

FISHERMEN WILL MEET IN SEATTLE

Laws for Protection of Salmon to Be Prepared for Enactment.

HOLD FREE DISCUSSION

Men Prominent in Industry Go From Oregon to Meet With Washington Commission in Endeavor to Settle Controversies.

Several Oregonians prominently associated with the fishing industry of this state, leave today for Seattle, where tomorrow they will attend a meeting of the Washington Fisheries Commission, appointed recently by Governor Mead. The commission was named for the purpose of inquiring into the fishing situation and to prepare laws for the protection of the industry to be submitted at the meeting of the Washington Legislature this winter. The commission consists of men who are interested in the fishing industry in all parts of Washington. H. S. McGowan, a prominent lower river canneryman, is chairman of the commission.

Governor Chamberlain was requested to appoint a similar commission in this state, but he declined, feeling that to do so might be construed as an unwarranted usurpation of the functions of the State Legislature. At the time and in explanation of his action, Governor Chamberlain urged that public sentiment had attained a position which would demand of the Legislature remedial legislation relating to the Columbia fisheries for the actual protection of the industry, regardless of the interests of the upper or the lower river fishermen, and without the interference or suggestion of any commission which might be named.

Among those who will attend the conference at Seattle are: J. R. Burke, of Cathlamet, Wash., president of the Trappers' Union and Representative-elect to the Washington Legislature; Ed Rosenberg, of Astoria, both being members of the Washington Fisheries Commission; Henry O'Malley, United States Superintendent of Fisheries in this state; H. C. McAllister, Master Fish Warden for Oregon, who has been instructed to attend the Seattle meeting by the State Board of Fisheries; Commissioner of Fisheries, of the Dalles; F. M. Warren and Silvester Farrell of this city. R. W. Montague or J. N. Teal, members of the Oregon committee, will also accompany the party from this state.

Among the subjects to be discussed at Seattle are: Closed season, bar wheel and trap fishing, hatcheries and hatchery work. Concerning Columbia River fishing and the future of the salmon industry, the approaching meeting at Seattle is regarded as of the utmost importance to the industry. The recent middle developed from the attempt to enforce an Oregon law enacted by initiative by the voters of this state and presuming to exercise jurisdiction over the Columbia River from shore to shore, has awakened the people of both states to the necessity for enacting uniform legislation in both states for the control of fishing in the Columbia River. It is confidently expected by Oregonians that the Seattle conference will result on some systematic method of procedure, agreeable to both states, and which in its operations will give to the industry the protection that has been denied through the constant warfare that has been waged by the interests of the upper and the lower river.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the Oregon Commission, which is considering fishery legislation, held an informal meeting at the Imperial Hotel last night. By those who understand the fishing industry, the propagation of salmon is considered just as essential as the enactment of laws for its protection. A great many of the representatives of the fishing interests in Oregon and Washington have not been satisfied with the manner the hatcheries have been operated, feeling that proper results have not been produced.

"As to the probable result of Wednesday's conference I cannot predict. The scope of its work would be determined by the members of the commission in Washington have always been entirely willing to co-operate with the fishermen on the opposite side of the Columbia in all reasonable legislation looking to the protection of the industry, but the trouble has been that you Oregon people have wanted to dictate everything and the result has been that the desired ends have not been reached.

"At this time, however, there exists a general feeling that the two states should agree on uniform legislation and have the same enacted at the coming legislative sessions. I hope the representatives of the two states can reach an agreement on the subject."

Hawthorne Puts Up Game Exhibition, but Is Outclassed in Team-work—Much Punting Used in Gaining Ground by Both.

Yesterday's game between the teams from the Hawthorne and Stephens schools in the Grammar School League, at East Thirteenth and East Davis streets, resulted in a 14-to-5 victory for Stephens, after one of the most exciting games of the year.

Except at the beginning of the game the Hawthorne team made no attempt to stop the rushes of the Stephens' backs. It was a case of a better-coached team against one full of nerve and determination, but lacking in smoothness of team work.

For the losers, Quarter-back Cobb, who is a brother of the Cobb at Portland Academy, bids fair to follow in his brother's path and should develop into an excellent high school quarter.

The Franquette

Is the variety of WALNUT we will plant

"Down on the Farm"

AT

Riverside Orchards

There is one point on which all growers unite in regard to the variety of walnut to be planted in Oregon and that is, they must be the LATE BLOOMING VARIETY.

THE FRANQUETTE, while originally a French variety, has become known in Oregon commercially as

THE ENGLISH WALNUT

Being a late bloomer, it escapes the Spring frosts. It is VERY HARDY. This means that it requires little or no care. It is PROFITABLE. This means big crops and large incomes. It is FREE FROM DISEASE. This means no spraying.

THE FRANQUETTE is a very large walnut, rather oblong, being pointed at apex and slightly flattened at the base. The shell is medium to thin, well sealed and thick enough to ship well. The quality is excellent, having a sweet, rich, nutty flavor. The kernel is plump, filling the shell.

SUMMING UP:

The Jacobs-Stine Company are planting the best variety of walnut obtainable. A walnut that will bring from two to four cents a pound more than the imported nuts. The same thing applies to everything in connection with the Riverside Orchard Tracts.

THE BEST IS NONE TOO GOOD

A small tract can be obtained now for a very small payment down and only $5.00 per acre each month. Eleven tracts sold yesterday. Call while the good ones last. Our illustrated pamphlet is free for the asking.

LOW VITALITY

A Dangerous Attendant Symptom of Anæmia.

Many Serious Disorders May Result from Impoverished Blood but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Prevent and Cure Them.

Besides the thinning of the blood in anæmia there is a low vitality which is a matter for serious consideration because it gives opportunity for any latent trouble to develop. Thus, anæmic (bloodless) people often have reason to fear consumption, and the blood failing to give proper nourishment to the nerves, debility, neuralgia, and even some form of paralysis may result.

Mrs. R. L. Harrod, of 418 South Ohio avenue, Muskegon, Ind., recommends Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because they restored her to health when all other medicines failed. "Fifteen years ago," she says, "when I was living at Bellefontaine, Ohio, I was suffering with anæmia. I was pale and had a wax-like color and was so short of breath that I couldn't go up stairs without stopping to rest or couldn't stand the least little exertion. I was run down and very thin, didn't feel like eating and didn't want to talk to or see anyone. My heart would palpitate so that I would feel weak. I couldn't sleep well, coughed constantly and had pains under my shoulders. I was so miserable that I wanted to die.

"The doctors told me that my blood was turning into water, and that I was going into a decline and I asked me if there had been any consumption in my family. They didn't help me at all and I had read so much about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I decided to try a box of them. They helped me so much that I gave up all other medicines and pinned my faith to them alone. I took several boxes and in a few weeks was completely restored to health. I became strong and healthy and was able to work again. I know Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my life and I heartily recommend them."

A helpful booklet, "Diseases of the Blood" giving more information about anæmia will be sent free upon request. If you are suffering from impoverished blood you cannot afford to wait another day before giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a thorough trial. They are for sale by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schoenectady, N. Y.
