BIGGEST CROP SOLD

McLaughlin's Hops Bought by Carmichael.

SIXTEEN HUNDRED BALES

Price Paid for the Famous Independence Lot Is 8 1-4 Cents. Horst Buying Close to the Top of the Market.

The largest crop of hops in Oregon, that of C. A. McLaughlin, at Independence, amounting to 1640 bales, was sold yesterday to Jack Carmichael, of Salem, representative of Wigan, Richardson & Co., of London, at 8¼ cents.

The news of the transaction caused no little excitement in the local and Salem trade. Aside from the magnitude of the deal and the full price realized on the lot, the fact that Carmichael is operating was in itself of much interest. There have been several rumors heretofore during the season of Wigan, Richardson & Co. buying, but they proved unfounded, and, so far as known, yesterday's purchase was the first made by Carmichael since the 1908 crop was in the bale.

Wigan, Richardson & Co. are the largest hop dealers in the world, and they annually take many thousands of bales out of this state. Carmichael's movements always have more or less effect on the market, and his big buy at Independence naturally adds to the strength of values. It will probably make general buying less easy for other dealers, especially in the sections in which he usually operates.

The E. C. Horst Company continues to buy for the foreign market. Agents of the firm yesterday paid 8⅝ cents for two lots at Independence, those of Sloper & Patten, 80 bales, and Joe Hubbard, 82 bales.

SALES AT MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE

One Thousand Tons of Barley and 500 Tons of Wheat Change Hands.

Two good-sized grain deals went through at the Merchants' Exchange yesterday, one of 1000 tons of barley and the other of 500 tons of red wheat.

The market for coarse grains was very firm. There was a good California demand for oats, but it was difficult to buy from first hands. Efforts made to secure supplies in the Nez Perce country, where a reserve can usually be counted upon, were unsuccessful. White oats were quoted in the local market on the basis of $31@31.50 per ton. There was also a good inquiry for barley, but offerings were very light. Feed barley was quoted firm at $26.50 per ton.

The wheat market holds its own in spite of the lack of export demand. There is a fair local movement, with a better inquiry from California for strong club, milling bluestem and turkey red. Cables reported cargoes steady but inactive at 37s 6d. Options at Liverpool were about steady. December wheat at Chicago closed unchanged from the previous day.

Local receipts as reported by the Merchants' Exchange were:

CHICKEN TRADE IS SLUGGISH.

All Other Kinds of Poultry in Demand. Eggs Very Firm.

There have been very heavy receipts of chickens for several days, and as buyers are inclined to hold back the market is weak around 12½ cents. Some stock was carried over yesterday. The demand for everything else in the poultry line was strong and full prices were quoted.

Eggs were active and very firm, with strictly fresh Oregon stock quoted at 40 cents, though some sales were reported at 37½ cents. There is only a moderate supply of Eastern eggs now on the market and to this cause the firmness of the general market can be ascribed. As eggs in the East are held at stronger prices, there is no likelihood of this market going back.

There were no new developments in the butter trade. Most of the city creameries are quoting 36 cents on their best make, but some are still holding at 35 cents. Outside creamery is being offered rather more freely. Cheese prices were unchanged.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS FROM YAKIMA.

Output for the Season Is Valued at $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—North Yakima has shipped 600 cars of apples this Fall and there are 300 more to go. Of the earlier fruits, such as apricots, cherries, plums, peaches and early pears, there were shipped 400 cars. These figures are for this one station alone. The shipments from other stations in the valley amount to 400 cars of early fruits, and nearly 600 cars of apples. It is estimated that there are about 300 cars in storage at these substations. The total fruit output from the valley will therefore be something like 2500 carloads for the season, representing a value of from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

The number of fruit trees planted in the valley has been estimated at 4,000,000, not over 8 per cent of which are yet in bearing. With these figures in mind an experienced fruit man here places the output of the valley in ten years from now at 25,000 cars.

The potato crop for the season is 20,000 tons.

HOLIDAY DEMAND FOR FRUIT.

Active Movement in Oranges and Cranberries—Vegetables Steady.

In spite of the stormy weather, trade was quite good in the fruit and vegetable line. The Holiday demand is beginning to make itself felt, and country orders of this description, especially, are increasing. The city Holiday trade should be heavy next week.

Oranges were the feature of the fruit market. There was a good demand for all kinds, well colored stock commanding $3.50 and others selling at $2@3.25. The supply of apples is much in excess of present requirements. Grapes are dull and the season for this fruit is drawing to a close. Cranberries move freely.

