With Gaspee Not Admitted and Testimony Disallowed, Prosecution Is Content.

WRANGLE OVER EVIDENCE

Attorneys on Both Sides Fight About Admission of Testimony—Interpreter Has to Be Secured for Russian Witness.

Although Judge Morrow ruled in favor of the defense yesterday morning that the gaspee with which Jack La Rose assaulted John Chong, a Chinese tailor, may not be admitted in evidence, the jury practically all the evidence connecting La Rose with the assault on the witness.

DISCUSSION OVER IDENTIFICATION

Hermann said yesterday afternoon that La Rose beat him on the head with a bludgeon wrapped in paper, which was a red wax candle. The witness was asked to explain how he came to point to La Rose as his assailant.

RUSSIAN IDENTIFIES LA ROSE

Tonken said that he saw La Rose standing in front of Hermann's store, which is near Hyman Neuman's place, on May 11, a short time before the assault. The witness said that he went to Hermann's place with a police officer, and that he talked to Hermann as they stood near the door.

CHINAMAN TESTIFIES AGAIN

Chong said that on May 13 La Rose entered the tailorshop of the Celestial at 243 Ankeny street, saying that he wanted a suit of clothes. Chong said he asked La Rose what he was doing with the gaspee, and that the latter replied that he was working for the gas company.

TYPE OF PAY-AS-YOU-ENTER CARS TO BE USED ON PORTLAND LINES

PORTLAND RAILWAY, LIGHT & POWER COMPANY WILL SOON TRY NEW ROLLING-STOCK ON SIXTEENTH AND TWENTY-THIRD-STREET DIVISIONS.

The first consignment of pay-as-you-enter cars received by the street railway company last week is at the Washington-street car-barns, being prepared for service on the Sixteenth and Twenty-third-street lines. These cars in general appearance differ but slightly from the regular cars used on the Washington-street line. The chief difference is in the arrangement of the vestibules at the ends of the car. One corner of this section is raised off, and behind this the conductor takes his position. The only entrance to the car is within a few feet of this barrier, so that all passengers entering the car must pass the conductor. In this way, he is able to secure the fare without leaving the car immediately behind this position, so that the conductor is able, without leaving the car, to prevent passengers from entering at that point, thereby escaping payment of fares. The vestibule of the car is so constructed that it can be closed by the conductor on the opposite side of the car, leaving the station, after a passenger has alighted. The present arrangement follows as to their management. Both vestibules are thrown back, and the same method follows as to their management. There are no seats in the vestibules, and the conductor requires more room for his operations, there are no seats in the vestibules of the cars. The aisle in the body of the car is considerably wider than the aisles in the regular cars. The present arrangement consists of five cars. Another consignment is expected in the near future, and as soon as these can be prepared they will be put into service.

VENTS HIS SPITE

H. C. King Thrashes Deputy City Attorney Grant.

SAYS HE WILL DO IT AGAIN

Lays Disbarment Proceedings Against Him to Kavanaugh's Oppression and Threatens to Whip Every Man Connected.

REGRETS HE WAS STOPPED

"I thrashed this man Grant and my only regret is that I was stopped before I thrashed him again," King told the police. "But I will get at him again. I am going to thrash him every time I see him. I intend to thrash his chief and his men in the office. They've hounded me as long as they are going to. It's all for political reasons and I don't intend to stand it."

DETECTIVE HAWLEY INTERFERES

The encounter occurred about 4 o'clock. King had seen the Deputy City Attorney go into the Chamber of Commerce block and waited for him to emerge. As Grant came out, King accosted him. "How about that disbarment proceeding against me—I'm out about $2000," King said. Mr. Grant remarked that there would be more cost to pay before the case was set, and kept on his way. King followed, and getting no satisfaction from his questions, struck Grant and tripped him at the same instant.

S.S.S. REMOVES THE CAUSE OF CATARRH OF UTERUS

No remedy that does not entirely remove the cause of Catarrh from the blood will ever make a permanent cure of the trouble. Just as long as the circulation remains contaminated with the impurities and catarrhal matters which produce the trouble, the mucous membranes or inner linings of the body will be kept in a state of irritation and disease. Sprays, lotions and other local applications will sometimes temporarily relieve the tight, full feeling in the head, buzzing noises in the ears, uncomfortable, stuffy feeling of the nostrils, and help to loosen the mucus in the throat; but Catarrh is a constitutional blood disorder and until it has been entirely driven from the system there can be no permanent cure. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by removing the cause from the blood. It attacks the disease at its head and by thoroughly purifying and cleansing the circulation, and ridding it of every particle of impurity, and at the same time enriching the blood, allows the inflamed and irritated membranes to heal, improves the general health, and stops every disagreeable symptom. S. S. S. reaches down to the very bottom and leaves no trace of the disease in the system. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write.
