Division of Estate Worth $15,000. 000 Gives Mrs. Yerkes One-Half After Generous Gifts Are Deducted From Total.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. - (Special) - The children of Charles T. Yerkes will re-sist any attempt of the millionaire's widow, Mary Adelaide Yerkes-Mizner, to break his will. The admission of Executor Louis S. Owsley that Mrs. Mizner would seek to set aside the document to obtain her dower rights was followed by a statement that Charles E. Yerkes, of Chicago, and Mrs. Rondinella, of Philadelphia,

The will contains a special stipulation that the widow shall sign a waiver of her dower rights. It divides the $15,000,060 estate into four parts, after making numerous bequests, and leaves one-fourth to each of the children, and the remaining two parts to Mrs. Yerkes-Misner during her life. It is also provided that the widow shall ree $200,000 outright and like

The difficulty in disposing of the estate," Mr. Owsley said, "grows out of the fact that Mrs. Yerkes is planning to demand her dower instead of accepting what the will allows her."

HAS NO CLAIM TO PROPERTY

Mrs. Yerkes Renounced Rights to Traction King's Bequests.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.-A displaced entry in the records of the Clerk of the Probate Court, discovered here today, disclosed that Mary Adelaide Yerkes, widow of Charles T. Yerkes, renounced all claim to property bequeathed her by the late traction magnate's will and laid claim to one-third of the entire property. Further action in the case is said to await the payment by the estate of all of Mr. Yerkes' debts.

Mrs. Yerkes' renunciation of her rights nder the will was filed several months go. Whether her claim will jeopardize or invalidate, if successful, bequests made by the decedent, including that of his art gallery, valued at $5,000,000, to the City of New York, will, it is said, be determined by the Probate Court.

Irish Government Fears Letters Arc Forerunners of Serious Condition.

DUBLIN, Nov. 21 .- (Special.) -The alarming increase in the sending of threatening letters and the passing of intimidatory resolutions, which is gen-erally the forerunner of more serious forms of terrorism, has at last stirred up the government to call the attention of Irish journalists and others to the publication of resolutions and notices ninal libel and in timidation directed against the own-ers and occupiers of grazing lands. Tires of Service, Quits, Amid Direst of Threats.

PARIS. Dec. I.—(Special.)—A young man from the South has just had a good laugh at the army. He was willing to enlist, but wished to have a trial first, and succeeded. He wrote to the commanding officer at Sl. Germain, and was accorded but when it came to distinct the ing officer at Sl. Germain, and was accepted, but when it came to signing the contract he succeeded in avoiding it, and handed it back unsigned. The trick was not noticed, and after a week the young man, having had trial enough, decided that he preferred not to continue. Ha told the sergeant that he had made up his mind to leave the barracks, and was about to do so when he was stopped, and threatened with the usual military penual-ties. He had no difficulty in proving that he was under no obligations, and the authorities were obliged to let him go free.

HOW ELECTION OF TAFT IS VIEWED IN ENGLAND.

Telegraph of London Says Work and Business Can Now Go Ahead Speedily and in Safety.

LONDON, Nov. E.-(Special.)-The Daily elegraph, which is justly ranked as a leading newspaper, has had some things to say about the recent Presidential elec-tion which are of interest to all of us. In an able review of that momentous event the paper says: "Mr. Taft has been elected as Mr.

Roosevelt's successor, and now the American people, convinced that there never was a safer, a sounder nor a less sensational appointment, will settle down to work, feeling that for some time to come they are safe from surprises. Business is resumed as usual, and that result, excellent from a commercial point of view, for the United States themselves, will be good for the world's affairs.

America Regulates Trade.

"For weal or ili, America has become the great regulator of trade. The phy-chological moods of her mercurial cit-taens have a very rest influence upon the aterial interests of other people. The United Stazes, in a word, starts or stops the flywheel of the world's economic ma-chinery. From this point of view the end of every Presidential election is awaited with impatience, and there was perhaps never a moment at the close of a contest when the American people felt more sat-isfaction than now in knowing that every-thing is over. Yet to outsiders there is always something fascinating, as well as momentous, about these colossal struggles

Oregon Delegation Will Follow System in Vogue at Previous Session.

ABROGATION IS REFUSED

All Members of Delegation Refuse Flatly to Listen to Appeals From Constituents to Disturb Status Quo.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washngton, Dec. J .- It has been agreed by Senator Fulton and Representatives Hawley and Ellis to continue in force through the coming session the agree ment made by the delegation last Winter governing the distribution of Federal patronage in Oregon.

Under this agreement the entire delegation is to be consulted about general appointments, and on land office and presidential postoffice appoint-ments the Senator and Congressman in whose district the office is situated will make the selection. In every in-stance where there is disagreement the choice of the majority is to be binding on all. Exception is made re-garding postmasters in the homes of the respective members of the delega-tion, where each is accorded the right of choosing his own postmaster, provided always that his selection is not personally obnoxious to either Senator. Fulton, Hawley and Ellis have all received urgent appeals to abrogate the patronage agreement, but they flatly declined to make any change.

HAWLEY HAS WORK CUT OUT

Will Labor for Becognition of Oregon Waterways This Winter.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington. Dec. 2.—Representative Haw-ley, with his wife and daughter, arrived last night and again has taken apartments at the Oakland.

Mr. Hawley expects to see the river and harbor bill passed before March 4 and will devote much of his time this Winter to securing adequate recognition of Oregon waterways. Not only will be work for all the projects in-dorsed in the report of the chief of engineers, but for rivers and harbors positions experiments known to history. Here is a constituency of some 20,000,000 voters—20 times more numerous than even the fabulous computation of the hosts of Xerxes. Five-sixths of them go to the ballot box, and the whole huge process of the poll is completed in one day. 1—18 is eminently among the things they order the poll is completed in one day. 2—18 is eminently among the things they order the constituence of the engineers.
