Commissions Bill of Lading Effective on 146 Roads.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The new uniform bill of lading approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission went into effect on 16 railroads in the official classifica-tion territory yesterday. Hereafter every shipment of freight in the territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Oblo must be imade upon the basis of the new form, unless a shipper, objecting to the terms, agrees to pay le per cent mora than the regular freight. It was customary to charge 20 per cent extra on shipments not under the old bill of lading. The new form is believed to be universally acceptable. It has a distinctive color, yellow, adopted at the suggestion of the American Bankers' Association, for all 'Ordier' hills of lading, which are negotiable and enables a shipper to obtain an advance payment through a banker. The difficulty of fixing a definite negotiable and enables a shipper to ob-iain an advance payment through a banker. The difficulty of fixing a definite basis for the settlement of claims prior to shipment is also minimized. The Pennsylvania Railroad today announced that they had more than 10.000,000 copies of the new form printed. It is through bills of lading chiefly that a record is kept of the country's commercial ac-tivity.

PARISIANS CAUGHT RAISING MONEY IN DARK WAYS.

Pawndealers Swindled by One Coterie, While Another Manufactures Bad Coins.

PARIS. Oct. M.—(Special.)—A number of young men, assiduous in their attendance at pleasure resorts where the possession of money is a necessary qualification to enjoyment, now find themselves in trouble through lending themselves to a scheme for "raising the wind" devised by a man who laid himself out to exploit their financial needs. The scheme consisted in seiling to dealers pawn tickets which had been "washed" and the amounts increased. The young men who allowed their pawn tickets to be transformed in this way received a haif or a third of the sum collected.

A dealer in the Rue St. Lazare discovered that he had been swindled out of 43000. He lodged a complaint and the originator of the scheme and three men belonging to wealthy families were arrested.

The former counted on the families to pay the victims of the swindle and so escape a scandal. A General whose some is implicated in the affair has alread;

They are the sons of a County Councillor, an advocate, a business man and a doctor.

A search of their rooms at Asnieres and the Rue Victor Masse led to the discovery of spurious 19-franc pieces. The police, however, have not been able to prove whether any of these coins had been put into circulation.

All the same, the young men have been arrested. They declare that they have been denounced by one of their friends because they would not lend him money.

Some young and pretty women have been the victims of a clever swindler, and they in turn sought, unwittingly, it is true, to swindle certain money-changers in the center of the city. They presented bank notes admirably engraved and printed. They were in the name of the Republic of the United States of Iona and had a face value of "30 talents." The money-changers had some difficulty in convincing their occasional clients that the Republic of the United States of Iona did not exist. The notes had been presented to the young women by a "very distinguished" man. He cannot be prosecuted, since the presentation of spurious bank notes to simple deuil-mondaines does not constitute a forgery.

LOS ANGELES, Cal. Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Like a specter of the night, the to-horsepower Locomobile driven by J Murray Page, who had remained at the steering wheel 21 hours out of the 24, emerged from the darkness and sped across the tape at Ascot Park at 10 o'clock last night, winning the first 24-hour automobile race ever held on the Pacific Coast.

Pacific Coast.

The Locomobile had achieved a mileage of 916, the Frankiin, a six-cylinder roadster, driven by Guy Irwin, Ralph Hamilin and Jack Lowe, was a contender from start to finish and crossed the tape second, with a total mileage of 835 miles. A specially good showing was made by the Studebaker, which was third, with 629 mileage. The surprise of the race was the showing made by the little Reo Kiddo, driven by August Oberlin, which closed fourth, with 474 miles total. The Reo is a one-cylinder 19-horsepower machine. ylinder 10-horsepower machine.

M. and from 4 P. M. until 10 tonight.

The Blue Bird went out at 4:25 this morning, owing to two cylinders becoming cracked. At 7:15 tonight the Surset broke its left steering knuckle, crashed through the fence within sight of the grandstand, and turned completely around, alighting right-side up and neither injuring nor throwing out driver and mechanician. ### Diamonds for Prizes.

The race early simmered down to a contest between the Locomobile and the Franklin and up to 6 o'clock tonight there was but four miles difference. At that moment the Franklin, which was second, twisted its main shart off the differential, causing a delay of three hours.

The Locomobile and Franklin through the race, barring trouble, average a speed of a mile in 1:15. The feature of the race, aside from excitement and enthusiasm of the speciators, was the consistent

SOLDIERS TO WEAR GRAY

WARTIME UNIFORM SCHEME IS DISCUSSED IN GERMANY.

Present Apparel of Soldiers Too Highly Colored to Afford Protection to Men.

BERLIN. Oct. 31.—(Special.)—For some time past the German army administration has been considering the question of uniforms and accouterments in time of war. It has been iong recognized that in modern warfare the bright tunics of the different arms and regiments with their flashing helmets and swords, would be quite impracticable. For the infantry, therefore, a new uniform has been devised and is stated to be ready at the army clothing depots for use in time of war. The general tone color is gray, the tunic is loose-fitting, with dull bronze buttons and a double collar. The belt, etc., is brown. Every fifth man or so in the German army carries a spade, and the swords of the officers are dulled.

The problem of the cavalry uniform was more difficult. The principal objection in abolishing the heterogenous character; of the uniforms was that without the distinguishing marks the horse regiment would not be able to re-assemble quickly after a charse. But the case with which the enemy can discern at a distance the squat Capka of the Uhlan, the massive

But the ease with which the enemy can discern at a distance the squat Czapka of the Uhian, the massive brease helmets of the cuirassier, the lace alguilles of the Hussar, and the bright blue tunic of the dragoon, made the introduction of a less obtrusive pattern of uniform desirable. The cavalry, therefore, it is understood, will also be fitted out with gray uniforms, but out of difference to tradition each arm will preserve its traditional pattern of headgear, which will, however, have a gray casing. The artiflery will eventually also be fitted with the new uniform, but as in the case of the other arms, only for the case of the other arms, only for the time of war.

At present experiments are being made with a short bayonet for cavalry to replace the sword. Four cavalry to replace the sword. Four cavalry regiments are, by order of the Minister of War, now trying a shortened form of bayonet which may be fixed to the carbine. The lessons of recent wars have proved that the cavalry must have a more effective weapon than the carbine for use as mounted infantry. The new idea is probably taken from the Russian army, for the Russian dragoons carry rifles with long barriels to which bayonets may be fixed. At present a new carbine is being served out to the cavalry with a range up to 2000 meters. Each man will carry 75 cartridges in his belt.

Crown Princess Cecilie's Egg Contest Finally Brought to Close.

BERLIN, Oct. 31 .- (Special.) - A quaint ompetition was entered on about a year ago in Lichterfeid-East, an outlying district of Berlin. Its object was to discover the egg-laying capabilities of different breeds of hens, and the prize was a sum of $250, given by the Crown Princess Cecille. The competing breeds were Minorcas, Wyandottes and Rheinlanders, the last being a cross between the other two. A couple of purely Teutonic breeds also took part in the competition. Victory fell to the Rheinlanders, each of the breed having laid an average of 24 eggs monthly during the nine or ten months the competition lasted. This is no contemptible performance when compared with the 40 eggs per annum laid by the ordinary German hen. The food given during the competition was alternately corn and soft food, such as bran, pulverized dried fish and maize. The mortality among the 500 competitors was only 10 per cent. ago in Lichterfeld-East, an outlying dis-
