

FOR REPUBLICAN

Adopts Strong Resolution Against Election of Democrat to Senate.

SESSION IS STORMY ONE

Both Sides of Controversy Are Warmly Supported, but Action Against Chamberlain Taken by Big Majority.

Pyrotechnical verbiage, spectacular discussions with stinging, burning charges and counter charges Thursday night accompanied the adoption by the Union Republican Club of a resolution endorsing the movement by the Republican party of using all honorable means and purposes in assisting the coming Legislature to elect a Republican to the United States Senate.

Resulting from the adoption of the resolution, and following the example of the Selwood Republican Club, petitions will be circulated relieving members of the Legislature from alleged obligations, with reference to the election of a United States Senator. The resolution, according to Gus C. Moser, one of its most vigorous advocates, will be in the nature of a recall upon any pledges that the Legislature prior to the election.

C. M. Idleman Leads Opposition.

It was, however, only after a violent discussion of three hours' duration that the resolution was adopted. Leading an opposition as vehement in its denunciation of the resolution as was the advocacy of those favoring it, C. M. Idleman strove valiantly to crush the measure, and when he finally saw his impending defeat by overwhelming numbers, still continued the fight by urging amendments and alterations. But in this, too, he was decisively beaten.

Mr. Idleman was heartily supported in his efforts to thwart the adoption of such a resolution by Dr. Emmet Drake, W. M. Davis and President John Gill, who headed off a meeting of the Council opposing the resolution were Gus C. Moser, W. W. Banks, Elmer B. Colwell, who introduced it, J. F. Kertchen, R. W. Parsons, T. J. Monahan, Louis K. Smith, H. Galvanti and Max G. Cohen. The resolution was finally adopted by a vote of 9 to 4.

Verbal Storm Breaks Early.

It was only a few moments after the meeting had been called to order that the battle began. It was not long, however, before the storm broke, increasing in violence, and with never a sign of possible cessation of hostilities, until the arrival of Councilman A. N. Willis, who had attended a meeting of the Council. Mr. Willis suggested compromise, related funny stories and incidentally made such grave charges against Governor Chamberlain that the warriors were willing to ease up a bit and listen. When he had finished the "hottest" attack of the evening had subsided somewhat, and soon afterwards the vote was taken.

In point of interest and in members last night the Union Club has not been equaled in years. The offices of Max G. Cohen in the Board of Trade building were packed. Besides the 22 members of the executive committee of the Union Club, there were large delegations from the Selwood Republican Club, the Perry-Gill Executive Club, the Sunnyvale Club, the Graham Club and others.

President Gill showed signs of hostility to the proposed measure as soon as it was introduced by Mr. Colwell. Such a resolution had been laid upon the table at the last meeting of the club, he said, where it was to remain until Wednesday. There had been no meeting on Wednesday and consequently it was not proper to discuss it at the present time. Instantly there were half a dozen fiery-tempered warriors on their feet, but Mr. Galvanti was recognized. He denounced the action of the chair as a subterfuge, an effort to sidestep discussion, and he was followed by others.

Colwell Submits Resolution.

When the resolution was at last submitted as a matter of business, Mr. Colwell introduced it. Mr. Drake and Mr. Davis opposed it, gently and moderately, as if holding themselves in reserve for the attack they knew would follow. Mr. Colwell made a long and detailed general appeal, for he declared that "if any of our Republican brothers had made a mistake, we ought by all honorable means to help them."

"Just explain what you mean by 'honorable means,'" interrupted Mr. Idleman. "Then the artillery began, which was immediately followed by the cannonading. Each faction accused the other of being responsible for the result in June. Persons in the adjoining room crowded to the door and packed themselves in a position to hear Mr. Kertchen was recognized and began an explanation of "honorable means." He was interrupted and took it good-naturedly for a time, then, wearied of continued harassing, announced he must cease. Many denounced Statement No. 1 as a "bunco game."

"If the voters of this state sign a petition urging the members of the Legislature not to vote for a Democrat, or relieving them of any pledges they may have taken, that will certainly be honorable means," and he was vigorously cheered.

Good Time for Recall.

Mr. Moser urged that there was no reason why a modified form of the recall should not be enforced upon members of the Legislature who may have made a mistake by pledging themselves. Conditions have changed, changed materially, he contended, since they were elected, and this new recall law should be put into practical use by the people, showing that they do not want a Democrat to represent a strongly Republican state in the United States Senate.

RUET WITNESS SUICIDE

John Krause Kills Himself in Cabin of Steamer.

QUEENSTOWN, Ireland, Nov. 20.—John Krause, who is said to have been connecting with the Pacific States & Sunset Telegraph Company, of San Francisco, committed suicide today in his cabin on the steamer Adriatic, while the vessel was coming from Cherbourg to this port.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 20.—John Krause, who committed suicide on the steamer Adriatic today, formerly was employed as a special agent of the Pacific States & Sunset Telephone & Telegraph Company, since merged into the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company. He was a witness before the grand jury that found indictments against Louis Glass and Theodore V. Halber. Krause left the employ of the company early this year, and was thought to have gone to Nevada. His exact whereabouts, including the authorities, and his whereabouts was unknown until the news of his suicide reached here today.

Mr. Krause joined the Adriatic at Cherbourg. Nothing unusual was noticed about his movements, but as he had not left his cabin at 1 o'clock, after midnight, the purser forced an entrance. He found Mr. Krause stretched on the floor dead. His throat had been cut and two blood-stained safety razors lay by his side.

