ACCUSED OF STEALING TRANSIT.—W. A. Needham, a mechanic, was arrested yesterday by Constables Wagner and Kiernan for the theft of a surveyor's transit from the Terminal yards. The officers suspect that the man knows something about the steady disappearance of property from the Terminal grounds. The stolen transit was found over the Ed Smith saloon, at Sixth and Hoyt streets, and Smith, who is missing, is accused of having received stolen goods from Needham and of having disposed of the loot.

START ON BRICK FLAT.—Preliminary work was started yesterday on a six-part flat, one of the most pretentious buildings of the sort on the East Side, on East Couch street, between Grand avenue and East Sixth street, by Stokes & Zeller. It will cover 80x65 feet and will be full three stories with basement. Up to the third story it will be of brick, and the third story will be rough cast. The cost of the finished building will be over $15,000. Plans for this building were drawn several months ago, but were held up until the election of Taft for President had been announced.

ATTACKED BY THUGS.—E. H. Hanson, a scaler employed by the Barber Asphalt Company was attacked by thugs, at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and roughly handled, according to a report which he made to the police. Hanson said he missed the last car to his home, at the New Ferry Hotel, foot of Randolph street, and as he crossed the Steel bridge noticed that two men were following him. Having $45 in his pocket he hid the money in his shoe, on turning a corner. Just as he reached Railroad avenue and Randolph street the men overtook him, he said, and immediately seized him from behind. He struggled and a knife was drawn across the bridge of his nose as a warning. He then ceased his struggles and was thrown down bound and gagged. After searching his pockets and securing several dollars in silver the thugs left him. They failed to look in his shoes and the $45 was not found by them. Hanson's story is fully believed by the police.

A SPECIAL display in one of Gill's show windows is attracting considerable attention this week. The attraction is a series of Japanese art calendars. More than a half dozen subjects are represented, among which may be mentioned the famous "Japanese Shadow Picture," "The Peacock" and the celebrated Japanese mountain, Fuji Yma. These Calendars are hand painted, and represent the very finest in art work. Incidentally, they would make an excellent Christmas gift; and at the low price, 60 cents, they are in the reach of any pocketbook. The display window is good to look upon, whether a purchase is contemplated or not. The J. K. Gill Company, Third and Alder streets. *

BIG PERMIT ISSUED.—By the addition of a building permit issued yesterday for $450,000, being part estimated cost of the Meier & Frank Company's new building, the month's total was boosted to over $800,000. There are two other permits for large amounts that possibly may figure in this month's business, in which case the total will run over the million mark. Of course it is unfair to make comparison with November of last year, on account of the depression at that time, but this addition will bring the total for the year up to good round figures and help maintain the high plane Portland has taken in comparison with other cities of the country.

CHURCH PROPERTY FOR SALE. — The Norwegian-Danish Church Society located on the corner of Russell and Flint streets, Albina, have decided to sell out and build in another locality. They offer the entire quarter block to include a nice cottage in the rear of the church, for $4500, which is very low. Enquire of F. S. Akin, 623 Chamber of Commerce or Rev. C. J. Larsen, the pastor. *

ENGELKE GOES TO ASYLUM.—Charles O. Engelke has been adjudged insane, and will be taken to the state asylum at Salem. Engelke has been employed as a book solicitor. He says he is a promoter, and believes that he is about to make a large amount of money through stock manipulations. Sam Sobeski also has been adjudged insane.

DEATH OF MRS. CUNNINGHAM. — Mrs. Margaret Cunningham, wife of Thomas J. Cunningham, died at her home, 717 East Twentieth street South, November 23, in her 71st year. The funeral will be held today from Dunning's Chapel, 414 East Alder street, and the interment will be in Rose City Cemetery.

MOVE FOR BULL RUN WATER.—First steps have been taken to secure Bull Run water for the annexed district at the southeastern edge of the city before the shortage of next Summer confronts the people. At a meeting of representatives from the four push clubs, held in the office of Ben Riesland, Tuesday night, it was decided to take the necessary proceedings to have a 24-inch main laid from the Mount Tabor reservoir to the Powell Valley road, there to connect with a main of the Woodmere Water Company. Petitions will be circulated asking the Water Company to lay this main at the expense of the district. All these steps will be taken in advance of June next, when the district becomes part of the city, so there will be no loss of time. It was reported at the meeting that arrangements can be made with the Woodmere Water Company to take enough Bull Run water to supply the people until the city takes over the local water plant. It was considered best to lay a 24-inch main than a smaller and less expensive one, so it can be extended through the district later, and be adequate for several years, which could not be done if a small main were put down. The representatives discussed other matters of interest to the newly annexed territory and formed an organization for future work by election of Mr. Riesland, chairman, and O. N. Ford, secretary.