Vegetables were in adequate supply and generally steady in price.

Alfalfa Mill at Wapato.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Machinery has arrived for the new alfalfa meal mill to be established in Wapato by Daugherty & Murphy, of Portland, and it is expected to have the mill running by December 1. Before leaving for Portland Mr. Murphy purchased 1000 tons of alfalfa in stack, and is in the market for 2000 tons more. The mill will have a capacity of 40 or 50 tons a day and can handle the hay loose. The equipment will cost about $15,000.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK MARKET.

Prices Current Locally on Cattle, Sheep and Hogs.

Except in the case of sheep the supply of livestock is coming in sufficient for the home demand and prices are holding steady. The quality of the receipts is generally satisfactory, most of it ranging from fair to medium in grade.

Sheep arrivals, however, are under requirements and the market is, therefore, strong in tone and tending upwards. The supply in the country is known to be light and the scarcity is likely to continue.

Receipts yesterday were 150 cattle and 450 hogs.

The following prices were current on livestock in the local market yesterday:

CATTLE—Best steers, $3.75@4; medium, $3.25@3.50; common, $3@3.25; cows, best, $2.75@3; medium, $2.50@2.75; common, $2@2.50; calves, $3.50@4.50.

SHEEP—Best wethers, $3.50@3.75; mixed, $3; ewes, $2.50@2.75; lambs, best trimmed, $4@4.25; untrimmed, $3.50@3.75.

HOGS—Best, $6@6.25; medium, $5.25@5.75; feeders not wanted.

CHANGES NARROW

But Stock Prices Fluctuate Constantly at New York.

VOLUME OF TRADE LIGHTER

Demand Evidently Satisfied to Some Extent—Artificial Appearance of the Market—Support Is Not Aggressive.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—A constant fluctuation of prices in the market was the principal feature of the dealings in stocks today. The fluctuations were narrower than has been the rule of late and the volume of dealings also was smaller, the day's sales falling to near the 1,000,000 share limit.

That the demand for stocks has been satisfied to some extent is indicated by the diminished activity. While the operations of the professionals have been a subject of some suspicion and of allegations of manipulation to further the distribution of holdings, their decrease has a rather ominous effect on speculative sentiment. The dealings have been attributed to the initiative of the large capital interests who were credited with accumulating stocks far back in anticipation of the growing demand which has since developed. While a degree of artificiality was recognized in these manipulative operations, they were accepted, nevertheless, as evidence of the continued interest in the market of the capitalists and institutions of first-class resources.

This was regarded as an insurance of continued protection of prices by supporting orders when any weakness developed, and of fostering measures for extending the advance in which the speculative followers might hope to benefit. The reduction of this kind of activity leaves an apprehension that the large operators have practically completed their speculative campaign by the distribution of such part of their holdings as they desire to realize on. It is feared that the market will be left vulnerable, therefore, to organized professional attacks.

There were signs that support of prices had not been abandoned today, but it was less aggressive than the recent rule, and was facilitated by the covering of shorts put out on the decline yesterday.

The day's news offered no explanation of the price movement. The board room traders lay some stress on the announcement of an issue of $30,000,000 of Panama Canal bonds as a possible ground for the selling of stocks. That transaction in itself is not calculated to disturb either money or securities. It is likely, however, that the large aggregate of requirements for new capital, which are shortly to be met, will prompt the transfer of capital from stockholdings into the newly offered securities. Such a movement occurred in London today in connection with the highly successful flotation of a $10,000,000 Corean loan under Japanese auspices. The banks expect that the growth of demand for capital in the more fluid form of commercial employment will affect the supply available for speculative purchases in time also.

The state of the money market continues easy. There is a party in the speculation which holds the conviction that the upward movement in stocks has overrun the improvement in general conditions at present in sight. Another reaction in copper at the local metal exchange was an incident of the kind dwelt upon by this party. Up to this time there has not appeared any aggressive operations in the market from such a party which has confined itself to a conservative attitude of refraining from extension of the long side and to realizing sales on all advances.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $4,204,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

APPLE PRICES NOT STIFF

FANCY FRUIT OVERSTOCKS SEATTLE MARKET.

Winds Do Much Damage in Eastern Washington Orchards—Turkeys in Light Supply.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Heavy receipts of fancy Eastern Washington apples has overstocked the market and prices are not as stiff as they were earlier in the week. The top on Spitzenbergs is $2 today, as against $2.25 a few days ago. Other standard varieties command about $1.50. Reports from Eastern Washington are that the heavy winds there this week have done considerable damage to the apples that are still on the trees.

