

CRUSHED BY HORSES

A. L. Brown, of Salem, Falls Before Runaway Team.

PROMINENT LODGE MAN

Grand Chief Ranger of Foresters and Active in Oddfellows—Is Cripple and Was Riding Bicycle When Struck by Team.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—A. L. Brown, head engineer of the Salem Water Company, was crushed under the hoofs of a runaway team this morning and perhaps fatally injured, though hopes of his recovery are entertained tonight. Brown is widely known in Oregon as Grand Chief Ranger of the Order of Foresters and is prominent in work of the Oddfellows' fraternity.

Brown has been badly crippled for years because of accidents sustained, but rides a bicycle well. This morning as he was riding his wheel on Commercial street, a Chinese gardener's team became frightened at an automobile and ran toward him from behind.

A warning about caused him to turn just in time to be trampled under the feet of the horses. Two of the wheels of the heavily-loaded wagon passed over his legs. A kick over his left eye, deep lacerations across his scalp and face and a kick in the abdomen were the most serious injuries. Even though he should recover, he will be disabled for life.

The team did no further damage, though it collided with a carriage farther down the street.

WANT NO BANK GUARANTEE

Chehalis County Bankers Decide Against It at Meeting.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—At a meeting held by the Chehalis County bankers in this city last night, an organization was formed under the name of Chehalis County Bankers' Association, and officers elected, after which a banquet was served at a leading hotel covers being held for 40. The following officers were chosen:

President, W. L. Adams (who is also president of the Washington Bankers' Association); Hoquiam vice-president, P. L. Carr, Montesano; second vice-president, R. E. Dawdy, Hoquiam; secretary, E. B. Day, treasurer, James Fuller, "Guaranteed Bank Depositor" was the subject of a warm debate, the most able speakers on the subject being F. G. Jones and W. L. Adams, the latter taking the negative side. Jones got a bit off his lines and straddled the subject, while the forceful logic of Mr. Adams resulted in a decision that bank guarantee legislation was not to be tolerated. Mr. Dawdy presided over the meeting as chairman.

ORGANIZE FOR GOOD ROADS

Business Houses Close So Proprietors May Attend Meeting.

LA GRANDE, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The organization of a County Good Roads League was the direct outcome of a successful meeting attended by nearly every business man of the city this afternoon. For two hours every business house was closed so the proprietors could go to the meeting. The officers of the new league are: W. T. Wright, Union, president; Walter M. Pierce, Elmer Sebbelov, W. H. Bohenkamp, vice-presidents; Charles E. Cochran, secretary, and William Miller, treasurer.

FALLS BEFORE STREETCAR

David Smith, of Salem, Receives Fatal Injuries on Street.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—David Smith, a logger, well-known in Salem, was run over and fatally injured by a streetcar on Commercial street, between State and Ferry tonight. Smith was intoxicated. So far as can be learned, it appears that he crossed the track ahead of a car and then staggered back and fell across the rails. His left leg was cut entirely off above the knee and his right was badly cut. He was taken to the Salem Hospital, where he later died from loss of blood.

He leaves a wife and three children, the latter all grown. He was about 47 years of age. William Busick was motorman in charge of the car, and George Falk conductor. The car had stopped a half block from where the accident occurred, and had gained full speed, 10 or 12 miles an hour, when the man fell in front of it. There were no passengers on the car.

HAS GAME PRESERVE MADE

No Hunting to Be Allowed on Cold Springs Reservoir.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—With the idea of making a game preserve of the large Cold Springs Reservoir at the Government project in the west end of the county, Deputy Game Warden O. C. Turner, of this city, has succeeded in getting an order from the Government forbidding hunting on or about the reservoir.

As the big lake covers more than 1700 acres and is about half way between the Columbia and Umatilla Rivers, about seven miles from each, it has already become a natural stopping place for both ducks and geese. The hunters were quick to discover this and many birds were bagged before the order went into effect.

FIND BOY'S BODY IN SNOW

Earl Dodd, of Natron, Perishes Hunting in Cascades.

EUGENE, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The body of Earl Dodd, whose parents live near Natron, was found in the Cascade Mountains, near Waldo Lake, Saturday morning, and is now being brought to Hazel Dell, for which place Coroner Gordon left this morning to hold an inquest. Young Dodd, who is well-known here, accompanied an engineering party to Waldo Lake some days ago, and when the work was completed and the rest of the party came out, the young man, with some companions, remained to have a hunt. He went out alone Thursday morning, but did not return to camp that

DUBOIS MILL IS BURNED

Hard Work Saves Lumber at Estacada Early Morning Fire.

