tures adverse to it as pointed out by him, are a crack in the southeast abutment wing and a few small cracks in the railings. These, he declares, are immaterial, but he merely specified them so that the committee would have all of the details before making any inspection.

Major Lane was averse to discussing the matter, but admitted that it is a problem for the committee to solve. He said the bridge looks like the required sum of money called for by the specifications has been expended in its construction, but that the work appears amateurish, and that a further examination by an expert must be had before anything definite can be done. One peculiar feature in connection with the bridge, it is found, is that it was built at the widest place in that portion of the gulch, and therefore cost the property-owners much more than it would have cost to build it elsewhere.

Circuit Court Tuesday morning. It was Tickey's contention that in a fracas August 14 he did not draw the rusty revolver which he had in his pocket.

Other witnesses that he did.

Rev. J. F. Ghoramley Will Preside and Judge George Will Make Principal Address.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the cornerstone of the new edifice of the Central Christian Church, corner East Salmon and East Twentieth streets, will be laid with appropriate ceremonies.

Dr. J. G. Swenson, with offices in the Medical building, was not so fortunate. He knew that he would be called upon to put up his $2 and made three trips to the City Auditor's office to pay his tax.

Each time he was armed with his diploma and other credentials, but on each visit he could not find anyone to take his money. He even broke the glass in the frame that held his diploma, taking out the paper in order to cart it to the City Hall. Dr. Swenson, in spite of the fact that he had paid the tax, was not only arrested, but fined $5 by Judge Van Zante.

Dr. Smith, president of the society, was surprised when informed that the physicians had been fined and intimated that Judge Van Zante had been unnecessarily severe. In speaking of the wholesale arrests of the doctors and dentists, Dr. Smith said:

"The ordinance was introduced and passed at the suggestion of the Medical Society, but it was intended for those men who practiced medicine illegally. I do not remember whether the ordinance provided that doctors and dentists be notified of the ordinance in advance. I know I was not notified and I would have been notified with the rest had not someone reminded me of it. I am surprised that the doctors were fined. It doesn't seem exactly right and it will work an unnecessary hardship on the younger members of the profession. Undoubtedly the matter will come up at the regular meeting of the society."

The outcome of the matter undoubtedly will result in the society retaining a lawyer. Several physicians are of the opinion that the ordinance is illegal as it now reads. They hold that the city cannot put a price on brains.

The foundation of concrete and sandstone for the new edifice has been completed. It will take a year to erect the building. The auditorium will seat 2000 people, and is arranged that every one can see the speaker. The estimated cost will be $20,000. Rev. Mr. Ghoramley, who founded the Central Christian Church, for more than 25 years has been building churches, both in the East and the West. This one will be the second church he has built in Portland. H. S. Smith, Lewis Montgomery, C. H. Chambers and D. J. McGowan are the building committee. Work will go forward till the building is finished.