Navel oranges are arriving in rather green condition, but it is expected a sufficient quantity of ripe fruit will be on hand for the holiday trade.

One shipper brought 3000 pounds of live turkeys to Seattle today from Eastern Washington, but refused to sell the stock to the dealers. Thus far the birds have not been sold. A few turkeys are arriving from Oregon, but not in the quantities expected. The market is none too well supplied, dealers being well cleaned up at all times.

Eggs held at 50c all day.

Wheat was dull again today after the recent flurry.

MRS. READ FACES CHARGE

Attorney Declares Woman Who Threatened Mrs. Phipps Not Ill.

DENVER, Nov. 19.—Information charging Mrs. Allen F. Read with assault with intent to commit robbery and assault with intent to do great bodily injury in the attempt alleged to have been made by her to blackmail Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps, were filed in the Criminal Court today by District Attorney George Stidger. Mrs. Phipps is the complaining witness in the attempted robbery case, and Detective J. P. McDonald in the case of attempted dynamiting.

District Attorney Stidger discredits the theory that Mrs. Read was drugged or hypnotized by another woman with a powerful influence over her, and claims that the accused woman is not as sick as represented. Should the court heed the plea that the woman was rendered mentally unbalanced by excessive use of drugs, the District Attorney will then insist, he says, that she be confined in the criminal ward of the county insane asylum.

MAY WHEAT WEAKER

Sharp Fall in Distant Option at Chicago.

DECEMBER IS IN DEMAND

All Deliveries Are Lower at the Close—Free Domestic Movement and Poor Cash Buying Cause Weakness.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—One of the principal features of trade in the wheat pit was the strength of the December delivery and the heaviness of the May option. December was in urgent demand by elevator interests and shorts while the more distant option was subjected to liberal realizing sales. As a result of this condition of affairs the December-May spread narrowed to 4⅛c, compared with 4⅞c yesterday and the price of the December option advanced to a new high level on the crop. One reason for the weakness of the May delivery was the relatively high price at which it was selling here, compared with the price in European markets. The fact that European markets, with one exception, were weak was partly responsible for the heavy tone of distant futures on the local exchange. A continued free movement of wheat in this country and poor demand for the cash grain added to the weakness. Export sales were 15 boatloads reported at New York. Later in the day the December option lost its strength, owing to profit-taking and the market closed weaker. The May option showed a net loss of ½@⅝c, final quotations on it being at $1.07⅝@1.07¾, and on December at $1.03⅝.

Corn displayed considerable strength the greater part of the day, but weakened slightly late in the session. At the sample tables cash corn was ½c higher. The market closed weak with prices a shade lower to ¼@⅛c higher, with December at 63⅜ and May at 63@63⅛c.

Oats were firm. Cash oats at the sample tables were steady to ¼c higher on a good demand. The market closed steady with prices ⅛c lower to a shade higher. Final quotations on December were at 49⅛c and May, 51⅛c.

Provisions were weak all day. The close was easy with prices a shade to 10@12½c lower.

STRING LINE TO CASCADES

Government Will Build Telephone for Forest Rangers.

The Government will build a telephone line from Portland along the Mount Hood wagon road into the Cascade Mountains. Edwin G. Amme, of the Oregon Engineering Company, will have charge of construction. Mr. Amme has already secured right-of-way through the Rhododendron Resort, near the Tool-gate from H. S. Rowe and L. G. Holden, the owners. The Government will extend this line well into the mountains and it will be used mainly to keep in touch with the forest rangers in the reserves in case of fire. Heavy insulated wire will be used, so even if knocked from the poles or trees it may not be broken.

The Farmers Telephone Company, of Multnomah and Clackamas Counties, will also have a line from Sandy probably as far as Government Camp, connecting at the main points between Sandy and Government Camp, and will likely use the poles of the Government line. The Farmers line now extends to Sandy. Before next Summer these lines will be finished, connecting all these mountain resorts and forest rangers with Portland. On the Government telephone, construction will be started in a short time.

WANT BRIDGE AT HANCOCK

Multnomah Improvement Club Will Fight Broadway Location.

Multnomah Improvement Club will enter on a campaign to have Hancock street made the East Side landing of the proposed new bridge for North East and West Portland, and against the Broadway location. At the meeting of the club Wednesday night, in the hall on Mississippi avenue and Shaver street, the matter was discussed, and the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, By the Multnomah Improvement Club, that it considers that Hancock street, on the East Side, the proper and logical location for the proposed bridge for the district known as Albina, and that it will accommodate the greatest number of people, whereas a bridge at Broadway will accommodate a limited territory to the eastward, leaving out the great and growing district toward the north; and be it further

Resolved, That this club take such action as may be considered best to have the bridge built at Hancock street.

