TALKS OF CHARTER

Rev. W. G. Eliot, Jr., Tells East Siders About Plans.

FAVORS DES MOINES IDEA

After Thorough Discussion of Subject United Clubs Take Up Matters Regarding Paving and Send Resolution to Mayor.

For over two hours last night the United East Side Push Clubs, meeting at the Sargent Hotel, listened to an address by Rev. W. G. Eliot, Jr., and asked him questions concerning the proposed new charter; and also the speaker asked the audience questions. In the course of his talk the Rev. Mr. Eliot went over the new charter and gave the reasons for the adoption of the Des Moines plan. He also mentioned some of the objections to the plan, which he said were more than compensated for by the advantages. He said that he was not in harmony with the rest of the Charter Commission in the provision to submit franchises to a vote of the people, he holding that the responsibility should be placed on the city government. Mr. Eliot also said he favored retaining some of the boards, especially the Water Committee, a Health Board and possibly the Park Board.

Dr. C. H. Raffety, speaking of the construction of the new Bull Run pipe line, said that the new charter should make provisions for a construction committee, owing to the magnitude and importance of the project. He said that the members of the committee ought also to be paid for their time.

At the close of the charter discussion the club adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting of the United East Side Push Clubs that the contract be let, as per specifications of the City Engineer, for the improvement of Belmont street, with stone blocks between streetcar tracks, and that it be let at once.

The resolution will be presented to Mayor Lane today.

It was moved and carried that the city lay a block of the new pavement known as Petrolithic, to show what sort of an improvement it is. R. G. Knight presented the improvement for consideration, and said it cost one-half of the ordinary hard-pavement, and ought to be investigated.

SHE HAS MARRYING HABIT

Murderer's Wife Wanted on Bigamy Charge Takes Another.

Mrs. Kate Bradley, wife of the fugitive murderer of Patrolman Gittings, and also bride of a month of John Lacosso, an Italian bartender, is the object of a warrant of arrest issued in the Municipal Court yesterday forenoon, charging her with polygamy. Her newest husband appears as the complainant; and after searching for the woman all day the police report her a fugitive. It is said she has eloped with a second Italian.

Mrs. Bradley married Lacosso on November 13, in little more than a year from the day her husband murdered Patrolman Gittings, of whom he was insanely jealous. The murder occurred in front of an Albina saloon and Bradley escaped in the darkness. Although hunted for by the entire detective force no trace of him was ever secured.

Difficulty was found in making Lacosso understand that the marriage was not legal. Neighbors persisted in telling him, however, with the result that he applied to Deputy District Attorney Hennessy for a warrant of arrest.

Word was received yesterday that the woman left the city on an early train Wednesday and that she left in company with one of Lacosso's friends and countrymen. The police of neighboring towns and cities will be asked to arrest them.

What the Press Agents Say.

"The Beautiful Land of Nod."

There will be but three more opportunities to see the season's greatest extravaganza, "The Land of Nod," at the Baker. Tonight, tomorrow matinee and night will close its sensational run in this city. Knox Wilson is still in his old role of April Fool.

Throngs at the Bungalow.

The popular Bungalow is packed to the doors at every performance to see the great hit of the season, Belasco's "The Rose of the Rancho" this week. The leading roles are Juanita, the Spanish girl, played by Miss Jewel, and her American lover, played by Sydney Ayres.

"A Struggle for Gold" at the Star.

To a discriminating audience "A Struggle for Gold," which is the attraction at the Star Theater this week, appeals irresistibly with manners and conventionalities of Western life. The play gives opportunity for scenic picturesqueness, which is fully embraced.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

The Roneys Boys in Concert.

The Roneys Boys' Concert Company will give a matinee for school children Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the Masonic Temple Hall, West Park and Yamhill streets. These talented boys have been touring the entire Western country this season, playing to packed houses. The concert is not only delightful for children, but an incentive to cultivate their talents. It should be attended by all the school children.

Seats Selling for "The Devil."

