ROBERTS SOUNDS ALARM TO BRITAIN

Needs Home Army of 1,000, 000 to Withstand Possible Invader.

GERMANY ALWAYS READY

Veteran General Tells Lords of German Preparations for War-In> crease in Kaiser's Navy Mcnace to John Bull.

LONDON, Nov. 14 .- Speaking in the House of Lords last night, Field Marshal Lord Roberts expressed the conviction that the lack of a military force sufficient to make hopeless the attempt of an in vasion would in all probability be the cause of the loss of Great Britain's su-premacy at sea. In a studied speech he pearised out the comparative case with which Germany could land an army on which Germany could land an army on the abores of England. Under present con-ditions England would be forced, he said, to submit to most bumiliating demands. Lord Roberts disclaimed all heatility to or fear of Germany, but he declared that the defense of the islands required im-mediate attention. There should be an army we strong in numbers and efficient by quality that the most formidable of foreign nations would hesitate to make a landing in England.

anding in England, Germany Ready to Invade.

He had ascertained that wessels capabl of accommodating 300,000 men always were of accommodating 500,000 men always were available in the northern ports of Ger-many and that, as a result of the new German service law, 200,000 men could be collected in the districts of the newrest port without trouble. The great German sleamship lines were in constant practice embarking and disembarking and, as the cultrends were owned by the state, all pro-liminaries to the actual dispatch of troops could be carried out with the utmost. could be carried out with the utmess secrecy. Germany was perfectly awars the Field Marshal went on, that it would be essential for her transports to evade the British fleet and she could easily distract attention by small raids, while disambarking was proceeding undisturbed.

Danger Becomes Threatening.

Danger Becomes Threatening.

"It would be folly." declared Lord Roberts, "to shut our eyes to these possibilities, however much we desired. Startling events in the Near East have brought home to the most speless observer that nothing could save that country which is not prepared to protect itself. If Great Britain continues to neglect the most ordinary precautions, she may some day find herself in the hunds of the header. This danger is daily becoming more threatening. Within a decade Germany has created the greatest sen power that ever existed, except Great Britain's, and at the present moment it is formidable. Great measures are being taken to increase that power. are being taken to increase that power it is calculated that there are 80,000 Gor mans in employment in Great Hritain They are trained solders and if a Ger man force ones landed on these shores they would be gendy to bely."

Need Army of 1,000,000 Men.

Need Army of 1,000,000 Men.

Lord Reberts contended that it was not absolutely assential for a nation to command the sea in order to carry out an invasion. A temporary local command would suffice, and this was well understood in Germany. The main temptation to an invasion of Great Britain was the want of a home army, which ought to consist of 1,000,000 men. Across the narrow sea were 60,000,000 Germans, who, by perseverance, industry, sound education and military training, had made themselves a great nation. They required outlets for their commerce and population.

the deared Roberts, to find out in what way the great increase in Germany's sea power was likely to affect her and to adopt measures necessity for her deferse. The navy under present conditions was fettered in home waters and the islands were without a military forces sufficient to render any tavasion hopeless.

Sensation in Parliament.

Lord Roberts' speech caused a sensa-on in the House. The Earl of Crewe Lord Rossell to the Earl of Crewe remarked upon the seriousness of such statements in the present high-strung statements in the present high-strung that statements in the present high-strung condition of European nerves, saying that he feared they might be regretted. he feared they might be regretted.
Lord Roberts' resolution, to the effect that defouse of the Islands necessitated immediate attention of the government to make the army so strong and efficient that the most formidable nation will besttate before making an attempt at landing, was adopted by a vote of 74 to 53.

Speaker Answers Critics Who Deciare Him Out of Harmony With Taft-Warning Sent to President-Elect.

CHICAGO, III., Nov. 34.-Speaker Joseph G. Cannon has made it as plain as possible without a direct statement of his purpose, that he, if re-elected of his purpose, that he, if re-elected Speaker of the National House of Representatives, would work in harmony with the Republican Administration.

It has been reported—and denied—that Mr. Taft, in Virginia Hot Springs, while having no intention of throwing any administrative influence into any contest which might be made over the House organization, was not wholly convinced that an organization with Mr. Cannon at its head would be entirely friendly to White House policies.

Followed Roosevelt's Lead.

The arrival in this city this morning of Sheriff Spurlock of Throckmorton County. Texas, furnished additional evidence for the prosecution. Sheriff Spurlock identified Clark as the much-wanted Summers, who, while paster of the Methodist Church at Throckmorton, represented to his friends and the members of his church that his health was such that his physician land recommended an operation as the only means of saving his life. Administration Failure Unless They Reach Agreement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Efforth on the part of the leaders of the House organization to piedge votes for the reelection of Joseph G. Cannon, of Illinois, as Speaker of the House of Representatives, have led to representations being made to William H. Taff that the crisis of his administration has arrived, and that, unless he can reach a satisfactory agreement with Mr. Cannon, the coming Taff administration will be a legislative failure, including the tariff legislation. affine, including the tariff registation.
It is well understood in Washington that Mr. Taft has been impressed with the seriousness of the situation and is sending his energies accordingly.

But in the meantime friends of Mr.
cannon have not been idle. Sereno E. Cannon have not been the Sereno E. Payre, chairman of the ways and means committee, and Representative H. S. Boutell, of lilinois, vesterday, gave out interviews intimating that there was no friction between Mr. Taft and Mr. Cannon and that there could be note. James non and that there could be note. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—John T. Gleason, manager of the Occidental Atheletic Club, applied to Superior Judge Seawall today for an injunction to prevent the Papke-Ketchel prizefight, scheduled to be held at Coffroth's arema on Thanksgiving day. In his application Gleason alleges that Billy Papke and Stanley Ketchel signed an agreement on September 20 hast to fight under the auspices of the Occidental Atheletic Club on the evening of November 25. Subsequent to this, it is alleged that Coffroth persuaded the men to break their agreement and sign a contract to fight before the Sunshine Club, controlled by him, on Thankagiving afternoon. This Gleason says will interfere with his proposed exhibition on the preceding evening, and will cause a loss of $15,000.

Upon representation of James Coffroth, Judge Seawell modified his order and set the time for hearing at 10 A. M., tomorrow instead of Wednesday.

Coffroth in a statement made today

Coffroth in a statement made today said:

"The fight will be given Thursday without fail. The Occidental Club can not bring an action as it is not legally incorporated. The application for an injunction was made to embarrass me, but the plan will fail. The men will fight as scheduled."