ESTACADA, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The mill of the Dubois Lumber Company, located about one and one-half miles from Estacada, was entirely destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. The flames spread to the lumber piles, but the timely arrival of the crew saved the greater part of the stock. The loss was about $10,000 on the plant and about $1000 on the lumber. The company carried no insurance. The origin of the fire was incendiary.

The fire was discovered by the engineer, who was awakened in the night by the sound of falling beams. He immediately notified Charles E. Dubois, manager of the mill, who called out the full mill crew and formed a fire brigade. Finished lumber valued at $10,000 was stacked in the yards, and with the exception of about $1000 worth, all of this was saved.

Mr. Dubois will rebuild the mill at once but on a larger scale. Today he gave orders for machinery for a plant of greater capacity than the one destroyed.

RUSHES WORK ON LINE

Albany May Soon Have Electric Cars on Streets.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—After refusing to accept the new 34-year franchise recently granted him, A. Welch today began the construction of an electric line on First street. He is proceeding under the old Hirschberg perpetual franchise and this may lead to legal complications.

If Welch is not impeded by legal proceedings he will rush work on a line covering the route of the present horse-car line on First and Lyon streets and Albany will soon have electric cars in operation.

TAKE SUSPECTED KIDNAPER

Man Thought to Have Held Lumbertman for Ransom Caught.

BELLINGHAM, Oct. 28.—A Herald special from Anacortes says a man giving the name of John Raugh, and alleging to be a single weaver, was arrested there last night while leaving a Great Northern train. Raugh answers to the description of the man who kidnapped and attempted to hold Edward E. English, a Mount Vernon lumberman, for $5000 ransom Monday night.

The suspect had no money, but was armed with a revolver. He was taken to Mount Vernon today.

Many Prisoners Pardoned.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The Prison Board, at its recent session in Walla Walla, recommended 11 paroles, 27 final discharges, 1 commutation and 13 final discharges from parole. Governor Mead has approved all but six of these recommendations. The six that were not approved are: James Moran, Nellie Marney, Ralph Shelton, Charles Moenaw, Lee Wilson and Oscar

Rev. W. S. Gordon, New Pastor of Albany M. E. Church.

Worthington. The Governor withheld his approval of these cases because he considered that the showing made to the board was insufficient to justify the extension of clemency.

Church Holds on to Property.

EUGENE, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The M. E. Church property on Willamette and Tenth streets, upon which the Eugene Commercial Club held an option for $40,000, has been withdrawn from the market. The club's option held until October 25, but the club failed to exercise it, and the Methodist did not care to give an extension, so the club will have to find a different property for the new hotel site.

TALKS TO BIG HOUSE

Judge Stephen A. Lowell Addresses Voters at Turner.

MANY VISITORS ATTEND

Republicans Come From Salem and From Other Towns of County.

Meetings Billed for Speaker This Week.

TURNER, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Judge Stephen A. Lowell, of Pendleton, addressed a large Republican meeting here tonight and made a logical presentation of the issues of the day. A large delegation of Salem Republicans came up on the evening train and there were many visitors from other parts of the county.

Judge Lowell spoke to a crowded house at Jefferson last night and will address the Taft-Sherman Club, of Silverton, tomorrow evening.

WINSLOW TALKS IN GILLIAM

Young Salem Attorney Makes His at Republican Rally.

CONDON, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Walter C. Winslow, an attorney, of Salem, made an address last evening at Alvira, west of Condon, in the interests of the Republican ticket and was well received by the enthusiastic audience. Mr. Winslow is a young man and this was his first appearance before a Gilliam County meeting. He presented the issues of the present campaign in a clear and forceful manner.

He will address the citizens of Lone Rock tonight and Thursday evening is billed for Olex. Gilliam County has been well served with Republican speakers, every precinct where the population is enough to justify having had one or more meetings. So far there have been no Democratic meetings.

LEE TALKS IN MANY COUNTIES

Has Been Out Two Weeks Campaigning in Eastern Oregon.

MORO, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—J. D. Lee, of Portland, was the principal speaker at a big Republican rally here tonight. He delivered a masterful address, and his presentation of the issues by prolonged applause. The crowd was a large one and a number of out-of-town people were in attendance.

