

It is plain to any student of politics that they are not working. No effort is ing made to draw anti-Hughes Republicans back into line. It is not a campaign of education but a campaign of indifference. Last Summer the local lead ers were standing about remarking that Hughes was not a Republican. When he went West in September and easily as med the place of star National campaign orator, they wanted to know why he did not remain in his own state. Now that he has taken up the fight here, fight that nobody else seemed energetic enough to inaugurate, they claim that he is "selfishly pushing his own interests to the detriment of everybody elso."

Two years ago Hughes made a singlehanded fight and won, last year he stumped in the state to work up sentiment for his anti-racetrack gambling leg-islation and won again. Now he is laborng, lonehanded as usual, and travelling the state from one end to the other. In 1906 Hughes was handleapped by inexperience, and a state committee that was incompetent to say the least. was assigned to open his campaign in a little country town, with a scanty population, an inadequate hall, and an almost solid Republican constituency. Before the earnpalen was half over Hughes had "learned the ropes." At the start his meetings were what are technic called "frosts." They improved as what are technically days passed on, but never reached the enthusiastic heights of the Hearst rullies

Indiana Company Brought to Terms by Being Undersold in All Mining Supplies-Deal With Foreign Company.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.-His story of the ruthless methods by which the powder trust crushed out all competition until it now practically controlled the United States was continued by R. S. Waddell, the hearing today in the Government's suit under the anti-trust law. He told how one company after another was forced t join the trust or be exterminated, and how foreign manufacturers were brought to terms, railroad rates being fixed to suit the trust's ends.

He told of the formation of the South ern Powder Company in Cincinnati, with mills in Georgia, which was absorbed a few months later

"We went right after the Southern as soon as they entered the market," said Mr. Waddell. "The fight continued until the general round-up in July, 1898. "What do you mean by the 'general round-up?" " was asked. "I mean the complete elimination of competition by absorbing the competitors," was the reply.

Mr. Waddell said he had been informed by the officers of the company that there as an agreement with the foreign man ufacturers on sales of dynamite. information was given him after foreign mills had been erected in Jamestown, and was known as the "Jamestown Agreement

Deal With Foreign Importers.

"I was told that one of our officers had been to Europe and that thereafter we would have no further trouble," said he. This was when there was some dis-turbance in the market over the cutting of prices on smokeless powder. He said new agreement was drawn by men bers of the pool after practically all the competitors had been absorbed. He dentified a copy of the agreement.
