AT BRYAN'S MERCY

Gold Standard Could Be Undermined by Him.

WITHOUT ACT OF CONGRESS

Cortelyou Shows Danger of Putting Free Silver Faddist in Presidency. by Citing Measures to Maintain Sound Money.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—George B. Cortelyou, Secretary of the Treasury, addressed a large and enthusiastic massa meeting at the Murray Hill Lyceum, making a plea for the election of W. H. Taft and the entire Republican ticket.

Mr. Cortelyou began by saying: "The one overshadowing lesue at this time is which of two candidates, standing as each does, the representative of a great party, will the better carry forward the work of Government." He then contrasted Mr. Taft's efficient performance of exacting duties and important missions with Mr. Bryan's four years in Congress, during which he opposed protection and repeal of the Sherman aliver purchase law. After discussing Mr. Bryan's views on currency at some length, he said:

What Would Bryan Do?

Would the public credit be resolutely maintained it Mr. Bryan were President and a crists should arise? That would carlied the work of the public credit be resolutely maintained it Mr. Bryan were President and a crists should arise? That would carlied to the theater by a mounted Rough Rider guard. Hils reception by the crowds in the theater by a mounted Rough Rider guard. Hils reception by the ectows in the theater by a mounted Rough Rider guard. Hils reception by the strosts evidenced great enthusiasm. Before Mr. Taft began his discussion of politics, he paid a compliment to Representative Payne. Mr. Taft's speech presentative Payne. Mr. Taft's appear to Republican party stamped upon the hereay of free silver, "wall Judge Taft, "it was a victory for honesty and for National honor that is exceeded only by the victory of our armies in the Civil War."

The repeal of the Democratic tariff and passage of the Dingtoy bill, Judge Taft and wall the Lyons beet sugar industry, saying that with the removal of protection from that industry the sugar factories of this country would be removed to Germany, and not only would the Americans employed in that industry be out of their employment, but the farmers who ralse sugar beets would also be injured.

What Would Bryan DO?

Would the public credit be resolutely maintained it Mr. Bryan wore President and a crists should arise? That would depend upon two thloas: The disposition to carry cut the law and public confidence in those charged with carrying it out. The laws are perfectly clear and sound, but they are discretionary laws. The gold standard law, for instance, directs the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase gold with lawful money and to issue bonds, but necessarily that official is the judge of the time and method when the occasion arises for using these powers. It is doubtful whether he could be compelled to use them against his will, even by a mandamits from a court, and, of course, compulsion of that kind would not inspire any confidence in his sincerity or seal in carrying them out.

Gold Standard at His Mercy.

The gold standard has of 1000 provides specially for issuing bonds if necessary to maintain the gold reserve, but the Bryan platform of 1000 adopted after the passage of that taw, reaffrmed the demand for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 'is to 1' without waiting for aid or the censent of any other nation, and demonstrate the new law.

Has Mr. Bryan altered his views since that time? I should be very glad to hear that time? I should be very glad to hear that he had done so and was ready to enforce fully the gold standard law, but I have not yet heard of any such declaration on his part.

tion on his part.

Mr. Corielyou went into the subject of guaranty of bank deposits, saying:

Destroys Depositors' Security.

Desiroys Depositors' Security.

This guaranty scheme of Mr. Bryan's, like many others of his schemes, does not guarantee On the contrary it weakens, if it does not desiroy, the only guaranty the depositors have or in the nature of things can have—that is the honesty, integrity and ability of the banking community.

Wouldn't you rather move forward in this strugile for good government under the banners of experience, of capacity, of achievement, thun under the banners which, is true to the record, should hear the legicids. "Is to I—baston in 1890"; "Imperialism—heaten in 1906."

TAFT WEARY, BUT CHEERFUL

Talks at Lyons on Bryan's Silver and Tariff Theories.

LYONS, N. Y., Oct. 28.—After his strenuous day in New York City yesterday, William H. Taft reached here, somewhat fatigued and hoarse, but in good spirits and ready to meet the crowds. In the largest hall in the city, he made an extended address on the issues of the campaign.

on the issues of the campaign.

In his speech Mr. Taft demonstrated his recuperative powers. His smile was as infectious and cheery as ever, his flow of language was easy, and his vigor in denouncing what he called "Bryan fallacles" unmatched by previous efforts. Fully 1600 people turned out en masse and heard the candidate. He was excerted to the theater by a mounted Rough Rider guard. His recentlen by the crowds in the theater.

CALLS HUGHES GREAT MAN

Taft Predicts His Victory on Great Moral Issue.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.-W. H. Taft was cheered enthusiastically when he praised Governor Hughes and James S. Sherman in his speech today.

Of the Governor, he said:

"You have a great man in New York to be elected your Governor. Prophecies were made of the impossibility of electwere main. These prophecies seem to have been born of a mistaken idea of the judgment of the peopla. They know a good man. They know a courageous man. They know an intelligent man when they see him and when he represents a moral issue and when he speaks and has moral convictions the inference that he is going to be successful is ordinarily a certain one, especially when it is predicted of a people like the people of the state of New York. The whole state ticket, I understand to be of such character that inderstand to be of such confracter that it is most satisfactory to the Republicans and I hope Democrats as well. Now with respect to the personnel of the National ticket, I cannot speak except with reference to the Vice-Presidential candidate with whom I am delighted to be associated, your own Hon. James S. Sherman." James S. Sherman."
