

CAN'T GET JOBS TO SECURE NOTES

Aspirants for Presiding Offices in Legislature Under Ban, Too.

MUST OBSERVE NEW LAW

Corrupt Practices Act Applies to Candidates for President of Senate and Speaker of House. It Is Decided.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—Although many of the candidates for President of the Senate or Speaker of the House may not be aware of the fact, yet their campaigns for election come within the regulations of the corrupt practices act adopted by the people last June.

Section 16 of the act specifically provides that the term "public office" shall apply to the presiding office of either branch of the Legislature. Such candidates would not, however, be bound by section 8 of the act, limiting campaign expenditures, for that section applies only to a candidate "who has received the nomination to a public office." But they are apparently subject to the provisions of section 13 of the act, which forbids, directly or indirectly, promises of appointment to any position of honor, trust or emolument.

Under this regulation it will be dangerous for aspirants for presiding offices to promise committee chairmanships, by means of which these contests have frequently been decided in the past.

They are also bound to the terms of section 25, which prohibits treating, with the hope of influencing votes, and by section 27, which makes it unlawful to become a candidate for the purpose of defeating another candidate for office, or to induce another to obtain the office. The section relating to promises of appointment is apparently the one that applies most directly to the contest for Speakership and the Presidency of the Senate.

COPPER MINES TO RESUME

British Columbia Properties Feel Effect of Advance in Price.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—With the price of copper ranging around 14 1/2 cents per pound, and possibilities of 16 cents before the end of March, holders of mining properties from Vancouver north as far as Whitehorse, including those on the Alaskan coast, are making arrangements to start up again. There has been a year of idleness, caused by the low price of copper.

Already one property, the Copper King, of Whitehorse, has been shipped for a week and a half. The other mines in the Britannia north of Vancouver, 20 miles north of Vancouver, will start up with a large force of men. The Crofton smelter will be blown in to handle the Britannia ore. It is expected that by April 1, 1909 men will be given employment at the Britannia and the smelter.

OYSTERMEN FORM COMBINE

Washington Producers Agree There Shall Be No Price Cutting.

SOUTH BEND, Wash., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—A meeting of the principal oystermen of this bay was held in this city last night to discuss a plan for disposing of their products through a central selling agency. The several companies operating on this harbor were represented by A. P. Coakley, 37, 762; August Hucksstein, 38, 049; E. E. J. McAllister, 37, 161; Samuel White, 37, 777; George W. Brown, 29, 208; Hiram Gould, 29, 208; A. J. Hunsaker, 29, 211; McKeen, 29, 211; Peter Beck, 32, 222; W. T. Greder, 32, 222; James E. Quick, 32, 233; F. C. Vasser, 32, 233; and M. J. Malley, 21, 233.

MINING MEN ORGANIZE

Holders of Mayfield Claims Capitalize for $500,000.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—The Consolidated Gold and Copper Mining Company has been incorporated to operate in the newly opened Mayfield mining district. The capital stock is $500,000 and the officers are W. H. Springfield, president; George E. Cleaveland, secretary; J. S. McKenzie, treasurer; Mr. Chapman, secretary; George Browners is the company's mining engineer.

R. D. HUME LAID TO REST

Provisions of Salmon King's Will Not Yet Made Public.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—The body of R. D. Hume was buried today at Hunt Rock, the cemetery, which is located on the Rogue River near Wedderburn. It was his request to be buried there. A concrete vault was prepared and over it will be erected an elaborate monument.

TO HEAT SUBURBAN CARS

State Commission Will Also Request Other Conveniences.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—The Railroad Commission has taken up with the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company the consideration of the matter of heating all cars in the suburban service and also providing other facilities on such cars. Whether these improvements are practicable or not will be determined, if possible, in informal way, but if the Commission cannot agree the question will be set for a formal hearing.

TO CHANGE SCHOOL LAWS

State Teachers' Association Makes Suggestions to Legislature.

ELGIN, Or., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—Changes in the Oregon school laws were recommended to the Legislature by the State Teachers' Association at the session at Baker City, as follows:

WILL NOT EXHIBIT

No Hood River Fruit for Spokane Apple Fair.

