The vessel is now at San Francisco and she will immediately proceed north for cargo. This is the first charter of an American craft for foreign cargo since the Homeward Bound was taken early in the season. The Samar is a small craft, measuring only 673 net tons. She came to the California port from Newcastle with coal.

The steamships Olympic and Forerick of the Waterbury-Cooking Co. have been fixed for cargo of lumber for Australia. The first of the lumber packets to arrive in Portland will be the Forerick, which is now at Seattle. She will take a part cargo here and will proceed to San Francisco to finish. She is due shortly after the first of the month.

Shipping News of Seattle.

SEATTLE, Oct. 29.—Much to the disappointment of shipping interests on this coast the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission has decided that the case of Mrs. Minnie A. Paterson is not within the scope of the fund. Mrs. Paterson died December 7, 1906, after the lives of the members of the crew of the shipwrecked bark Columbia which foundered to pieces off the west coast of Vancouver.

Sams, of the Hercules, has filed a wreck report with the inspectors. He claims to have thrown an additional light on the matter. Captain Sams says that he was going full speed when the boats came together. The Hercules was unhurt, while the Haisa had the port side of her house badly stove in.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 29.—After a summer of hazardous cruising in Arctic waters with a small schooner, Captain Henry Dyer, with the North Bend, 137 net tons, arrived in Seattle this morning, bringing news of the total loss of the Seven Sisters, a coal-carrying vessel, which was wrecked in Kotzebue Sound. Captain Dyer reports a rough trip but good success getting ashore his cargo of lumber and stores for Government schools in Alaska.

Steamer Hoo Hoo Goes to Tillamook.

L. C. Thompson has purchased the steamer Hoo Hoo, 22 Kellough net tons. The craft, which has been housed-in, will leave down this morning in charge of Captain Childs. Captain Dyer reports a rough trip but good success getting ashore his cargo of lumber and stores for Government schools in Alaska.

Inspect Ranges at Reeders.

Captains Pease and Groves, of the Port of Portland, and Superintendent of the Lighthouse Inspectors' office, made a trip to Reeders yesterday in the Port of Portland launch Marie. The object of the journey was to investigate the aids to navigation at that point. The ranges have been in bad shape for some time and pilots have been complaining.

LOGGERS PLAN CONVENTION

BOOST PLAN FOR MEETING AT SEATTLE NEXT YEAR.

Lumber Publication Takes Position That Association Would Permanently Benefit Great Industry.

That Association Would Permanently Benefit Great Industry.

The Timberman, published at Portland in the interests of loggers and lumbermen, is boosting a plan to hold a logging congress at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle next year. Indorsements of the scheme have come to the editor of the Timberman, George M. Cornwall, from many logging firms of Oregon and Washington, which assure the editor of the publication of their hearty co-operation.

It is felt by the loggers of the Pacific Northwest that much can be gained by getting in touch with the methods followed by others in the big industry. Co-operation and organization, now lacking between the loggers of the two states, can be secured, it is believed, by forming an association of loggers for mutual social and business benefits.

It is suggested that the loggers should meet in such a congress every year in different sections of the territory to improve all the conditions surrounding the industry. It is felt that it is equally important with the lumber interests, which are well represented by organizations, and that equal good would be gained from forming associations to protect the interests of the logger.

It is suggested by the Timberman that subjects that could be taken up to advantage by the loggers at next year's congress are:

- Overhead logging systems.
Establishment of oil for coal or wood for producing steam.
Feasibility and advantages of maintaining camp crews in cars, as against the present lumbering system.
Establishment and maintenance of better logging conditions in the interest of the men, enforcing an arbitrary code of laws, and sanitary and fire-prevention service.
Application of compressed air for sawing and bucking.
Exhibits of log skidders, logging cars and trucks, logging engines, loggers' tools, etc.
System for handling logs in grades too steep for general skidding.
Development of the logging engine and its operation.
Development of supplying bunkies in the woods with adequate water supply.
Discussion of latest improved tools and appliances for use in logging.
Operation and maintenance of logging machinery.
Accounting and cost system.
Long distance log towing.
Regulation of fire hazard, etc.

Warrant-Sellers on Carpet.

Members of the Fire Department who have been in the habit of selling their salary warrant in advance to money brokers were before the Fire Committee of the Executive Board for a hearing yesterday afternoon. An order was issued forbidding this practice, which some admitted they disobeyed. Various excuses were given. The cases were taken under advisement.

RETURNS FROM INSPECTION

Declares That Conditions at Marshfield Are Most Favorable and That Oregon Harbor Should Be Fortified.

Organization of a coast artillery company at Coos Bay, is to be recommended at once to the War Department by Adjutant-General W. E. Finzer, of the Oregon National Guard. At the same time attention will be called to the unfortified condition of Coos Bay harbor, with a view to having the matter taken up by the United States Engineers.

More Attention to Coast.

For more than a year past it is known that the Government has been displaying an awakened interest in the condition of the Pacific Coast as to defenses. A year ago, it will be recalled, the adjutant-generals of Oregon, Washington and California were summoned to Washington, D. C., to talk over the situation with a view to organizing forces to occupy the coast fortifications already existing in the event of trouble. The War Department officials suggested that portions of the state infantry troops be assigned as coast artillery reserves. The three adjutant-generals consented that this plan was not feasible as the class of men enlisted as infantrymen were unwilling to enter the coast artillery branch of the service.

