PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—The University of Pennsylvania defeated Cornell in the annual Thanksgiving day football game on Franklin field this afternoon, 17 to 4. Pennsylvania thus closed the season without once drinking from the bitter cup of defeat, and tonight her followers are claiming at least equal rank with Harvard in the wide discussion as to which is the best college football team in the East. It was Cornell's only defeat of the year, and she fought hard to win.

Miller Plays Wonderful Game. Pennsylvania did not overwhelm her opponent, as she expected. However, except for the kicking department in the first half, Pennsylvania at all times was Cornell's superior. The game abounded in open plays, long runs and much punting.

The playing of Miller, who replaced Keinath at quarter for Pennsylvania early in the game, was the sensational feature of the contest. Once he got away for a 75-yard run, which was spoiled by one of his teammates holding a tackler, and another time he carried the ball through the line for two chalkmarks to Pennsylvania's 25-yard line, Mowse kicked the goal.

The reliable captain, Hollenback, was given much work to do, but he at times appeared tired and did not play up to his standard. While Scarlett carried the ball over all over the field, breaking up the opposition's interference.

Captain Walker played his usual fine game for Cornell, and O'Conner was a tower of strength in the Ithaca line. In the first half Walker clearly outplayed Hollenback, but in the second period, with the wind at his back, the Pennsylvania captain's kicking was wonderful.

Cornell's Lone Score. Cornell's only score of the game, a field goal from placement by Mowse, was made possible by a poor punt by Hollenback. It came a few minutes after play was started in the first half. Hollenback punted across the field for a gain of ten yards, and after Cornell carried the ball through the line for two chalkmarks to Pennsylvania's 25-yard line, Mowse kicked the goal.

The first Pennsylvania score was primarily due to a forward pass and poor kick by Walker. The latter's punt went out of bounds on his own 25-yard line and the line-up on the next play made a beautiful forward pass to Bradlock on Cornell's five-yard line. The rest was easy, Hollenback dashing around Cornell's left for a touchdown. Scarlett kicked an easy goal.

The second half was bitterly fought. Cornell made many chances. Miller's big run came early in this half. Scarlett's good work gave Pennsylvania her second touchdown. Hollenback's punt went over the Cornell quarterback's head. Scarlett tackled him and in the mix-up for the ball, Glenn of Pennsylvania secured it and in two plays Miller was jammed across the line for the score. The punt out was blocked by Sawyer.

After Cornell had failed at several forward passes, Miller made his second sensational run. The little quarterback was given the ball, evidently for a forward tackle, and Miller started down the field and down over the line before a Cornell man could get his hands on him long enough to stop him. Scarlett kicked the goal.

CARLISLE BEAT ST. LOUIS

Hard-Fought Contest Results in Score of 17 to 0. ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—A football game between the Carlisle Indians and St. Louis University teams here today was won by the former, 17 to 0. The contest was slow, but interesting. The Indians being forced to uncover their best line of attack to win over the stubborn defense of the St. Louis Indians. A crowd of 18,000 or more watched the players, the occasion being favored by perfect weather conditions. Throughout the first half the local eleven played sterling football. Three out of four times the Indians were forced to give up the ball when within the shadow of the goal posts, once when they needed but three feet and had two downs to gain the distance. In the first part of the second half, however, Carlisle played the St. Louis men off their feet. Series plays, mixed up with brilliant forward passes, gave two touchdowns early and then the visitors went on the defense. Three times St. Louis had chances to score by goals from the field, but all the attempts failed and shifts in the line-up did no good.

INDIANS WIN FROM SAINTS

Fierce Battle in Los Angeles Ends in Score of 4 to 0.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—The Sherman Indians won a desperate football battle from the St. Vincent College team of this city today by a score of 4 to 0. The first half was without results and for a time it seemed that the game was going to end in a tie. Time and again the Indians forced the ball dangerously near the locals' goal, only to be carried back by the superior weight of the Saints. Three times in the first half the St. Vincents tried to kick a goal and failed. Bullock, quarterback for the Indians, played like a demon, and saved the day on several occasions for the red men. In the middle of the second half the Indians knocked a goal and later had the ball on the five-yard line, but lost it on a fumble. The field was very slippery. Several of the men were injured during the game, though none seriously enough to necessitate their withdrawal.

FOOTBALL BATTLE IN SNOW

Idaho and Utah Tie After Stubborn Contest at Salt Lake.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 26.—One of the hardest fought football contests ever witnessed on Cummings field occurred today between Idaho and Utah universities and resulted in a tie, 6 to 6. Though outclassed in punting, Utah managed to keep her opponents from scoring. In no time during the whole game did the ball go over through failure to make the required 10 yards. Fully six inches of snow was on the field when the game started.