Remarks were made by Dr. L. M. Davis, N. D. Beutgen, R. B. Metcalfe and others, who declared that the majority of the people in Albina and the Peninsula favor Hancock street, and would so vote if given a chance. The bridge committee, Dr. L. M. Davis, N. D. Beutgen, R. B. Metcalfe, W. H. Payne and M. E. Thompson, was continued. This committee will endeavor to have the matter of location submitted to a vote of the people, as the City Council would refuse to take action favorable to Hancock street.

The club adopted a resolution asking the City Council to grant the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company a franchise on Patton avenue.

ISSUES CALL TO CATHOLICS

Thanksgiving Observance Subject of Vicar-General's Letter.

Monsignor James Rauw, Vicar-General, has issued the following letter to Catholics of this archdiocese in reference to the observance of Thanksgiving Day:

As no act of religious worship is more congenial to Catholic belief and practice than that of giving thanks to the good God who is the bounteous source of all our blessings, we take pleasure in indorsing the appeal of the Nation's chief executive, in which he bids us adopt Thursday, November 26, as a day of National thanksgiving. We are all the humble beneficiaries of God's merciful and generous providence, and if we are to continue in the possession of present blessings we must ward off the proud spirit of impious self-sufficiency and be duly thankful to him from whom all blessings flow.

Let the faithful of the archdiocese, then, give heed to the spirit and purpose of Thanksgiving day. We suggest the propriety of holding solemn services in all parish churches at convenient hours on that day, and of imparting such instruction as will awaken sentiments of gratitude for the temporal blessings which we, as a Nation and as individuals, have been permitted to enjoy.

Extending to you, dear father, and the faithful of your parish, my best wishes for a day of joyful thanksgiving, I remain, sincerely in Christ,

JAMES RAUW, V.-G.

FLOOD DANGER NOW PAST

Water in Skagit River Falling. Damage Up in Thousands.

BELLINGHAM, Nov. 19.—Herald specials from Skagit River points say that stream dropped eight feet between midnight last night and noon today, and that all danger is over, and ranchers are commencing to move back into their abandoned homes.

Roads, fences and small farm buildings have disappeared in many places, and while it is too early to make an estimate, the loss will run into tens of thousands of dollars. The flood crest was within two feet of the high water mark of 1897, when the whole valley was flooded and hundreds of farms ruined. Since that time extensive diking projects have been completed.

The Nooksack River is back in its banks except in the delta. All danger is past.

Two million dollars will be spent in improvements on the great steel plant of the United States Steel Corporation at Ensley, Ala.

KELLY BUTTE STRIKE ENDS

PRISONERS AT COUNTY ROCK-PILE RETURN TO WORK.

Men Subdued by Hunger and Alleged Betrayal by Their Leaders.

Subdued by hunger and angered by alleged betrayal by their leaders, the striking prisoners at Kelly Butte resumed work yesterday, after 48 hours of defiance and of abstinence from food. The men conveyed to Superintendent Briggs Wednesday afternoon the information that the revolt was ended, that they were willing to resume work, and were given their first meal since Monday. Yesterday the entire number of striking prisoners resumed their labors.

They accuse Superintendent Briggs of denying them food of any kind during their period of defiance and refusal to work. From Monday until yesterday, when they yielded, they declare, they were given no food whatever, and lived on water alone. Superintendent Briggs declares that he gave them bread during that period, but denied them other food until they agreed to resume work.

Two of the alleged leaders of the rebellion were incarcerated in the "black hole" Wednesday when the striking prisoners announced their willingness to go back to work. One of the unfortunates is the judge of the "Kangaroo Court" that is a feature of Kelly Butte; the other is accused of having started a riot during the period of strike of the prisoners.

"From Monday until Wednesday afternoon we had no food whatever," said one of the strikers who was freed yesterday, having served out his time. "Superintendent Briggs says he gave us bread and water, but he only permitted us to have water. It was hunger that drove the men to submission and charges of betrayal also had a good deal to do with it.

"It was charged that certain of the men who advised against the strike were getting food on the side, and the other men resented it. One of the men so charged was the judge of the 'Kangaroo Court' that sits at Kelly Butte and condemns all new prisoners to sweep the floor and do other menial tasks."
