WATCHES SHOWN IN LA ROSE CASE

Harry Neuman Testifies That Timepieces Were in His Father's Store.

STATE SOON WILL CLOSE

Saloonkeeper Declares That Defendant Was Greatly Agitated Soon After Crime With Which He Is Charged.

The net of circumstantial evidence which the state has been endeavoring to weave about Jack La Rose for nearly a week, was almost complete yesterday afternoon. But the defense maintains there are many weak threads in the evidence, and has made frequent objections to its admission before the jury. The legal battle over the introduction or exclusion of all testimony relative to two watches, said to have been in La Rose's possession, which materially strengthens the case of the state, will be brought to a close this morning, and Judge Morrow will decide whether or not the testimony is to be considered.

Harry Neuman, son of Hyman Neuman, with whose murder La Rose is charged, was the star witness yesterday afternoon for the state. Although but 17 years old, the witness described accurately the manner in which his father's accounts of goods purchased were kept, and identified two watches as having been in his father's secondhand store, at Second and Couch streets in April. He said he was employed in the store daily after school hours in cleaning up and clerking.

Positive Watch Was Father's.

A small watch, apparently gold, was shown him, and he was asked by Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald if he had ever seen it before. He replied that he had, that it was in his father's showcase a week before the murder, which occurred May 12. Neuman dying May 13 at the hospital. The lad said that the watch was in a case about a foot square and two or three feet high, which was kept on the south side of the store near the door. He said that he had noticed the watch particularly because his father intended to present it to his daughter, but upon taking it to a jeweler for repairs, was informed that it was too cheap to be worth repairing. The boy said he knew it by its size and shape, by the number on the case, and by the works.

The boy was shown an account book and said his father entered therein every secondhand article purchased during 1907. The small watch, he said, was bought in September of that year. He was shown the particular entry in the book, and identified it.

Neuman was then shown a large brass watch, and said that his father had it in his showcase in April, the month before the murder. He identified this watch by the picture of an engine, engraved upon the back of the case.

James Signet, 22 years old, who lives with his brother at the foot of Main street, was the next witness. He said he bought the small watch at Second and Burnside streets in July, last year, and that he sold it to Neuman in September.

La Rose Was Much Excited.

Thomas Kinney, alias Charles Leondor, was called as a witness yesterday morning. Lester W. Humphreys, counsel for the defense, objected to his testimony on the ground that his true name was not entered upon the information which charges La Rose with crime. But upon Kinney's explanation that he was once a professional acrobat, and that Leondor is his stage name, Judge Morrow refused to exclude the testimony.

Kinney said that he conducted a saloon at Second and Ankeny streets on the day of the Neuman murder, and that about 11:15 A. M. La Rose entered the place in a nervous and excited condition and throwing a $10 gold piece on the counter said he wanted something to drink. Asked what he would have, La Rose is said to have replied, "Any old thing. I've been on a hell of a tear, and I'm all shot to pieces. I have just $10 and have been debating with myself whether to buy a revolver and kill myself or blow it in." Kinney testified that he persuaded La Rose not to drink, after the alleged murderer had informed Kinney that he had had nothing to eat for three days.

The witness said that he took La Rose to a back room and gave him a lunch. He was trying to sober La Rose up, he said, when someone entered and told of the Neuman murder. La Rose had been in the saloon a half hour then, he said, and when told of the assault on Neuman, answered: "Another man killed? I hadn't heard of it. It must be a fanatic, or else someone who has got it in for the Jews. They ought to kill all the Jews."

Kinney said La Rose then informed him that he must go to the Postoffice for some mail. The saloonkeeper told the man to come back if hungry. About 6 o'clock, said Kinney, La Rose returned, very drunk. He pulled out two watches, and was upbraided by the saloonkeeper, who told him he ought not to throw watches around like that. Kinney said yesterday that he took charge of the watches and told La Rose to return for them in the morning. He said La Rose then asked for money with which to get a shave, meals and a room.

Said He Bought Watches.

Detective Thomas Coleman told of a conversation which took place between La Rose and Detective Tichenor in the detective's room at the Police Station. He said that Captain Baty and Detective Jones were present. Coleman said La Rose was asked where he obtained the watches, and said that he obtained the small one in California two years before, and that he bought the large one on the streetcar for $1. The defense objected to the introduction of this testimony on the ground that La Rose was compelled to make the statement by threats of the detectives. The Court allowed it to go before the jury.