NEW YORK SOCIETY CELEBRATES.—The New York State Society last night celebrated the 125th anniversary of the evacuation of New York City by the British. Dr. Dyott delivered the address of the evening, being followed by Thomas O. Hogue, whose subject was, "An Englishman's View of Evacuation Day." Miss Mame-Helen Flynn and Miss Lottie Bamfield rendered readings. An instrumental duet was rendered by Mesdames Hellyer and Kimball, and a baritone solo by George Street. Solos by Miss Lillian Sabin and Miss Irene Flynn were well received, as was the piano solo by Mrs. Herlock and the selections by the Veteran Quartet. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served. The next meeting of the society is to be held at the home of Mrs. James W. Tifft, 351 West Park street, December 15. The officers of the organization are as follows: President, Miss Lida M. O'Bryon; first vice-president, James F. Failing; second vice-president, Mrs. James W. Tifft; secretary and treasurer, Charles C. Fisher; registrar, Dr. Clara MacFarlane; executive committee, Captain W. H. Pope, Mrs. May A. Pace, Captain George A. Pease and Mrs. Mary Chapel.

Y. W. C. A. CONTEST.—The "rainbow contest" at the Y. W. C. A. promises to be the keenest contest the Association has had for years. It began last Sunday when the pastors of the city devoted a portion of their morning service to the Young Women's Association and gave special emphasis to the contest. Within two days 24 of the leading churches of the city have enthusiastically pledged themselves to secure new members for the Y. W. C. A. Up to Tuesday evening the Calvary Baptist Church, wearing the yellow color of the rainbow, leads in the number of new members secured. The Mount Tabor Methodist Church, wearing the white ribbon, is a close second in the race. The awards that are offered by the Young Women's Christian Association add interest and make each worker determined that her denomination shall win. The following are some of the churches that have entered the contest: The First, Second, Calvary and Central Baptist churches; First and Central Christian churches; First, Sunnyside, Hassalo and Highland Congregational churches; First Evangelical, St. James Lutheran, Taylor-Street, Grace, Mount Tabor, Centenary and Sunnyside Methodist churches; First, Third, Westminister, Hawthorne, Marshall-Street and Mount Tabor Presbyterian churches and the First and Second United Presbyterian churches.

MANY ENTER RACE

New Aspirants Have Eyes on Mayor's Chair.

BIG SALARY IS ATTRACTIVE

Friends Mention Colonel David M. Dunne, H. C. McAllister and Chester A. Whitemore as Probable Republican Candidates.

A salary of $5000 a year for Mayor looks good to many aspirants who would serve the people of Portland in that official position. No less than three prominent citizens have been proposed as available candidates for the nomination on the Republican ticket since The Oregonian recently published a list of those who would be willing to take the office. They are Colonel David M. Dunne, Collector of Internal Revenue; Master Fish Warden McAllister and Chester A. Whitemore, ex-president of the Rose Festival Association.

It is reported that Colonel Dunne soon will resign his position in the Government service in order to give his personal attention to his private business interests. At the same time his friends are urging him to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor.

A boom of no small sized proportions was launched yesterday for Oregon's Master Fish Warden, H. C. McAllister. It has the backing of many substantial business interests of the city aside from a hearty response from the younger element who are demanding that for once the administration of municipal affairs be entrusted to one of their number. Mr. McAllister has not decided whether or not he will be a candidate but has taken under consideration the earnest appeals of his many warm friends that he consent to enter the race.

While Mr. Whitemore has not formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination of Mayor, his numerous friends have for some time been exceedingly busy grooming him as the proper man to succeed Mayor Lane.

At the rate candidates are appearing, the probability is that the Republican voters will have an exceptionally deserving group of willing candidates from which to make a selection of a candidate for Mayor. Despite the apparent diffidence of Mayor Lane, who has declared that he will not again be a candidate for re-election, it is confidently expected that he will be the nominee of his party when the time comes.

FORMER BANKER ARRESTED

THOMAS DEVINE IS CHARGED WITH STEALING COAT.

Although Brought Low by Drink, Prisoner Declares He Is Not Guilty of Theft.

From banker to overcoat thief is a long route to travel in a dozen brief years. But Thomas Devine, known to most everyone that has resided here more than five years, arrived at the lower destination, yesterday forenoon, travelling by the well-known liquor route, speediest downhill system in the world.

Devine is now in a cell at the City Jail. He denies, of course having stolen the overcoat in question. Were he still a respectable and reliable citizen his explanation that he took the coat by mistake would not be questioned for an instant. Such mistakes occur every day and to all sorts of people.

Even the police doubt very much if Devine really stole the coat, which was taken from a barber shop where he'd been getting shaved. He is known to be very absent-minded. But he went into the shop without a coat. And a couple of hours later when he was found, the coat was gone. He said he had left it somewhere but couldn't for the world recall just where. He'd been drinking, a daily practice, and explained that his memory has become a thing of the past. Even the stimulus of alcohol fails to goad his mind to activity any more.