Can Form Strong Company.

"I found that an unusually strong company can be readily organized at Marshfield," said General Finzer, yesterday, "and we should have a company in the vicinity of the Fort Stevens district were visited, but at these places the necessary quota of men could not be obtained. Coos Bay, although a considerable distance from fortifications, was then put down for investigation."

Accident Insurance Company Sued.

John Mattheson alleges in a complaint filed in the Circuit Court yesterday against the Union Guaranty Association, that he was "blinded" by the company's insurance agent until he took out a policy, but that the company now refuses payment. Mr. Mattheson says that between August, 1907, and January, 1908, he was engaged in construction work at Front and Harrison streets. The company advertised to insure against loss by fire. Mattheson's policy provided that he was to receive $30 a month in case any of his men met with an accident. $100 in case they lost a limb, hand or eye, and $100 in case of an accident resulting in death. The contractor says that James Fryer met with an accident in November, 1907, from which he died, but that the insurance company has made no settlement.

James Will Be Probated.

A petition that the will of the late Henry James be admitted to probate was filed in the County Court yesterday. The estate of James, who died October 18, will be probated at the home, at East Madison and Fourteenth streets, to the widow, Priscilla James, as well as all the stock of the deceased in the James Printing Company. Upon the death of the widow the home, together with the stock, is to go to Anna M. James, a daughter, if she is unmarried. In case she marries the dwelling is to be sold and the proceeds divided between her and Priscilla S. Stultz, another daughter. In case the firm will be divided, upon her mother's death, between her brothers, John H. James and Edward H. James.

Mrs. Alice E. Culver obtained a divorce from William W. Culver yesterday morning. Judge Morrow, in the Circuit Court, heard her complaint. HOW TO TAKE NOTES

Election Judges Are Given Full Instructions.

VOTING TENTS GO UP TODAY

Final Details Being Completed for Handling the Election Throughout Multnomah County—Tent-Pitching Crews in Field.

Letters of instruction were mailed by County Clerk Fields yesterday to the judges of election, in Multnomah County. In one of these attention is called to the fact that at the last election some judges wrote the names of "sworn in" voters in the precinct registers. The judges have been cautioned that this is not to be done.

Three gangs of men will begin erecting voting tents today. Although tomorrow night is Halloween it is believed Judge Gantenbein's warning to youngsters will serve to prevent their doing damage to the booths. If not, they will be held before the Juvenile Court.

The County Clerk's instructions to judges of election follow:

- 1. If you have an open box, open the boxes readily, by applying pressure to the bottom of the cover, they will generally open. Please return the keys of the ballot boxes and portable house in the inclosed envelope after locking the boxes and door. Do not put anything in boxes except the ballots and stubs.
2. If you will kindly comply with the following suggestions it will be appreciated:
1. Keep this letter before you on election day to see that each part of it receives attention.
2. Swear in each Election Board. The oaths for the first board will be found on the first page of poll books (only copies of two clerk's names are there; all three must sign, however). Oaths for the second board will be found on a separate sheet.
3. Return the supplies, etc., as follows: Put the ballots and stubs when strung, in the paper marked for same; seal with sealing wax. Also the rejected ballots in envelope marked for same; place them in ballot box, lock box and paste official seal over opening in top and keyhole; do not use sealing wax on box.
4. Place everything else in envelope marked for it and then place all except the ballot boxes, ink and statements in the canvas bag. Do not return the ink.
5. Post statements of results as by law required, bring a duplicate, not sealed, to me in envelope marked for the purpose.
6. This is for the public convenience. For a further explanation of these instructions, if judges will please comply with this request the result will be known as soon as the last returns are in.
7. Bring returns to office as soon as

EXPERT Advice Free

Do you stop to think what expert means? This is not used as a catch phrase, it means literally expert advice. Years of experience and special study devoted exclusively to the sensitive and delicate centers, makes it possible for me to qualify before any court in the world as an expert in diseases of men. If you need advice and it is better to get it in the beginning than in the end—action after it is too late to like rain after harvest. Keep your youth as long as possible, there is plenty of time to grow old. A good marksman is not known by his bullets but by his aim, and a good doctor should not be known so much by his claims as by the results he gets out of or in payment of his fee. The best that cackles loudest does not always lay the most eggs. Think these points over.

YOU NEED GOOD ADVICE

WHEAT LOOKING FOR A DOCTOR

Frequently an office is advertised in the "first person" when no such doctor lives in the state. If deception is attempted on this point look for it clear down the line. If you are not physically sound you ought to be, and it is better to do your duty in this respect than to wish it was done. We have the largest and most complete offices and equipment in the state, have been longer established, and furnish best bank and personal references. We treat people just as we would want them to treat us under similar circumstances and handle their cases on terms to best suit their convenience. A patient desiring treatment can pay cash or get dis-count or in payment of his bill, under any circumstances, and the benefit is plainly apparent or, if desired,