The state, through Mr. Fitzgerald, made an attempt yesterday morning to introduce in evidence a third watch, but this was ruled out by the Court.

M. Ostrow, a second-hand dealer who has a store at 44 Third street, was called as a witness yesterday morning. He said that his store extends through the block, and is near Neuman's place. When he heard that Neuman had been hurt he rushed in, and found the man standing between two tables, with his hands to his head. He said that Neuman did not recognize him, and that he went and called the police. He saw the gaspipe, wrapped in a newspaper, he said, lying on the floor in a pool of blood. The instrument of death was introduced in evidence yesterday.

City Physician Zeigler testified that the wounds on Neuman's head might have been caused by any edged instrument. They were not made, he said, by a flat instrument. Dr. Zeigler said that when he first saw Neuman after the assault the victim was sitting on a bench at the Police Station moaning. He said that although the second-hand dealer was in a dazed condition, he answered questions intelligently.

Although it was thought for a time that it would be possible to place the case in the hands of the jury this week, this will be impossible, for the state has not yet finished the introduction of testimony. John F. Logan and Max Cohen appear as special counsel for the state, while J. H. Upton and C. V. Howard are defending the accused man, in addition to Attorney Humphreys.

SEVEN WIVES ARE FREED

COURT SETS AT NAUGHT THE WORK OF CUPID.

Desertion Is Basis of Decrees in All Cases, While Three Also Charge Cruelty.

Seven divorces were granted to wives by Judge Gantenbein in the Circuit Court yesterday morning. Desertion was the ground for granting four decrees, and desertion and cruelty were charged in the other cases.

Carrie Blain said that her husband, W. R. Blain, accused her of being in love with his brother, seven years ago. She said that he nagged at her, and refused for days at a time to speak to her.

The couple left Albany, Or., last year, and last June were conducting the Alto Vista rooming-house in Portland. Mrs. Blain said that even under the changed surroundings her husband's jealousy was not appeased and that he told the lodgers of a man named Mack with whom he believed his wife had been keeping company. Mrs. Blain said that her husband is now at San Leandro, Cal. They were married at Albany, February 10, 1891, and have one child, a boy. The decree was granted.

Judge Gantenbein acted as interpreter in the case of Barbara Paukner against John Paukner. The questions were asked in German by the attorney, and the answers were translated by the court into English for the benefit of Deputy District Attorney Mosessohn and the stenographer.

Mrs. Paukner told how her husband abused her when he was intoxicated. She said they were living at Oregon City in 1903, and that he accused her of infidelity, and threatened to shoot her and the rest of the family. Her son placed the gun, for which Paukner had obtained cartridges, beyond his reach, she said. Later it became necessary to have Paukner arrested and placed in the County Jail. Mrs. Paukner said she had tried to reform her wayward spouse, but without avail. She married him in Austria in 1882. She was given a divorce, with $30 a month allmony and $75 attorney's fees.

Lilah M. Andrus testified that her husband, Elmer M. Andrus, is a mining man, owning about $20,000 worth of property. She said she married him in Portland, November 15, 1905, and that in September, two years later, he deserted her. She said he neglected to support her. She was given a divorce, with $250 allmony, and permitted to resume her former name, Hamilton.

Ida Cook was given a divorce from William A. Cook, after telling how her husband struck her while they lived at Linnton. She said she fled from the house. They were married at Hanistique, Mich., January 5, 1904.

Belle Hooker was married to James Hooker at Lake Preston, S. D., December 5, 1900, and deserted the following month, she said. She was given a divorce.

Emma Patterson said that Herbert Patterson remained away from home until a late hour one night, and that when he returned and she asked for an explanation of his conduct, he left in a rage. That was in August, 1906, and she has not seen him since, she said. They were married at Seattle, December 29, 1904.

Louise M. Wilkins was married to Welty M. Wilkins, August 3, 1907, and deserted the following day. She was granted a divorce.

W. E. Wren has filed suit in the Circuit Court to obtain a divorce from Cora E. Wren. He says she deserted him in September, 1907. They were married at Nellieville, Wis., December 24, 1904.

Lafe Pence Is Sued.

John Johnson has brought suit in the Circuit Court against Lafe V. Pence, Jessie B. Pence, R. S. Howard, receiver of the defunct Title Guarantee & Trust Company, and the Colonial Investment Company, to foreclose a mortgage on 90 acres which Johnson says he sold to Pence for $1800. The latter gave a note and mortgage for half this sum, and conveyed the property to the Title bank. Johnson also sues for $6.65 taxes, which he says he has paid, and $150 attorney's fees.

