BAN ON WORD OBEY

Deputies Will Cut It From French Marriage Law.

CAUSES "UNSEEMLY IRONY"

Six Members of Chamber Who Will Ask Elimination of Objectionable Verb in Ceremony All Married Men.

PARIS, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The six deputies who, all being married men, are to move in the Chamber that the promise of wifely obedience required from law by brides be abolished, stick to their motion. Their chief argument it seems is drawn from the observation that the words of the second half of paragraph 213, "The wife owes obedience to her husband," are when read out at weddings generally received with "unseemly irony."

A few dozen mayors who have married hundreds of couples have been consulted and most of them make the same admission. The Deputy Mayor of Lyons, who is one of the six signatories of the motion, says that the paragraph in question "frequently impairs the solemnity of the occasion because it is usually received with smiles and giggles."

One Parisian Mayor, M. Pierrotet, has noted smiles, whisperings, nudgings and even winks and "threatening uplifted forefingers," while paragraph 212 was being read to the bride and bridegroom.

Another Parisian Mayor, M. Achille, has observed only "very discreet smiles." A third, in the course of many marriage ceremonies has noticed winks and smiles and signs of skepticism when he read paragraph 215, "The mother-in-law knows exactly what to make of the bride's promise, however innocent in the matter the groom may be and the men may be allowed to indulge in a deprecating gesture."

But according to this Mayor, what produces "amusing incidents" is the ring. There is a roofed belief that if the bride, when the ring is put on her finger, succeeds in preventing it from slipping past the first knuckle, she will rule the roost. If it slips at once down to the bottom of the finger, paragraph 213 will be no dead letter for her. Often when I have put the ring on the bride's finger and conscientiously pushed it down I noticed her struggles to stop it at the first knuckle. As for the much vexed paragraph 211 my idea is that it is not much good. But on the other hand will it do much good to repeal it?" Which seems to sum up the situation fairly.

SUSPECT HAS DISAPPEARED

Theorien Believed Doubling on His Tracks Back to Portland.

ALBANY, Or., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—F. Theorien, wanted for the murder of Watchman Rasmussen, has apparently made good his escape from this part of the state. Efforts to capture him in this vicinity are now practically at a standstill. Deputy Sheriff Beatty, of Multnomah County, returned to Portland this morning, taking with him the overcoat the suspect sold in this city. If Theorien is ever captured the coat will be a valuable piece of evidence, as it was the one he wore on the deck of the Schooner Washington at the time of the murder.

Theorien is believed to have taken one of two routes out of Albany. He either doubled back toward Portland or went eastward through the eastern portion of Linn County. The officers believe he took the former course and hence is now nearing Portland. A man answering the description of the supposed murderer was seen yesterday morning at Brownsville.

All of Theorien's actions indicate that it was his purpose to go to Yaquina Bay when he stopped in Albany Sunday night. He was familiar with that port, having run in there recently as captain of the Condor, and probably believed that as it was rather remote it would be a good place to ship. But his meeting here Monday with Captain Jacobsen and another sailor from Yaquina stopped that plan.

GREATEST OF SNOWFALLS

Salt Lake Has 19 Inches in General Intermountain Storm.

SALT LAKE, Nov. 25.—The snowstorm which began Monday evening continued, but the weather cleared this afternoon. Nearly 19 inches of snow has fallen, by far the greatest precipitation ever recorded by the Weather Bureau. The storm is general over the intermountain region. Railroad traffic, which was considerably impeded yesterday, is almost normal today.

STRIKERS MAKE TROUBLE

plant were attacked by the foreigners as they were leaving the factory last night and today. Deputy sheriffs were put on guard. Strikers gathered around the factory early today. The foreigners were armed with heavy iron pipes, pitchforks, clubs, stones, and some of them showed revolvers, the police say. Chief of Police Burke was in charge of the deputies stationed in the office of the company.

Bullets In Answer to Stones.

There was a bombardment of stones, and Mr. Burke says that two of his men were slightly injured. According to the chief, the strikers climbed the fence surrounding the buildings. The deputies were compelled to open fire to protect themselves. Mr. Burke is authority for the statement that there were only two revolvers in possession of the deputies. This is disputed by the strikers.

At least a dozen shots were fired point blank at the strikers and six men, fell, after as known, the strikers did not return the fire. Upon seeing their companions fall, the workmen fled, leaving the wounded on the ground.