The attraction at the Heilig Theater, Fourteenth and Washington streets, for three nights, beginning next Sunday, December 13, will be James D. Barton's company of players in Henry W. Savage's authorized version of the great international dramatic success, "The Devil." Seats are now selling.

Rah! Rah! Rah! Oregon.

The University of Oregon Glee and Mandolin clubs will give their annual "College Evening," consisting of vocal and instrumental music by the two clubs, interspersed with "funny stunts" by the different members at the Heilig next Wednesday night. This year's programme is said to be the best this popular college has yet sent out.

"The Sunny Side of Broadway."

Murray and Mack, who have won fame and fortune back of the footlights in every city in the country will open a week's engagement at the Baker Sunday night, in their latest big musical success, "The Sunny Side of Broadway."

"In Wyoming" Coming.

"In Wyoming," H. E. Pierce & Co.'s great play of Western ranch life, will be the attraction at the Star Theater next week. The selection of this drama of the West will meet with wide approval in Portland, and the production itself promises to be pretentious.

"The Man in Black," Orpheum.

Clivette, "The Man in Black," and the "Veiled Prophetess" will be seen at the Orpheum next week, in a rather startling and remarkable demonstration of mental telepathy, or psycho-astralism. Much public interest is given to thought transmission, and the work of these artists has aroused widespread comment.

Different From Them All.

Next week Madden and Fitzgerald will appear at the Pantages Theater in a comedy playlet entitled "The Turning of the Tide." These noted actors have created a sensation over the entire circuit and are bound to become popular with Portland vaudeville patrons.

Sketch Portland People.

Among the other acts on the new bill which opens at the Grand Monday will be Dolph and Susie Levine, who are free-hand artists and they will sketch pictures of well-known Portland people. There will be two other funny sketches, "The Baggage Smashers" and "A Snap Shot."

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Lind, the Baritone, at Orpheum.

Homer Lind, the great baritone now appearing at the Orpheum, made his first appearance in America at the Metropolitan Opera House, for the season of English opera. Mr. Lind has actually sang 120 roles, ranging from Ko-Ko in "Mikado," to Klingsor in "Parsifal."

Imitation Statues.

Imitation statues are posed by Professor Patterson's students at the Grand this week. The students are coated with bronze and they give absolutely perfect representations of classic works of art. The chief funmakers are Sherman and De Forrest, in "A Jay Circus."

Entirely New and Original.

You can search the world over and you cannot find another acrobatic team the equal of Baptiste and Franconi, appearing at Pantages Theater this week. Mr. Baptiste is the only man in the world that can walk on his head and was featured with the Ringling Brothers' circus last season.

FEARED BEING GRABBED

Woman's Nervousness From Coffee Drinking.

The brain acts through the nerves.

When the nerves are irritated by coffee drinking the mind often imagines things which have no real existence—such as approaching danger, unfriendly criticism, etc.

A Mich. woman suffered in this way but found how to overcome it. She writes:

"For twenty years I drank coffee, thinking it would give me strength when tired and nervous.

"The more coffee I drank, the more tired and nervous I became until I broke down entirely. Then I changed my work from sewing to house-work. This gave me more exercise and was beneficial, but I kept on drinking coffee—thought I could not do without it.

"I was so nervous at times that if left alone I would not go from one room to another for fear someone would grab me, and my little children had to go around on tiptoe and speak in whispers.

"Finally an attack of the grip weakened me so my nerves rebelled and the smell even of coffee was nauseating. Then my husband prepared some Postum for me, believing the long use of coffee had caused by break-down, so that my head and hands shook like the palsy.

"At first I did not like Postum but I kept on drinking it and, as we learned how to make it right according to directions on pkg., I liked it as well as coffee.

"Occasionally I make coffee when we have guests and give it to the children too, but as soon as they taste it they return their cups for Postum. Now I go anywhere in the house day or night and never think of any one grabbing me, and the children can romp as healthy children should—my nerves are all right." "There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.