Alleges Threats of Killing.

Anna J. Burt has filed a divorce suit in the Circuit Court against R. E. Burt, in which she accuses him of giving her a black eye, tearing her waist, breaking the dishes, getting drunk, knocking her down and threatening several times to kill her. She wishes to resume her former name, Burton, and to have $25 a month allmony. They were married in November, 1906.

Sue for Realty Commission.

C. B. Webb, F. B. Lacy and Clara H. Zimmerman have brought suit in the Circuit Court against the Columbia Trust Company to obtain $4873 commission, which they allege is due them because they brought about the sale of 134½ acres of land in Multnomah County.

Actors Change Companies.

Two more members of the company that made the French stock company popular at the Star Theater last season are to join the Blunkall forces at the Lyric. Kathleen Taylor and C. Clayton-Burnison are to make their appearance about the middle of the month at the Lyric and are sure to be welcomed back to Portland. In the meantime "Dick" French is doing a fine business in Seattle.

We make the best suit in the city to order for $25; let us prove it. Unique Tailoring Company, 309 Stark, between Fifth and Sixth.

KEEP RIVER CLEAR

Timbers Must Not Be Dumped in Current, Says Speier.

FIRST ARREST IS MADE

J. Dilson, Foreman of Contractor's Workmen, Is Taken in Custody for Menacing Small Craft in Local Harbor.

J. Dilson, foreman for G. I. Marshall, has been arrested by Harbormaster Speier for throwing timbers into the river from the Washington street dock. Dilson will be brought before the Municipal Court this morning to answer the charge. The man under arrest is in the employ of G. I. Marshall, who has the contract for the repairs to the Central dock at the foot of Washington street, which was recently destroyed by fire.

In tearing away the burned timber Dilson, it is charged, directed that the timbers be thrown into the river. Many were heavy and were a serious menace to navigation. Captain Speier looked into the matter and decided forcibly to restrain Dilson.

Small steamers and gasoline craft, operating in the commercial business of the harbor, have been seriously handicapped by the throwing of timbers into the river. Contractors who object to paying for the hauling away of old timber have been wont to dump stuff into the river. The harbormaster says that the practice must stop.

Col. S. W. Roessler Is Sustained.

The last issue of the Army and Navy Register has the following to say on the action of Colonel S. W. Roessler, in allowing extra pay for work performed on Saturday afternoons:

Lieutenant-Colonel S. W. Roessler, corps of engineers, United States Army, had charge of the disbursements on account of public works at Portland, Or., during August and September, 1907. There was a disallowance made of over $500 on account of additional pay made to employes of the engineer corps for work performed on Saturday afternoons. Upon the presentation of the facts in the case the acting Controller of the Treasury holds that there was an oral agreement entered into and that the men so worked were to be credited with one and one-half days' work at the rate per day or month they were receiving, and, under such circumstances, the full amount should be allowed in settlement of the officer's accounts. The matter was before him in April last and at that time there was nothing submitted to show any agreement or obligation on the part of the Government to pay for the extra work.

The name of each begins with O.

WANT SCHOOL REMOVED

RESIDENTS OBJECT TO TONGUES OF FIRE INSTITUTION.

Ask Health Officer to Inspect Plan at East Pine and East Twelfth. Noises Keep Neighbors Awake.

Property-owners and residents are anxious that some steps be taken for removing to some other part of the city the school and settlement of the "Tongues of Fire" people established on East Pine street. In the dwelling on the northwest corner of East Pine and East Twelfth streets these people have started a school, attended by a considerable number of boys and girls. This is not particularly objectionable, but at the southeast corner of East Thirteenth and Pine streets is another dwelling occupied by these people and their presence and actions are highly objectionable to the residents in adjacent houses. A short time ago so much noise was kept up in this house by the inmates at all hours of the night that, on complaint of neighbors, a policeman called and warned the religionists that they would have to keep quiet. Since then there has not been quite so much noise, but there is enough still to make a nuisance, it is said, and uncanny and nerve-racking moans and groans are heard here at night. Another settlement of the same sort is in a house on the southwest corner of East Fifteenth and Pine streets, tributary to this school.