OPPOSE JUDGING METHODS

Spitzenbergs and Newtowns Not Considered in Scale of Points in Awarding Prizes. So Growers Are Informed.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—Hood River apple growers refuse to make an exhibit at the National Apple Show in Spokane because of dissatisfaction with the methods of scoring to be used in making awards.

A. J. Mason, of the Hood River Commercial Club, offered a card to the Newtowns to be entered for the $1000 cash prize provided the judges employed the United States pomological score on quality. Secretary P. S. Davidson communicated by wire with the Spokane Fair manager and received word that the request would have to be denied.

Hood River had arranged for a special car for the trip to Spokane, December 6 to 12, but all such arrangements have been called off.

It is understood here that in the method of scoring for quality on a scale of 10, the Washington growers are given 10 points each, while the Oregon is given only 5. Newtowns and Spitzenbergs are not classified in the lists, decisions as to points on these items varying being left to the discretion of the judges.

TRIED TO MEET OBJECTIONS

Apple Fair Manager Says Scoring Points Are Practically as Desired.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—"I have done everything possible to pacify the Hood River apple growers, that they might make exhibits at the National Apple Show," said Manager H. J. Neely, of the National Apple Show. "Two days ago we received a telegram from them stating that they would only make an exhibit if we would change the scoring rules to correspond with those of the United States Pomological Society, and give them the privilege of selecting their own space. It was absolutely impossible to do either of these at this late hour, and aside from that, our scoring rules are practically the same as those employed by the Pomological Society, and when we formulated them we submitted them to the Hood River orchardists for their comments. They said that they were all right in every way."

"Several weeks ago the Hood River people raised the objection to the system of judging, and the prizes were to be awarded by popular vote, which would be unfavorable for their exhibits. I went to Hood River and explained to them that the judges were to be from the Pomological Bureau at Washington, D. C., and when they learned this they again promised to make a large exhibit."

"We will probably be unable to do anything with the last objection which they have raised, as we have already allotted considerable of the space, and as for changing the scoring rules, they will have to consult their exhibitor before this would be possible."

YAKIMA TO MAKE EXHIBIT

Will Send Several Cars of Fruit and 1000 Visitors.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—This city will send several carloads of fruit and 1000 people in a special train to Spokane to the National Apple Show there. Yakima citizens have begun to recognize the value of the fruit-growing districts of the Northwest, and that the interests of all are identical. To this end, the tendency here now is toward uniting with the growers of the state, Oregon or Idaho in displaying and advertising the products of the Pacific Northwest.

The motto of the fruitmen is that of the Northern Pacific: "There is glory enough for all," and they believe that when the East learns of the Coast there will be business enough for all.

RATE CONFERENCE IS OFF

Northern Pacific Declines to Meet Grays Harbor Committee.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—The Northern Pacific has declined for the present to meet the special committee appointed by the commercial organizations of Aberdeen, Hoquiam and Montesano for a conference on the subject of the new freight schedule that is announced for January 1.

In reply to the telegram sent Wednesday asking for the conference, Henry Blakely, general western freight agent of the Northern Pacific, with headquarters in Tacoma, has returned an answer to A. Rupert, of the committee, saying that his time is fully occupied the next ten days, and that he is inclined to think that too much stress is laid on the matter, since no discrimination is practiced by the Coast against lumber and forest products.

RUSHING RAILROAD WORK

Stranborn Line Expects to Be Operating Trains by Spring.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—M. L. Walker, of Ellensburg, right-of-way agent for the North Coast Railroad Company, says that the work on today on business connected with the Stranborn Road. When questioned as to his business in this locality, Mr. Walker was reticent, except to say that he had nothing to do with the proposed line to Walla Walla. He said that work on the line near Kennewick, and also on the bridge across the Columbia River near Two Rivers, is well under way.

Although not affirming that such was the case, he said it looked as if trains would be running on the line by next Spring, as it is proposed to finish the bridge before high water in June.

Senator Borah Says Their Work Injures Many an Honest Settler.

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 27.—(Special.)—In an address delivered in this city Wednesday, at a luncheon given by the Boise Commercial Club, Senator Borah severely criticized the Government's reclamation

CASTRO HAS TUMOR

Venezuela President Is in Very Critical Condition.

GOES TO PARIS HOSPITAL

Report Current That South American Official Would Not Be Allowed to Land at Bordeaux Is Vigorously Denied.

