Death When Found.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Huddled together in a water-soaked but of straw and sticks in the desolate region on the banks of the old Illinois & Michigan ast night suffering from hunger and exposure.

Every member of the family was clothed in rags. The older of the two children—a girl of 3 years—was practically naked. She moved restlessly on the wot pile of straw upon which she tried to sleep.

The mother clasped a baby to her breast. Hungry as she was and cold, the mother asked only for milk that she might feed the baby, which cried piteously and shivered in the damp air. The man rave his name as Jack Brunsky. In broken English he told of intermittent employment among other countrymen at the steel mills in South Chicago. Then some week ago he was discharged. Look where he would, he said, he could find no work. Then somebody said that he could get a job at the mills at Joliet. They all started to walk to the coveled job. They passed out of the city and into the fields. Then his wife fell iti. Next the nursing baby, without its needed nourishment, became ill. After that Brunsky does not know just what troubles came. There After that Brunsky does not came III. After that Brunsky does not know just what troubles came. There were so many and he was so hungry that he could not say just what happened. He managed to pick enough decayed picces of food up, which had been discarded by more fortunate workers, from the city dump, a mile away, to keep life in the bodies of himself and family.

Japan Still Praises Americans.

TOKIO, Oct. 27.—The scout cruiser Yankton sailed today to join the fleet after picking up the stragglers among the men. But two sailors were left behind when the Yankton departed. The newspapers of Japan still contain much comment laudatory of the fleet and praise is directed especially toward the behavior and appearance of the men.

After the arrangement the case against Tomalty was continued for one week.
