

FIGHTS TAKE DRAW

Hugo Kelly Gives Opponent Hard Battle.

LASTS 25 FAST ROUNDS

Furious Fighting With Honors Even Marks Encounter Between Pugilists—Kelly Had Apparent Lead in Sixteenth.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 15.—After 25 rounds of furious fighting the contest between Billy Papke and Hugo Kelly tonight was declared a draw.

The fighting was very fast in the first four rounds. In the fourth Papke knocked Kelly down for a count of eight. Otherwise the honors were about even.

At the end of the eighth round the fighting was still fast and nearly even. Papke, however, forced the fighting.

At the end of the twelfth round honors were even and the fighting was fast. Both men were strong.

At the end of the sixteenth round Papke's left eye was cleared and Kelly had an apparent lead.

Round 20 finds the men nearly even, although Papke's face shows severe punishment. He is, however, rather the stronger.

BONES 170,000 YEARS OLD

Frenchmen Find Human Remains Dating Back to Earliest Period.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—Abbes Bouysson and Bardon, who are conducting excavations at Chapelle aux Saints in the Correze Department, have discovered what are believed to be the oldest human remains, dating back 170,000 years, to the middle of the pleistocene age, the earliest period of geological history.

The skull presents a strong resemblance to that of a monkey, having a long jaw and being devoid of canine teeth.

The other bones are arched, showing that man usually walked on all-fours. The skeleton has been acquired by the National History Museum of Paris.

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 15.—Workmen employed on the water works tunnel under Toronto Bay yesterday found human footprints in the blue clay 70 feet below the water level.

The find was in interglacial clay deposited from 100,000 to 150,000 years ago, and is considered the most important geological discovery relating to that period made in America. City Inspector W. H. Cross said:

"It looked like a trail. There were over one hundred footprints, from large prints to the print of a child's foot, three and a half inches long. All were to the left. You could not see the hollow between the ball and heel in many of them, and they were all made with moss-covered feet. All pointed north, except where some turned off to the side."

FOR GOVERNMENT CONTROL

Lane Says Supreme Court Decision Favors Nation and Not Roads.

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Franklin K. Lane of the Interstate Commerce Commission, in an interview here regarding the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Hartman case, limiting the authority of the commission to compel answers to certain questions, said that in his opinion the decision would not result in any great limitation of the powers of the commission. He saw in the decision, however, a strong argument for governmental control over the capitalization of railway companies.

"It is of considerable moment to the railroad world," said Commissioner Lane, "whether a railroad can invest in the stocks of other railroads."

"The matter we were investigating was the use to which Hartman put the money which he derived from the sale of bonds of the Union Pacific Railroad. It was shown that he raised $100,000,000, which went largely into the purchase of stocks of other railroads, thereby imperiling the Union Pacific property."

"If the recent panic had been a more serious one, similar to that of 1893, for instance, and the stock which had been purchased with Union Pacific money had fallen in the market, it might have thrown the Union Pacific into the hands of a receiver, or at least might have made necessary a large increase in freight rates in order to meet the interest on the bonded debt of the road."

