FIND CHIEF BIGGY'S BODY

REMAINS FLOATING IN BAY WITH FEATURES DISFIGURED.

Corpse Discovered by Ferryboat Crew—Coat, Gloves and Other Articles Complete Identification.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—The body of Chief of Police Biggy, who was drowned from the police launch Patrol opposite Alcatraz Island in San Francisco Bay on the night of November 30, was found this morning by the crew of the freight ferryboat Transit. It was floating off Goat Island, face upward, with the arms outstretched. The harbor police were at once notified, and, procuring a launch, Sergeant Donovan recovered the remains. The face is very much disfigured, but the body has been fully identified as that of the dead chief. When the corpse was taken from the water it had on the long coat and gloves worn by Biggy on the night of his disappearance. The launch with the body landed at the Mission-street wharf. Before the launch with Sergeant Donovan and several police officers on board reached the place where the body was first seen, it had been picked up by the crew of the scow schooner Georgia Woods, who aided in transferring it to the police boat. News of the recovery of the remains spread quickly, and an immense crowd assembled at Mission-street wharf, where they were landed.

In the presence of Acting Chief Cutler, Chief Deputy Coroner Kennedy and other officials, a search of the clothing in which the body was attired was made immediately upon arrival at the morgue. By means of the two badges which Chief Biggy wore, a hocket with his monogram, a muffer, stickpin, his police whistle and other articles, the identification was made beyond the shadow of a doubt.

The watch which Chief Biggy always carried was stopped at 9:12 o'clock. So far as could be ascertained, there were no papers in the pockets to which any significance could be attached, and it was concluded that if Chief Biggy had a written resignation prepared on the occasion of his visit to Police Commissioner Hugo Keill at the latter's home in Belvedere, he had disposed of it in some manner before he met his death.

Much to the surprise of the searchers, a hammerless revolver, with all chambers loaded, was found in a pocket, notwithstanding the fact that the late Chief's pistol was found after his death in a restaurant where he had dinner on the night of his death. There were no marks of violence on the body, but an autopsy will be held to assist, if possible, in clearing up the manner of death. The inquest probably will not be held until next week.

GIRL'S DEATH DREAM TRUE

Hazel Douglas Has Premonition and Is Fatally Scalded.

MONTESSANO, Wash., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—Miss Hazel Douglas, who was so badly burned last Thursday by a coal-oil lamp explosion, died early this morning.

The morning before the accident Miss Douglas had a dream that something was going to happen to her, for about 4 o'clock she woke Miss Kate Scott, whose room she shared, and told her that something awful was going to happen, and that if it did she wanted to be buried by the side of her mother in California.

All day she was nervous and excited over this, and it may have been partly this that caused the accident. She was a grandniece of Thomas Armstrong, of Westport, who was her only living relative.

Y. W. C. A. OFFICER DEPARTS

MISS CONSTANCE M'CORKLE LEAVES FOR THE EAST.

Did Exceptional Work While Here, and Resignation Is Sincerely Regretted.

Miss Constance M'Corkle, General Secretary of the Portland Y. W. C. A., has resigned her position and leaves tonight for her home at Harrisburg, Va. Miss M'Corkle was last Summer appointed General Secretary of the Richmond, Va. Y. W. C. A., but the officers of that organization gave her the privilege of remaining with the local Y. W. C. A. until it should be installed in its new quarters. Now that the change has been accomplished Miss M'Corkle feels that she is at liberty to withdraw.

Much regret has been expressed among members, officers and friends of the association ever since Miss M'Corkle's decision became known, although it was realized that her tenure of office was not permanent. Since coming to Portland in 1904 Miss M'Corkle has made for herself a wide circle of devoted friends by reason of her charming personality, exceptional executive ability and untiring efforts in behalf of young women.

In Miss M'Corkle's departure each member of the organization feels that she is losing a personal friend, so intimate and kindly have been the relations between the members and the General Secretary. Miss M'Corkle has had a wide experience in Y. W. C. A. work. Prior to coming to Portland in 1904 she was state secretary for the Y. W. C. A. in Missouri and Colorado. She came to Portland to assume the position of State Secretary. A year later she was placed in charge of the Y. W. C. A. work at the Lewis and Clark Fair. At the close of the Exposition she accepted the position of General Secretary of the local association for the purpose of assisting in the campaign for its building. Much of the success of that undertaking, it is freely conceded, was due to her efforts. Miss M'Corkle is succeeded by Miss Mary B. Day, formerly General Secretary of the Bellingham, Wash., Y. W. C. A.

Federal Building Site Selected.

LA GRANDE, Or., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—Official notice reached here tonight that the J. M. Berry property on Main street has been selected for a site for the Federal building proposed this city. The cost of the site is $3000.

STATE FAIR HAS SURPLUS

EXPENSES, HOWEVER, SHOW BIG INCREASE.

Legislature Asked to Provide More Money for Premiums—Other Requests of Board.

SALEM, Or., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—The annual report of Secretary F. A. Welch, of the State Board of Agriculture, made public today, shows that the operating receipts for the State Fair of 1908 were $45,114.47, as compared with $26,375.55 for 1907, and $19,240.58 for 1902, an increase of 25 per cent over last year and 100 per cent over six years ago. The operating receipts were chiefly from the following sources:

Gate receipts.....$23,471.10
 Race entries.....11,475.23
 Ground rent and license.....5,666.35
 Exhibit entries.....2,989.29

These, with the state appropriation of $10,000 for exhibit premiums, make a total income of $55,114.47. The expenditures were:

Maintenance and operation.....$17,607.42

Racing purses.....19,100.00
 Exhibit premiums.....13,344.25

Total.....$51,996.97

There is still due the Board from horsemen $4623, which, when collected, will leave the 1908 fair $7756 to the good.

The Board went in debt to Ladd & Bush $524.40 for money with which to make permanent improvements, and asks the Legislature to appropriate money to pay off this debt. The exhibit premiums paid exceeding the appropriation by $5000, and the Legislature is asked to increase the appropriation accordingly.

Further improvements asked for are that the Oregon building at Seattle be moved to the state fairgrounds; that a new secretary's office building be erected; that a stock-judging arena, an extended water system, drainage system, drinking fountains, shrubbery and new toilets be provided. No definite amounts are asked for these purposes.
