SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. M .- (Special)-SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. M.—(Special.)— Portland played its closing games on San Francisco soil foday, winding up the sea-son here in a biase of glory, so far as games won were concerned, although there is less to be said concerning the quality of hall. In the forencon the Commuters held the score even until the minth, when Wright blew up and per-mitted four runs to cross, which gave the session to the Beavers, F to I. In the afternoon, after Van Haltren had made afternoon, after Van Haltren had made one grand rally with a home run, the game seesawed, Portland finally coming home in front 5 to 4. Nelson was hit all the way through the Nelson was hit all the way through the game, but Garrett was shy with his offerings and had his support been gittedged the Commuters would have been hooky to call it one score on their part. It looked as if Van Haltren would start things when he popped the ball over the feace at the beginning of the fourth inning. Truesdale followed with a single through short and McCay was safe when Cooney, who was having an off day, juggled a grounder. Heltmuller was safe because Casey fumbled, the errors costing gled a grounder. Heitmulier was safe be-cause Casey finibled, the errors costing another run. With no one out, things looked bad for the Beavers. McCay was forced at the plate, Heitmulier caught at third and Eagan out to the pitcher. The visitors taillied twice in the fifth, an inning that Garrett started with a sin-gle. Casey walked and when Cooney tried gle. Casey walked and when Cooney tried to sacrifice Miller dropped the throw at first, the twirler scoring. A long sacrifice by Johnson and the score was tied.

McCay put the Cakkanders one ahead in the fifth, and the seventh was mother run-getting inning. Garrett and Haftery both scored for Portland, while Truesdale, with his double, again tied the score up. That was the way matters stood in the minth. Casey walked, was sacrificed by Cooney and scored by Johnson's safe hit through the infield to center. In the farencon Cooney put the ball to centerfield, where it was lost behind the scoreboard at Freeman's park. He made the pleto, where it was lost beinnd the score-board at Freeman's park. He made the circuit. Oakland tied it up in the second, but Wright lacked control in the ninth. There were three hits and several passes, one run being forced across.

Committees Will Raise From $75,000 to $100,000 for Spring Festival.

PORTLAND READY TO GIVE

Scores of Letters Are Received by Indorsing Annual Celebration as Invaluable Advertisement for City.

Active resumption of operations on the part of the directorate and management of the Portland Rose Festival will begin at official headquarters on the fifth floor of the Swetland building, this morning. A vast amount of preliminary detail has already been taken care of since the annual election and reorganization of the Festival forces a month ago, so that now the promoters are ready to take their coats off at once and inaugurate the work of securing the funds necessary for giving Portland a far greater and more inspiring week of jollification next June than has ever been dreamed of before. Base hits—Heck, Bernard, Smith, Reward, Phillips, McArdie. Stolen base—Berry Sacrifice hits—Delmas, Mohler, Willis, Base on balls—Off Phillips 7. off Willis S. Struck out—By Willis 6, by Phillips 1. Double play—Willis to Curtis. Time 1:30. Umpires—O'Cenbell and Toman.

Systematic selection and detail of canvassing committees has been arranged for with every line of trade and business covered and these hustlers will go into the field, today, and will not let up until the $75,000 $100,000 fund, as the case may be, has been pledged. President Hoyt and his associates look for a ready response on every hand, for without solicitation or effort on their part approximately $10,000 has already been pledged by PORTLAND PLAYERS ANNOUNCE some of the most substantial interests of the city. The last doubt these interests may have had as to the advertising value of the Festival idea was Graney and Possibly Danzig Will brushed aside by the brilliant schievement of last June, and their ardor and material support of the idea is best indicated in the highly commendatory letters which they have sent in with their renewed pledges.

Subscriptions Good Investment.

The inherent as well as the prospective value of holding such celebrations each year is shown clearly in these communications for in most of them the admission is freely made that the subscriptions of last year were the best investments they ever made for a public enterprise of this or any other character.

for Los Angeles it was announced that but four of the team will spend the Winter in Portland—McCrodie, Casey, Bassey and Ote Johnson. Pitoher Graney, who expected to return to Portland, has been signed by Mike Fisher as a momber of the Reach All-Americans that leave November 2 for the Orient. Babe Danzig may also go to the Orient, although it is not settied. There is trouble with Jerry Freeman, the Washington first-macker, who was making demands that Fisher would not agree to, and Danzig is holding himself in readiness. Otherwise he returns to Oawego, N. Y. Cooney goes to New York City. Raftery will apend the Winter as a salesman in a Boston clothing store, and Madden will also Winter in Boston.

Ryan and Frambes expect to spend the Winter in Los Angeles, but the rest will scatter to their homes, as follows:

Groem to St. Louis, Kinsella to Bloomington, Garrett to Steubenville, Tex., and Rose to his Missouri home.

For next year McCredie has already lined up Ort for center field to replace Raftery; Ed Kennedy at first base, Beaumont as a catcher, and Carson, a new twirler. While the initial efforts today will be largely preliminary, it is expected first-sacker, who was making demands that Fisher would not agree to and Dantig is holding himself in readicess. Otherwise he returns to Oswego, N. Y.

Cooney goes to New York City, Raftery will spend the Winter as a salesman in a Boston clothing store, and Madden Will else Winter in Boston.

E. B. McFarland, for some years president of the Portland Rose Society, and now a promibent factor in the Rose Festival, recently returned from the East. He has written to the Festival Association as follows:

Mr. Ralph W. Hoyt, President Portland Rose Festival—Dear Sir. The Annual Rose Festival has placed Portland on the map to stay II was my pleasure recently to visit finral shows in Eastern cities. The people there were greatly elated over the exhibits, and while they were very pretty for their respective localities, they were not in a class with the Rose City."

I had the pleasure of being introduced to many enthusiastic restrians and other prominent people, and without exception, they exclaimed: "Ah! you're from Portland, where they grow these wonderful roses and have those magnificent pageants and flower shows!"

I felt very proud of the honor, and when I admitted the fact many of them, in fact nearly all of them, said:

"Well, I would give a great doal to be in portland during your fasta week, and if possible I will be with you next year."

I met hundreds of people that were not imbued with the sentiment of the rose, and they, teo, seemed to know all about our wealth of roses and the climate that makes them possible.

The Lowis and Clark Fair first attracted the Eastern touries to the Pacific Northmuch above the seasonal average in Car-fornia.

The indications are for fair weather throughout this district Monday, except that showers are probable in Western Washing-ton. It will be slightly warmer cast of the Cascade mountains. PORECASTS.