BORDEAUX, France, Nov. 27.—(Special.)—On landing here, President Castro of Venezuela, will go straight to Paris, where he will enter a hospital in the Rue de Turin, frequented by patients afflicted with serious stomach troubles. Friends of the President say that he is suffering from a tumor of the stomach, complicated with other gastric disorders.

Reports have reached Bordeaux to the effect that because diplomatic relations between France and Venezuela have been broken off, Castro will not be allowed to land. No confirmation of these reports is obtainable in official maritime circles. There has been a precedent for such action within the past 20 years in the case of another President of a South American Republic, who desired to visit France privately while there was trouble between France and his country. However, it is not believed that the government now will take any such action.

SCHEWELY GOT BIG FEES

LIVESTOCK ASSOCIATION'S RECEIVER REPORTS.

State Insurance Commissioner Has Served as Trustee of Defunct Company for Two Months.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—J. H. Schewely, State Insurance Commissioner (re-elected) is made to play a prominent part in the disposition of the surplus funds of the Pacific Livestock Association, according to the report of Lloyd E. Gandy, receiver.

This Eastern Washington organization went into the hands of a receiver early last year. The receiver's report shows that J. H. Schewely received $207.25 in commissions between January 1 and October 15, 1908.

Two months of this time he served as a trustee in the company and Gandy is prepared to show that during the time of his trusteeship the company was ineffectively managed by Schewely. Schewely is stated to have resigned or severed his connection with the state insurance office, but after remaining in Spokane for a month he returned again to the state office to take up active duties.

His income in commissions from the company extended over a period of three months and 15 days, for which he received an average of over $700 a month, over $200 per month net.

Mr. Schewely received commissions from the Pacific Livestock Association up to the month of October, 1908, and early in the Spring the company was declared insolvent and placed in the hands of the first receiver, Charles A. Murry.

His report was made March 14, 1907, and shows that J. H. Schewely received $161.50; total, $207.25.

Mr. Schewely's report mentioned in commissions the following items: "Sundry charges, 1907.75, net amount received $161.50; total, $207.25."

DEATH ROLL IN NORTHWEST

Carl Yung, Oregon City Boy, Meets Accident in East.

OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—Information reached this city today of the sudden and accidental death of Carl Yung in a Dakota town, where he was attending school. Carl was 17 years of age and was a teacher. Details of the unfortunate occurrence are lacking, but it is supposed that he was with his brother, who is a resident of Oregon City about two years. He was the son of the late Rev. Yung, formerly pastor of the German Lutheran church, of this city, and his brother, Rev. Yung, is pastor of a Seattle church. The body will be brought here for interment, and it is expected to arrive in Oregon City Sunday morning.

Dies at Canby, Aged 80.

OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—Mrs. J. Blacker died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Evans, at Canby, aged 80 years. The remains will be taken to the funeral home at Canby, where the body of her husband, who died in 1890, Mrs. Blacker was a well-known pioneer.

MURDERED FOR HIS MONEY

Seattle Business Man Found Dead in City's Suburb.

SEATTLE, Nov. 27.—Hugh McMahon, manager of the American Cafe and a well-known business man, was found dead, murdered, in the front yard of a residence next door to his own home at 8 o'clock this morning, out in the twilight of the city's suburbs.

McMahon's overcoat had been turned over his head, thus hiding his face. It had been battered to a pulp, and by slugs, and his skull had been fractured. The third finger of his left hand had been nearly torn off and a $400 diamond had been wrenched from it. A $100 watch had been missing and his pockets were turned inside out. It is believed that he had several hundred dollars in cash in his pockets, which were checked and found to be empty.

BREAK COTTON COMBINE

Agreement Between Foreign Powers in Carrying Trade.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 27.—News was brought by the steamer Glenfiddich that the Cotton Filed Conference, Australian, Hungarian and other lines engaged in the cotton carrying trade from Bombay had been ended, and efforts are being made to secure a new agreement. Japanese newspapers state that the Japanese lines on the Yang Tse Kiang are losing ground. They complain that British firms have lost during the last month.

It is believed that the Japanese case steamship manager who has returned from the Chinese river, says the British firms have secured the best sites along the Yang Tse Kiang, and the exclusion as far as shipping of other flags is concerned. He said the N. Y. K. had purchased the vessels of a British firm, but when the flag was changed the vessels were excluded from the British wharves.