Owners of property in the immediate vicinity have to stand the annoyance, but renters are preparing to move away as soon as they can do so. An appeal will be made to the East Side Business Men's Club to help eliminate this settlement from this residence district. Residents declare that no such settlement should be allowed on sanitary grounds and ask that the Health Office inspect the building occupied by these people. An effort will be made to convince owners of the property rented to them that they are depreciating the value, not only of their own property, but other property in the neighborhood. All who can will move out of the neighborhood before long, according to the statements of the renters, but property-owners cannot do this. Rev. John Glasco seems superintendent of the settlement and school.

J. M. Woodworth, a resident and property-owner, said yesterday: "All sorts of rough-looking people are brought to the house on East Thirteenth and Pine streets. They appear to have been picked up from the slums, and I don't think the place is clean. It certainly does not seem so from the outside. I think the only way to get rid of these people is through the owners of the property which they rent. I further consider it the duty of the Health Officer to inspect the houses occupied by these people. Our public schools are inspected, but here is a collection of children without such inspection."

CURES ECZEMA QUICKLY

New Drug, Poslam, Now Obtainable in Small Quantities.

Since its discovery one year ago the new drug, poslam, has successfully cured thousands of chronic cases of eczema and other distressing skin afflictions. Heretofore poslam has been dispensed solely for the benefit of eczema patients in large jars sufficient for a month's treatment. This was found to be an inconvenience to many thousands who use it for minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., which require but a small quantity to cure. To overcome this, and in response to urgent appeals, the dispensers of poslam have been obliged to adopt, in addition to the regular two-dollar package, a special fifty-cent size, which in future may be found on sale at the Skidmore Drug Co., and other leading drug stores, in Portland, or may be ordered direct from the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West 25th Street, New York City. In all eczema cases poslam stops itching with first application and proceeds to heal immediately; chronic cases being cured in two weeks. In less serious skin troubles, results are seen after an overnight application.

Samples for experimental purposes may still be had, free of charge, by writing to the laboratories for them.

CURE YOURSELF OF INDIGESTION AND ALL MISERY FROM STOMACH

Put An End to Stomach Trouble Forever So You Can Eat Favorite Foods Without Dread.

Some people think they have Indigestion, others Catarrh of the Stomach, others Nervousness, Cancer or Dyspepsia, etc. Call it this if you will, but the real name for your trouble is Food Fermentation, with only partial digestion. Everything you eat turns to either Acid, Stomach gas or Stomach poison, which weaken the digestive organs, causing a lack of gastric juice. Your food sours, is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, burning sensation, a feeling of vomiting, heartburn, water brash and tenderness in the pit of the stomach, slimy tongue, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, nausea, belching of gas, dizziness, sick headaches, mental depression and many other common symptoms.

You can cure all this by not eating, by not putting any food in your stomach to ferment; but how about the nourishment needed to sustain your bodily strength? If you are a stomach sufferer, either man or woman, young or old, whether you call it Indigestion or any other name, go now to your druggist and give 50 cents for a case of Pape's Diapepsin.

Every possible kind of Stomach trouble is readily cured by Diapepsin, which takes right hold of the food in your stomach and digests it alone, without the help of the stomach, just as if your stomach wasn't there.

After a few days' use of Diapepsin your Stomach will again be in good working order, your meals will thoroughly digest and your intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will have no use for laxatives or liver regulators.

VARICOCELE

Cannot be cured with electric belts or electricity in any form. Such claims are the purest kind of fatuous absurdity when not down right wilfulness. I have repeatedly offered large sums for proof of such cures and such proofs would be worth tons of argument.

Neither can it be cured by lotions or internal medicines. In rare cases it can be cured by the ligature methods, but this is painful, slow and uncertain.

It can be cured by going to a hospital for operation, but this plan entails the use of chloroform, nurse hire, big expense and loss of time. There is just one to cure varicocele, and it is the best, safest and most successful, does not involve a single objectionable feature, no going to bed, no pain, no chloroform and positively no bad results. The patient can resume any kind of hard work after 7 to 14 days, and is not required to even stay in his room during this time. The organs are at once relieved of tax, normal circulation is promptly re-established and the patient restored to a condition of

SENSIBLE, PRACTICAL WAY

HEALTH, SNAP AND VITALITY.

If you want a real, prompt, perfect and reliable cure of Varicocele without pain or confinement to your room, is it not about time to commence looking at the logical, practical, and plain fact side of it? If I could be paid one-half the money that is spent on these fake electrical appliances, that positively never cured a single well developed case in a hundred years, I would be willing to treat and cure every case of Varicocele in the state free.