CANBY, Or., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Charles Huiras, while returning from Barlow last evening, about 8 o'clock, fell and broke both bones in his right leg. After shouting for help for some time and not attracting attention, he dragged himself to his home, arriving there in an exhausted condition about 2 A. M. Dr. Stevenson reduced the fracture and thinks that Mr. Huiras will recover.

LORIMER VISITS ASTORIA

Chicago Congressman Inspects the Mouth of Columbia.

ASTORIA, Or., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Congressman William Lorimer, of Chicago, and a member of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House, arrived in the city on the noon train accompanied by his son. He said that his trip was one of personal observation of the work of which his committee had charge. The Government steamer Arago was in waiting to take him to Fort Stevens. They returned at 4 o'clock for the purpose of meeting with the committee of Commerce and Navigation of the Chamber of Commerce and discuss with the members the needs of the mouth of the river in improvement work.

Lorimer, who has been suffering with a slight attack of blood poisoning, is now practically recovered.

POMEROY MAN MAY GET PLUM

M. F. Gose, Friend of Cosgrove, in Line for Root's Place.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Leading Republicans at Pomeroy, Wash., believe that M. F. Gose, of Pomeroy, will succeed Milo A. Root on the Supreme Bench. It is known that the most friendly feeling exists between Gose and Governor-elect Cosgrove. Gose was a candidate for the nomination for a judgeship before the state Republican convention in 1908 and Cosgrove was one of his active supporters. He is indorsed by a number of leading Republicans in Walla Walla, including Eugene Lorton. It is believed that Cosgrove will ask Governor Mead to appoint Gose and that Mead will lact in accordance with his promise to carry out the plans and wishes of the Governor-elect.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Stanford A. Birdsell, a prominent business man of Vancouver, died early this morning at his home in this city of typhoid fever. His mother had arrived here from Freewater, Wash., but a few hours before his death. He leaves a wife, but no children. Mr. Birdsell was born in Illinois, May 27, 1864. He has been a resident of Vancouver for five years.

Salem Hunts for Theorien.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The Sheriff's office and the police department had men out all day today looking for F. Thorien, suspected of the murder of M. C. Rasmussen, in Portland, but no trace of him was found. From various sources reports were received that men answering Theorien's description were seen, but there is nothing to indicate very strongly that any of the men may be the fugitive.

R. D. HUME IS DEAD

Salmon King of Rogue Dies at Wedderburn Home.

LEAVES $3,000,000 ESTATE

Makes Dying Request That He Be Laid to Rest by Hunt Rock, High Promontory Overlooking the Mouth of Rogue River.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—R. D. Hume, the millionaire salmon king, of Curry County, died at his home in Wedderburn this morning. Kidney trouble, with which he had been afflicted for many years, was the cause of death. The funeral will be held Friday at Wedderburn and the burial will be at that place.

Before Mr. Hume lapsed into unconsciousness yesterday it is said he made the request that he be buried on Hunt Rock, a large promontory, near Wedderburn and overlooking the mouth of the Rogue River. It is said his wish will be complied with.

Mr. Hume's schooner, the Osprey, on which he made his last trip to Wedderburn when it came near being lost, was in port at Coos Bay this morning, and the news of the death was made known here when the flag of the boat was put at half mast.

It is not known now just how Mr. Hume has left his wealth, but it is likely that the estate will remain intact, as it includes about 10,000 acres of land and large canning establishments which require operation on a large scale to be productive. He also owned practically all the town of Wedderburn, a newspaper, the Wedderburn Radium, race horses and California property.

His property made up the largest individual holdings in the state. His wealth is estimated at $3,000,000. Should the property be divided or sold it may mean the colonization of a large tract of Curry County, which, aside from Mr. Hume's enterprises, has heretofore been practically undeveloped.

OFFICE IS DISCONTINUED

Postal Department Drops Orient, in Eastern Multnomah.

GRESHAM, Or., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Orders have been received from the Postoffice Department by the Postmaster at Orient to discontinue the Orient postoffice on December 1. Four months ago the rural route at Orient was transferred to Boring, and the few remaining families at Orient sent a petition to Washington asking that route No. 2, from this office be extended about four miles so as to give them convenient service. The petition has been referred to the inspector for report, and there is little doubt but that it will be granted when the Orient office has been discontinued.

Orient postoffice was established about 20 years ago and for several years was known as Pleasant Home. Like many other country offices it has given away to the march of progress as represented by rural free delivery. The saving to the department by the discontinuance of the office and the star route necessary to supply it will amount to about $600 a year, and the people will all be served promptly every day by carrier from Gresham.