DENVER MOUNTAIN CHAMPION

Clinches Title of Rockies by Defeating Colorado College.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 26.—Denver University today clinched its claim to the Rocky Mountain football championship by defeating the Colorado College team by a score of 6 to 4 in the fiercest game ever seen here. Denver made its touchdown and goal after ten minutes of play in the first half, carrying the ball over on straight football through its opponents' 45-yard line. A few minutes later quarterback Clyde Smith, of Colorado College, placed a dropkick squarely between the posts from the 40-yard line, making the score 6 to 4.

Kansas Defeats Missouri.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 26.—Kansas University eleven this afternoon defeated Missouri University, 10 to 4, in one of the fiercest struggles ever put up by these teams in the 18 years of their contests.

KETCHEL REGAINS HIS LOST HONORS

Knocks Out Papke in Eleven Rounds With Two Knockdowns.

MASTER THROUGH FIGHT

Lands Blows Almost at Will, While Papke Resorts to Clinches and Once Runs Away—Odds Are on the Loser.

ARENA, San Francisco, Nov. 26.—Stanley Ketchel, of Grand Rapids, Mich., regained the middleweight championship of the world today and with my own money. Papke's victory in the South was an accident. Under proper conditions, I am willing to fight him again."

Odds Were on Papke.

The betting was seriously affected prior to the fight by rumors of Ketchel's failure to get into proper condition. During the day reports of this character were current in every quarter, and at one juncture the betting dropped from 10 to 7 1/2 to 10 to 6, solely because of this. At 2:30 P. M. DROPS DEAD AT RINGSIDE. RINGSIDE, San Francisco, Nov. 26.—Martin Carter, of Irvington, Cal., dropped dead at the ringside from excitement when Ketchel knocked Papke out. Carter is the proprietor of the famous Mischou stock ranch near Irvington, which has turned out many of the world's famous trotters. He has a son with the Owl drugstore in Oakland.

STORY OF FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

Round 1. They went right together. Papke landed with a straight left to the face. Close fighting followed. Papke landed a sharp right and left to the face. Ketchel shifted a terrific right to the head. They fought to the same place a moment later. At close quarters Papke upset with his right to the face. Ketchel shot a hard right to the jaw and they clinched for about half a minute. Ketchel shot the round with a right to the jaw and a third attempt was smothered. Fighting close, Ketchel swung a close-range left swing to the face. Papke went to a neutral corner. Several fruitless exchanges followed and the round ended in a draw.

Round 2. Ketchel shot a right to the head and they clinched. Papke sent two straight lefts to the face as they broke. Ketchel sent a wicked right to the stomach and two lefts to the face, driving Papke to a neutral corner. Then they clinched. Papke then shot a terrific right to the head. Ketchel broke ground. Papke crossed with a right to the jaw and a moment later upset with a right to the head. They fought to the same place and Papke shot his right and left hard to the jaw and then swung his right to the head. Ketchel was looking more confident. The round was a shade Papke's.

Round 3. Papke rushed his man to the ropes. Ketchel seemed to be puffing, but neither landed a blow. Papke landed to the ropes and easily smothered Ketchel's punches. The men wrestled around without damage, seeking to land punches close quarters. Breaking away, Papke swung a stiff left to the jaw and Ketchel retaliated with two straight lefts to the face. Ketchel swung a right several times and Papke swung his left hard to the jaw. Ketchel got a left on the ribs, then suddenly shot a hard right to the jaw. Papke at the same time landed a similar right and the round ended with honors even, Papke the more confident.

Round 4. Both were up quickly. Ketchel missed a fearful right for the jaw and a similar attempt with his left. The men then wrestled around the ring. After a break, Ketchel swung a terrific right to the jaw and followed with a hard left to the same place, forcing Papke to clinch. Ketchel shot two wicked right punches to the jaw and a third attempt was smothered. Fighting close, Ketchel swung a close-range left swing to the face. Papke went to a neutral corner. Several fruitless exchanges followed and the round ended in a draw.

Round 5. Ketchel landed two light lefts to the jaw and missed a wicked left for the head. He missed two similar blows and they wrestled to the center. Ketchel landed to the jaw and both men fell clear through the ropes over the floor of the arena. They were helped into the arena and Ketchel missed two fearful right punches to the jaw. Ketchel crossed again with his right to the jaw and Papke looked a bit serious. Ketchel was much quiet in the moment. Ketchel hooked to the pit of the stomach. He then shot a hard right to the jaw as the bell rang. He looked very content as he took his seat.

Round 6. They closed in, Papke fighting cautiously and looking none the worse for wear. Both missed left shots and Ketchel sent a straight right to the jaw. Ketchel landed two vicious lefts to the nose and the blood started to flow from that corner. Ketchel fought close and the body followed and, when the men broke away, both were bleeding from the nose. Ketchel shot a terrific left to the body and kept after his man unceasingly. Ketchel then hooked a wicked right to the jaw, forcing Papke to clinch. Ketchel had a good lead as the round ended. Ketchel landed a hard right to the jaw. The crowd yelled vigorously for Ketchel.