Mr. Lee will spend the remainder of the week in Sherman and Wasco counties. He has been out for two weeks and has spoken in Umatilla, Gilliam and Wheeler counties.

Senator Fulton at Corvallis.

CORVALLIS, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Senator C. W. Fulton addressed an enthusiastic Republican meeting at the Court House this evening. The crowd was one of the largest ever assembled in this city, and enthusiasm ran high. The address was an excellent one and was well received.

RACER IS LIVERY HORSE

OWNER OF MAXIM GORKY IS SWINDLED OUT OF ANIMAL.

Stable Boy and Blacksmith Sell $15,000 Horse for $175 and Owner Can't Get Him Back.

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The Idaho Inter-Continental Fair Association, the last of the Northwestern circuit, after holding its annual meeting in this city last week, decided to continue its tour two days longer this week with an additional two days of race meet, making four in all. The fair so far has not been a great success owing to unfavorable weather conditions, but it is now believed it will break about even financially. The races have been the best for years in this section of Idaho.

The famous Strobel stallion, which sailed during each day of the fair, met with an accident during the week while Captain Parker was attempting to make a trip from the grounds to the sell Gorky to the farmer, with several saddles and whips thrown in. The bargain was driven for $175, and the farmer left with Gorky, taking him to his farm in the valley. The stable boy and blacksmith disappeared.

Forch found the stable empty and the racing paraphernalia gone. The Sheriff was called in and several police, but the racer had become a livery horse.

Wade, after taking the horse to his farm, was approached by W. H. Palmer, a picture man, who was armed with a bill of sale. He loaned the owner of Gorky some money while the horse was racing in Walla Walla, and took the horse from the farmer as payment. He was then sold by Palmer to D. D. Campbell, a liveryman of Caldwell, a neighboring city, for $125, and Gorky is now being rented out as an every-day livery horse.

The stable boy and blacksmith were arrested but later released, and immediately made for California to attend the Winter meets. Gorky has taken to the simple life and the owner is minus a fast animal.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The attempt of the Gompers following in the Central Labor Council of Seattle to vote organized labor as a unit for Bryan has failed, and already several labor leaders have expressed themselves publicly on the subject and declared for Taft.

Among these are M. A. Brown, financial secretary of the Carpenters' Union; Edward Hannan of the General Labor Council; Fred S. McCullough, president of the State Council and Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners; and J. M. McCullough, secretary of the Carpenters' Union, and formerly president of the Shipwrights' Union. J. T. Oldham, a pioneer union labor man and editor of union labor papers, is among those who are outspoken against Gompers.

The dictation of Gompers is made the basis of an attack on the program to deliver the vote of organized labor throughout the country to Bryan.

James Pope, of Wilbur, went to the doctor's office in the Colonial block this morning for a medical examination and was on the operating table with Dr. Hutchins standing beside him when the physician suddenly choked. He gasped for breath and sank upon a couch which was immediately behind him.

Believing this his physician was seriously ill, Pope rushed from the office and through the waiting-room, in which another patient was seated. Sending the other man to the operating-room, Pope dashed down stairs to a drugstore and summoned a druggist. Both hurried to Dr. Hutchins' side, but the physician had died instantly.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Mrs. Anna Lee, of Snohomish, wife of Thomas Lee, proprietor of the Snohomish Bottling Company, a prominent resident of this city, pleaded guilty to petty larceny on three charges today and was fined $175 for shoplifting, says a special file. Everett.

Mrs. Lee was arrested yesterday wearing some feathers on her hat that had been stolen from the store in which she was arrested several weeks ago. As soon as the fact of her arrest became known accusations came pouring in from other stores. A search of the Lee residence at Snohomish resulted in the finding of part of the stolen goods. Her husband paid her fine, and also paid $80 to one of the establishments she robbed, in consideration of which the court let her off with a fine instead of a penitentiary sentence.

ROAD GETS LUMBER PLANT Milwaukee Has Option on Hoquiam Mill Property.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—It developed today that the Milwaukee road, which plans an extension into the Grays Harbor country, has secured an option on the holdings of the Northwestern Lumber Company. The price is not stated, but it is believed the railroad will purchase the entire holdings of the company, which owns a very valuable site at the junction of the Hoquiam River and the Harbor.

The city had planned to install a modern steel bridge at Simpson avenue, but it is said this will now be impossible, as the railroad company will use the location for its own bridge. Some weeks ago the