SAY PAVING IS DEFECTIVE

Chehalis Property-Owners Refuse to Pay Assessments.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Robert Fechtner and other citizens owning business property in the brick paving district recently accepted by the City Council, have brought suit in the Superior Court asking for an injunction against the city of Chehalis to restrain the city from collecting the assessment for the improvements. The plaintiffs allege that the assessment is illegal on the ground that the contract price was to be $46,000 instead of $49,248.60 as was finally accepted by the city. It is further alleged that the material is defective.

ARE USING LEAKY ENGINES

Railroad Inspector Finds No Law to Prevent It.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—State Track Inspector Perley, in his report to the Railway Commission, points out that there are engines in service which leak steam so badly the engineer cannot see beyond the pilot, and there is no law to enable him to force such equipment out of service. He says the laws provide for 147 defects in a box car, which he has authority to reach, and says it is absurd to require enginemen to pass tests for sight and hearing and general physical ability and then place them on a leaky engine, where they might as well be blind. He asked that the law be amended to cover this serious defect.

The report covers a period from April 1, 1907, to November 1, 1908. During this time, he says, he inspected 14,216 cars and found 1249 defective. He inspected 1242 engines and found 198 defective. He reports that he has received encouragement and assistance from all railway officers and employes, and that the companies have made special effort to cure every defect as fast as it was pointed out to them.

MAKES WIFE TASTE FOOD

Husband Fears Poison, So Spouse Asks for Divorce.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Alleging that her husband, William Riley, has for eight years treated her with extreme cruelty, and that he threatened extreme cruelty and that he accused her frequently with attempting to poison him, Anna Riley filed a complaint asking for a divorce in the Superior Court.

According to the complaint, after two years of dmestic strife, love fled from their fireside. The plaintiff alleges that in 1905 her husband accused her of trying to poison him. After this, for almost eight years he forced her always to eat from the dishes she prepared for him before he would consent to eat any food cooked by her. As a result her happiness was completely destroyed and her health undermined.

LOCAL MEN HOLD OPTION

Portland Buyers Expect to Subdivide 3000-Acre Sheridan Tract.

M'MINNVILLE, Or., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Messrs. George E. Waggoner and Yerex Bros., of Portland, today secured from the owner in this city an option to purchase the Roswell Bewley tract of land, comprising 3000 acres, adjoining the town of Sheridan and extending back on the foothills a distance of 3½ miles. This land is bench and rolling, with soil very deep, and it is particularly adapted to walnut growing. About one-half of the tract is clear; the balance oak grubs and second-growth fir. These gentlemen have recently purchased a number of large tracts in the same vicinity. They expect to subdivide their holdings into 40-acre tracts and possibly plant a portion.

RESIGNS ONLY SHORT TERM

who is retiring from the Superior bench of Whatcom County, have been in conference nearly all day. Governor Mead has denied himself to all visitors. The impression prevails that the Governor was aware of the forthcoming resignation and was there for the purpose of consulting Judge Neterer with a view of appointing him to fill the vacancy.

As the matter now stands, the Root-Gordon scandal is a closed incident unless the King County or State Bar Associations file a petition for an investigation for malfeasance in office in either the Superior Court of the county or in the Supreme Court.

Root Has Change of Heart.

It is believed here tonight that Justice Root has had a change of heart since he penned his resignation to Governor Mead last night. Friends of the Jurist have evidently persuaded him that resignation at this time was poor policy, hence announcement that he will again take office in January for the new term to which he has been elected.

In his letter to Governor Mead, Justice Root said:

My relations with Judge Gordon will bear the closest investigation and will reflect no more upon me than the indiscretions of friendship. Yet I realize that for a Justice of the Supreme Court there should exist not even an indiscretion, especially as I realize that any reflection on any member casts a cloud upon the entire court; and I do not wish to be the means of casting any such cloud even in the slightest degree. Nor am I willing to remain the innocent cause of any lack of that respect and confidence which I know every one of my associates upon the bench to be richly entitled to.

CITY GIVES $50,000

Eugene Raises Big Sum for Y. M. C. A. Building.

RESULT OF WEEK'S WORK

When Final Report of Solicitors Is Made, Committee Finds Donations Have Reached Grand Total of $51,250.

BY ALLEN EATON.

EUGENE, Or., 25.—(Special.)—The campaign for the $50,000 Y. M. C. A. building closed this even nigat 8 o'clock, when the soliciting committee met, at headquarters and reported $51,089.57. Donations that came in during the meeting brought the amount up to $51,250.