Round 7. They ran to close quarters and wrestled about the ring, only to be separated by the referee. Ketchel landed a hard right to the chin. Ketchel then sent a short hook to the nose. Ketchel landed a hard right to the jaw. Papke closed in and seemed to be stalling. Papke missed two lefts to the jaw. Ketchel hooked two lefts to the body. Ketchel swung his right and left to the jaw and both men fell clear through the ropes over the floor of the arena. Ketchel landed a hard right to the jaw. Papke closed in and seemed to be stalling. Papke missed two lefts to the jaw. Ketchel hooked two lefts to the body. Ketchel swung his right and left to the jaw and both men fell clear through the ropes over the floor of the arena. Ketchel landed a hard right to the jaw. The crowd yelled vigorously for Ketchel.

Round 8. Both were up quickly and Papke landed a hard right to the jaw. Ketchel countered with his right to the ribs and Ketchel forced Papke to the ropes. They fought to the center of the ring, Papke landing a hard right to the jaw. Ketchel landed a hard right to the jaw and followed with two lefts to the same place. Papke missed a hard left swing and Papke drove a left hard to the jaw. Ketchel retaliated with a right and left uppercut to the jaw and missed another for the same place. Ketchel got a hard right to the bell ring. Ketchel having the honor.

Round 9. The fighters clinched and were pried apart by Referee Welch. Ketchel then shot a left to the jaw. Ketchel landed a hard right to the head. Papke fought back desperately, but Ketchel forced him against the ropes and landed his right and left to the body. Papke continued to break ground, clinching and stalling. Ketchel sent his man clear through the ropes with a right to the jaw and Papke came back staggered. It was nearly a knockdown. Papke stalled, getting in close, and Ketchel was not able to get in a telling blow. Ketchel at close quarters swung his left and right to the body and the bell rang. Ketchel looked a winner at this stage.

Round 10. "Take your time," shouted the crowd to Ketchel as the men closed in. Ketchel landed two uppercuts to the head while in close. Ketchel missed a hard left to the head and they exchanged rights and lefts to the jaw. Ketchel landed his antagonist in the ropes, but missed a hard right to the jaw. Ketchel landed a hard right to the jaw and put his left to the body. Then they clinched. Ketchel doing all the work. Ketchel landed a hard right to the jaw. Ketchel landed a hard right to the jaw and two lefts to the body. Papke seemed to be gaining strength, despite the beating he had received.

Round 11. There were several fruitless rallies and then Ketchel hooked a hard left to the body and the bell rang. Ketchel landed a straight left to the jaw and Papke with a fearful left to the jaw. Ketchel landed a hard right to the jaw and Papke took the count of nine. When Papke rose, Ketchel again forced his man with a storm right to the jaw and body. Papke tried to get up, but was up only a second, too long and was counted out. Ketchel was then given the decision by Referee Jack Welch.

Comment of Winner and Loser. Papke said after the fight: "I am not satisfied with the outcome. I want a return match. I didn't hear the count. I heard the referee say 'six' and then I stopped. I would have been able to continue the fight, as I was not hurt and was recovering fast. I want a return match." Ketchel said: "I anticipated this result long before I entered the ring and backed my opinion

MULTNOMAH WINS SOCCER GAME

Takes Two Goals to One by Rangers in Good, Fast Thanksgiving Game.

PLAY FAST AND "CLASSY"

Dymont Again Starred for Multnomah Team While McKay Was Best All-Round Player on Side of Rangers.

BY JOSEPH M. QUENTIN.

Two goals to one, in favor of Multnomah. That tells the story, in a few words, of the classiest game of association or "soccer" football ever played here. The contestants were the Multnomahs and the recently organized Rangers, and the game took place yesterday morning at the baseball grounds, before an enthusiastic crowd, the largest this season. The ground was in fair condition, and the muddy south side of the field was made passable with sawdust.

Dymont Stars Again. Dymont was again the star for the Multnomahs, and, although he said before the game started that he guessed he was going to have an "off" day, he never played more aggressively in breaking up combination and in blocking kicks that meant goals. Very few plays missed him as left fullback. I want to place my public appreciation on record of Dymont both as a gentleman and as a player. He exercises such excellent self-control. Dick at inside right, showed marked improvement and passed both promptly and quickly. Kydd clearly had an "off" day. He was aggressive enough, but he allowed the ball to pass him too often and "was slow in recovery. I counted four passes he missed, near the Rangers' goal, and although he said before the game started that he guessed he was going to have an "off" day, he never played more aggressively in breaking up combination and in blocking kicks that meant goals. I counted four passes he missed, near the Rangers' goal, and although he said before the game started that he guessed he was going to have an "off" day, he never played more aggressively in breaking up combination and in blocking kicks that meant goals. Very few plays missed him as left fullback. I want to place my public appreciation on record of Dymont both as a gentleman and as a player. He exercises such excellent self-control. Dick at inside right, showed marked improvement and passed both promptly and quickly. Kydd clearly had an "off" day. He was aggressive enough, but he allowed the ball to pass him too often and "was slow in recovery.