The mere circumstances of taking the coat might not have sufficed for his arest on a charge of larceny, for, although arrested many times for drunkenness, Devine has never before been accused of dishonesty of any sort. But the disappearance of the coat from his possession coupled with the fact that he seemed a little more drunk than usual combined to form basis for belief that craving for liquor and lack of means to buy liquor had driven him to theft. Hundreds of honest men have gone over the line between honesty and dishonesty in just such a way, the police say.

In order that the theft may be more fully investigatd, Devine was sentenced to a term of three days in the City Jail, for drunkenness, by Acting Municipal Judge Seabrook, yesterday forenoon. Devine said that he might be able to stumble onto the place where he left the overcoat. And if it can be shown that he did not pawn or sell the coat, his explanation that a mistake was made may be accepted.

Devine is known as an authority on timber and is said to be one of the best cruisers. While his services ordinarily would command a good figure, his fondness for the bottle is too great to permit him to neglect the barrooms for very long at a time. At one time he conducted a country bank in Washington.

RECALL WILL BE INVOKED

St. John Good Government League After Councilman's Scalp.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the St. John Good Government League, held at St. John last night, it was decided to invoke the recall on Councilman W. W. Windle. The reason for this action is that the league alleges that Councilman Windle has violated his pledges insofar as he voted to repeal the St. John ordinance prohibiting the licensing of saloons, after he had been elected on an anti-liquor platform.

Push Club Elects Officers.

In his report on the work of the year at the annual meeting of the Piedmont Push Club, held last night in the Piedmont Presbyterian Church, Chairman George P. Lent said that progress had been made in framing a hard-surface paving district between Williams and Union avenue and Killingsworth and Ainsworth avenues. The streets in the district, he said, will be paved with asphalt, and will be parked. Petitions for the improvement of most of the streets, he reported, were in and the contracts would soon be let. The officers were elected as follows: President, George P. Lent; vice-president, G. W. Ashford; treasurer, K. K. Baxter; secretary, W. V. Payne; executive committee, J. N. Kuhn, F. T. Lisco, Dr. H. M. Green, Thomas Greene and Miss Harrington.

SAYS PLEDGES ARE VOID

Effect of Election Frauds in Oregon, Says La Follette.

"Where palpable fraud has been committed in the election of a Senator, I fail to see wherein any possible objection can be raised to any movement which would relieve Legislators-elect from fulfilling any pledge they may have made prior to the election of such a Senator." Such was the decisive statement of Alex La Follette, ex-Representative from Marion County, in discussing the Senatorial situation in this state, at the Imperial Hotel yesterday.

"It will never be known the extent to which Democrats participated in the Republican primaries last Spring," he continued. "For instance, the other day I chanced to be conversing with a party of seven men, six of whom were Democrats. In the course of our conversation the subject of the election of a Senator chanced to be suggested. Of the six Democrats, five admited that they purposely had regisered as Republicans last Spring in order that they might vote for Cake for Senator. Every one of them admitted that they voted for Chamberlain in the June election.

"In view of these facts there certainly can exist no objection to any plan which would relieve Statement Legislators from complying with their pre-election pledges in view of the fraud which was practiced in placing them in the predicament with which they are now confronted."

PATTON SAYS HE'LL WIN

Candidate for Speaker Confident Statement Men Will Control.

"There is no question but that both Houses of the State Legislature will be organized by the Statement forces," said Hal D. Patton, Representative-elect from Marion County, at the Imperial yesterday. Mr. Patton was en route to Hood River, where he today will eat Thanksgiving turkey with relatives.

"Why should we not organize the Legislature?" inquired Mr. Patton. "Fifty-one of the 90 members of the Legislature are Statement members and for that reason we will be held responsible for the legislation that is enacted. If we are to assume that responsibility we are certainly entitled to have control of the organization of both branches of the law-making body.

"I am still a candidate for Speaker," said Mr. Patton, discussing his candidacy. "I not only am a candidate for Speaker, but I confidently expect to be elected. I have just as good, if not better chances of election than any of the other candidates. For that reason I propse to stay in the race until the finish. I am not in the least alarmed over the candidacy of Brady, of Multnomah, or any other candidate from the Statement forces. I am in the race to win, and I shall remain."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Wiley, of 354 Fourteenth street, are receiving congratulations on the birth yesterday of a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Metschan, Jr., left last night for San Francisco and Los Angeles, where they will spend a month. En route they will stop at Jacksonville to spend Thanksgiving, with Mrs. Metschan's mother, Mrs. Kubli, a prominent Southern Oregon pioneer.

W. R. Callaway, general passenger agent for the Soo lines, with headquarters at Minneapolis, Minn., was a Portland visitor yesterday. He spent some time in conference with F. R. Johnson, agent here for the Soo lines, in discussing the passenger outlook in the territory.

Philip Metschan, Jr., and Mrs. Metschan left last night for a trip to California cities, to be gone about two months. While absent Mr. Metschan expects to examine into the latest appliances in use in Los Angeles and San Francisco hotels with a view of incorporating them in the Imperial Annex, now being erected at the corner of Stark and Seventh streets.
