THE LAST AFRICAN SLAVE IN OREGON, PORTLAND, Nov. 10.—(To the Editor): A case of would-be slavery in Oregon, may, I think, be cited still later than those given in the Oregonian of this date by "A. C."

AMUSEMENTS—What the Press Agents Say.

"Paid in Full" Twice Today. These will be two performances at the Heilig Theater today. A special matinee will be given at 2:15 o'clock and the last time tonight at 8:15.

"Sky Farm" at the Bungalow. William Dille, Howard Russell, William Gleason, Maribel Seymour and Miss Gleason have some greater party this week in the popular Baker Stock Company's production of "Sky Farm," which is being seen here for the first time since Edward Kidder, author of the Sol Smith Russell plays, and is his latest success.

"Little Alabama" at the Lyric. A play which makes a strong appeal to all classes of theatergoers is "Little Alabama," a beautiful Southern comedy-drama in which the Blunkall company is distinguishing itself this week. It is one of the big dramatic treats of the season, and you will be very foolish if you don't see it. There will be a matinee tomorrow.

"Brown's in Town." No doubt the best popular price attraction traveling on the coast this season is the "Brown's in Town." This comedy ever written, "Brown's in Town." This comedy was written for laughing purposes and it certainly fills the bill for it is a roar and a scream from the time the curtain goes up on the first act.

"The Man on the Box." Manager Baker, of the Bungalow, has secured the rights to Max Figman's great success, "The Man on the Box," in this city at popular prices, and this comedy feat will be fully enjoyed next week when the Baker Stock Company will produce it. Sydney Ayres will play the rich young man who poses as chauffeur, and Miss Jewel the girl for whom he undergoes so much.

"Little Johnny Jones" Coming. George M. Cohan's "Little Johnny Jones," so well and favorably known to theatergoers, will return to this city next week, playing at the Baker. It is being presented this season by one of the best companies ever sent out in it and has been received with ovations everywhere. Among the hits are "Yankee Doodle Boy," "Give My Regards to Broadway," "Life's a Funny Proposition After All," and "They're All My Friends."

"East Lynne" Next. Commencing Sunday afternoon the popular Blunkall company will proffer a fine performance and production of that everlasting favorite, "East Lynne." This play will afford Miss Wanda Howard unusual opportunities to display her versatile dramatic talents. All the other members of the cast will have strong parts. It is a play that everyone, young and old, should see. Remember the opening Sunday afternoon.

"Too Proud to Beg" Coming. "Too Proud to Beg," Lincoln J. Carter's thrilling melodrama, will be the attraction at the Star Theater, week commencing Sunday matinee, November 18. It is a play of sensational stirring incidents, well developed climaxes, real and original humor, clever dialogue and dramatic situations.

Marionettes Coming. Mrs. Kessely's Pantoche Theater Marionettes will be seen at the Orpheum at the Grand next week. This is the most marvelous marionettes performance before the public. Every scene is directed by the dancers and comedians, will be on the bill with their famous burlesque, "The Dimple Sisters."

Felice Morris at Orpheum. Miss Felice Morris, daughter of the late Felly Morris, will be seen at the Orpheum next week in "The Old, Old Story." To give a synopsis of this little playlet here would be anticipating some of the pleasure patrons of the Orpheum will have in seeing it. Suffice to say it has a unique plot; it is new and contains many bright and pleasing lines.