Today has been the biggest day of the week's campaign. This morning the workers had $10,000 to raise to make their goal; at noon over $5000 had been raised, but while every man said it must and will be done, no one could figure just where the money was coming from. Every man on the 20 committees worked until late and when reports were turned in there was over a $1000 to spare.

Tonight, headquarters were crowded. Speeches were made, and Secretary Rhodes presented each captai n with some appropriate souvenir embodying the way in which the respective committees did their work, among the tokens being miniature talking machines, shovels, wringers, hatchets, etc. Butter cloth badges were pinned on F. Wetherbee and A. C. Dixon, whose committees raised the largest funds. The high schol boys, who raised more than allotment were presented with pennants, and the grammar school boys, who raised more than they were asked, were also remembered.

The incident which brought forth the heartiest applause was the presentation by Senator I. H. Bingham to George H. Kelly of a dn cup with a hole in it. The speaker hoped the gift would quench Mr. Kelly's unreasonable thirst for subscriptions.

Mr. Kelly, who is manager of the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company, has been at the head of the big organization and has done a great work for the people of this city. The people of Eugene have given with a will. The work has been done in seven days, and when the meeting was over and the crowd went out on the street a great cheer went up as the Y. M. C. A. clock hand was turned past the $51,000 mark.

The city had raised an average of at least $25 for every man in Eugene. Men who had never contributed to anything before gave their mite, and generous men gave more. The work for a Young Men's Christian Association has been the greatest thing done by the city in years, and has enlisted the largest number of supporters of any movement which Eugene has ever taken up.

LANDERS IS PRESIDENT

ELECTED HEAD OF STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Pedagogues Decide by Unanimous Vote to Meet Next Year in Pendleton.

BAKER CITY, Or., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—After another interesting session, during which State Superintendent Ackerman, R. D. Hetzel, of the Agricultural College, and others delivered addresses, the Oregon State Teachers' Association came to a close today.

One of the subjects that caused a great deal of comment was Superintendent Ackerman's talk on the "unit system," which he favors adopting in Oregon. Under it there would be no local school officers elected in districts, but all educational matters would be handled in one county by a central board of education. The teachers were not unanimous for its adoption.

This afternoon a business session was held and the following officers elected: J. S. Landers, City Superintendent at Pendleton, president; Frank Wells, County Superintendent of Umatilla County, secretary; Mrs. Nellie G. Neill, of La Grande, treasurer; executive committee, State Superintendent Ackerman, ex-officio; J. F. Smith, of Baker County; E. G. Bailey, of Elgin; E. E. Bragg, of Union County; G. B. Conklin, of Malheur County.

By unanimous vote it was decided that the association should meet next year in Pendleton, Thanksgiving week.

Attendance during this meeting from different counties follows: Union, 192; Baker, 109; Malheur, 43; Umatilla, 127.

ECZEMA CURED BY SIMPLE OIL

Tender Skins of Children Soothed by a Mild Liquid Compound.

Have you ever tried a few drops of an oil of wintergreen compound for skin trouble? It is the basis of a liquid compound which seems to be about the only safe and sure cure for eczema, salt rheum, tetter, ringworm and kindred diseases.

The liquid is so mild that it is used with wonderful soothing effect on the tender skins of infants.

To prove efficacious, the oil of wintergreen must be mixed with thymol and glycerine, as in the Prescription of Dr. D. D. Dennis, the Chicago skin specialist. The compound is known as D. D. D. Prescription. Used with D. D. D. Soap it appears to be infallible.

A. J. Brand, 1128 Joliet St., New Orleans, La., writes:

"About five years ago when my daughter was about three months old she had eczema very badly. Her neck was one solid mass of sores, and we tried everything possible to relieve her, but to no purpose. The doctor we called said that he could cure her but that it would take at least two years to do so and on account of her age we surely thought that her pain would kill her. We began using D. D. D. Prescription and after using two bottles she was as well and happy a child as you can see and with no mark or scar on her skin.

"My youngest daughter, now two years old, started the same way with a sore neck about six months ago. We did not lose any time in applying D. D. D. and it needed only a few applications to heal her neck. I also use D. D. D. after shaving with beneficial results."

As far as we have seen, the cures with oil of wintergreen as used in D. D. D. Prescription are permanent cures. And we certainly do know that the instant D. D. D. Prescription is applied to the skin, the itch is relieved. A few drops takes the itch away at once, cooling and refreshing the skin.