FREE TRADE WITH CANADA, SAYS HILL

Most Natural, Rational and Profitable Thing to Do, He Declares.

Railroad King Predicts Commerce Between Dominion and United States Must Eventually Move Unrestrained.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—In a distinctly New World atmosphere, the 47th annual banquet of the New York Chamber of Commerce was held last night in the Waldorf-Astoria. Gilbert Stuart's famous portrait of Washington, flanked on either side by portraits of President Diaz, of Mexico, and Premier Laurier, of Canada, looked down upon the diners and the principal formal addresses dealt with the United States and "two neighbors on the North American continent."

Advocates Free Trade.

The guests of honor were the British Ambassador, James Bryce, Joseph Goddy, Mexican Charge d'Affaires at Washington, Byron E. Walker and Clifford Sifton, both of Canada, and James J. Hill, the railroad builder of the Northwest. Calling attention to the close connection between the histories of the United States and Canada, J. J. Hill declared the importance of the trade between the two countries and scored what he called the policy of mutual exclusion.

"What the commercial relations ought to be," he said, "is indicated by their parallel development and the mingling of their commerce. Without committing any one here, I do not hesitate to declare my own opinion, I believe that the most natural, the most rational, the most highly profitable commercial status between Canada and the United States is absolute freedom of trade."

"That commerce must eventually move untrammelled between these two peoples is self-evident. Why not strike off the shackles now and let it move freely, instead of paying the heavy penalty of delay? Protection has no meaning or effect as applied by either one of these countries against the other. The same is true of some of the nations in the world level is noisance. Men are free to come and go, and New England at this moment depends for her labor largely upon her French-Canadian population. Wages vary, just as they vary between New York and Colorado, but their average under similar conditions is the same in the two countries."

Predicts High Wheat Consumption.

Mr. Hill declared that by the middle of this century the consumption of wheat in this country would reach 1,000,000 bushels. The present production is only one-half that amount. Whatever part of the addition to this country's future food supply came from the wheat fields of the Northwest country, he argued, should be allowed to flow unchecked to the consumer.

Letters of regret were read from President Roosevelt, of the Governor Hughes and Lord Grey, Governor-General of Canada.

WOE BEFALLS KENTUCKY

DISTILLERY FIRES DESTROY 288,000,000 DRINKS.

Loss to Distillers Only Half That to Government—Strong Suspicion of Incendiarism.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 20.—Distillery fires have destroyed millions of dollars' worth of property in Kentucky within the few weeks. The loss of 5,000 barrels in the Tom Moore fire at Bardonia Wednesday, bringing the total number that have fed the flames recently up to 22,000. In detail, this means that the visible supply of whiskey has decreased 5,500,000 gallons, 288,000,000 drinks. At an average of 22 a barrel, the loss to the distiller is $1,800,000.

The United States Government, however, comes in for a still greater loss. The tax is at least twice the value of the whiskey, which would make the loss to the Government between $2,000,000 and $4,000,000.

The frequency of fires has caused some suspicion of incendiarism.

NO DECREASE IN WAGES

Reduction Among Cotton Operatives Has Been Called Off.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Nov. 20.—The Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' Association announced today that no reduction of wages would be made on December 17, as previously announced. The change of plan benefits 5,000 operatives off the city streets and thousands of others in nearby textile centers indirectly.

A reduction of 18 per cent in wages was made last May. From that time until October the margin between the cost of cotton and the selling price of cloth, upon which the wage scale is based, fell off. Business has improved recently, and in view of the severe cut made in the Spring, the mill-owners decided not to enforce the agreement to the letter.

All agreements are based upon the state of the market during the six months preceding the date when a new wage scale goes into effect.

TEHERAN MERCHANT SHOUTS FOR CONSTITUTION.

Persian Monarch Dismisses Delegation, but Russia and Britain May Force Popular Rule.

SPOILS SHAH'S PROGRAMME

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—A special dispatch from Teheran to the Lokos Anzeiger says that the clergy and merchants held separate meetings today to discuss the question of calling a new Parliament. The clergy unanimously adopted a statement drawn up by the Shah, who received them in audience with exceeding complacency. He also gave an audience to the merchant delegation, which began to address the Shah, saying:

"We renounce the constitution," whereupon another spokesman interrupted, denouncing the Shah's statement and declaring that the constitution be restored. The Shah became exceedingly angry and instantly dismissed the merchants without answer. It is probable that this means the definite abolition of the constitution for Persia, but the correspondent learns from a trustworthy source that Great Britain and Russia will compel the Shah to restore the constitution.

HEAD BREAKS PIPE; LIVES

Carpenter Falls 20 Feet and Escapes With Dented Skull.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 20.—To fall 20 feet from the roof of a building on which he was abating, to strike on the head on a cast-iron sewer pipe to break the pipe and crack his skull, to be the most unusual proceeding which Robert Johnson, a young carpenter of this city, found himself carrying out this afternoon.

And when the affair was over, Johnson lay on the ground, totally unconscious of what he had done. He was immediately taken to the Walla Walla hospital, where an operation was performed to raise the parts of the skull which had been pressed in. Although of a serious nature, the operation was successful and reports late tonight state that the man will live.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Judge George B. He refers to representations of the Judge-Advocate of the Department of Missouri, favoring restoration of the Army canteen system, which is a large proportion of offenses of soldiers, although not due to drunkenness, is traceable to the use of intoxicating liquors obtained outside of Army posts. There was an increase of 223 trials by court-martial the previous year.