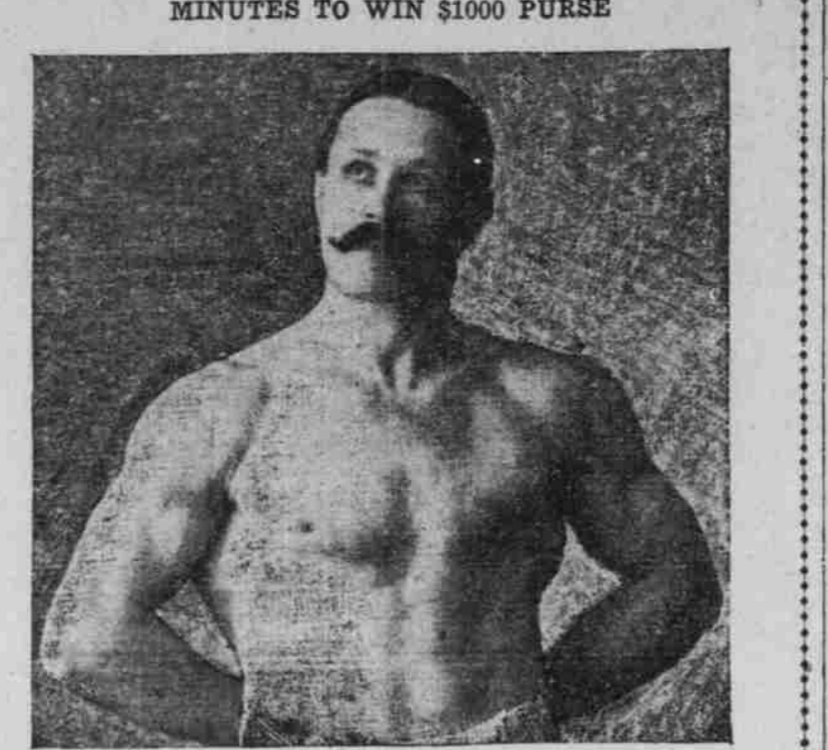

"The point which the Supreme Court makes is that this investigation did not deal directly with the questions of rates, which could be regulated by our commission. But if events had turned out less fortunately the financial methods of Hartman might have developed a situation which would have made the question of rates one of most immediate importance to the Union Pacific."

Realty Board Gathering a Most Notable Occasion.

"Rats," said Secretary James O. Rountree of the Realty Board, last night in the empty assembly room of the Commercial Club.

MUST THROW O'CONNELL THREE TIMES IN 60 MINUTES TO WIN $1000 PURSE

PROFESSOR MIKE J. DWYER.

Professor Mike J. Dwyer is on the way to Portland for his wrestling match with O'Connell at the Exposition Rink Thursday night. He left Chicago Sunday night and is expected here tomorrow morning. Pictures showing his handsome physique reached town yesterday, and where they were put on display attracted immediate attention. He is powerfully built and the wonderful development of his chest won him backers in many small bets around the smoke shops.

The fans are doing a lot of speculating as to what Dwyer is required to do to win the $1000 purse. It is understood that he is to throw O'Connell three times in an hour to win, but there is a question as to what will be the result if O'Connell throws Dwyer. One of the debaters said O'Connell might throw Dwyer half a dozen times and still lose if Dwyer threw him three times in 60 minutes. The exact terms of the match are: If Dwyer plus O'Connell's shoulders down three times in 60 minutes of actual wrestling he gets the $1000 purse.

There will be a ten-minute intermission after each fall secured. If O'Connell wins one fall he wins the match. If the bout goes the limit of time, and it is conceded even by O'Connell's most rabid supporters that he cannot expect to throw Dwyer, it will be longer than the Heinrich match, which is still talked of as the best ever held here. There were only 51 minutes of actual wrestling in that, but, with the intermissions, it took up the whole evening.

MATCH WILL SHOW SPEED

DWYER AND O'CONNELL ARE BOTH FAST MEN.

Local Man Will Have to Protect Himself Against Opponent's Advantage of 20 Pounds.

For speed and science in the wrestling game the match between Dwyer and O'Connell at the Exposition Rink tomorrow night promises to be the richest sporting event the Portland public has had a chance at for many a year. While O'Connell has had to exert himself as far as strength goes in his recent matches with Smith and Heinrich, there was nothing about either man that called for his speed or inside knowledge of the game.

With Dwyer it will be different. Dwyer is just as fast as O'Connell. He has had several years more of experience and with his 20 pounds advantage in weight he will make the local man go to the limit, if not beyond. But O'Connell will not be on the defensive all the time at that. The man who stays on bottom gets all the punishment in a wrestling match, and Smith can testify, and O'Connell is too old a hand at the game to take any more punishment than he has to.

O'Connell has not seen Dwyer since they wrestled five years ago and Dwyer threw him three times in 24 minutes. He looked at one of the full length pictures of Dwyer yesterday, studying his wonderful physical development. After gazing at it several minutes he said:

"Well, I see a hard night's work cut out for me. I would rather see a good man than win from a dud."

The comparative measurements of the two men are as follows:

IRRIGATION MEN MEET

STATE CONGRESS HOLDS SESSION AT BAKER.

Maiheur Project Urged—Forestry Policy Indorsed and Water Rights Bill Asked.

BAKER CITY, Or., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—The Oregon Irrigation Congress closed its session here tonight with a banquet at the Geiser Grand Hotel, given by the business associations of Baker City. According to Dr. James Whithycombe, Stephen A. Lowell, Walter Griffith and other prominent men in irrigation circles, this has been the best meeting ever held by the congress. The first session was held this afternoon and Dr. Whithycombe presided. Speeches were made on irrigation subjects by Stephen A. Lowell, of Pendleton; J. A. Smith, Joseph E. Barker of Baker City; Walter Griffith, of Ontario, and Forest Supervisor Clyde R. Seitz, of Eugene.

Prior to adjournment the Congress adopted resolutions urging the Federal Government to take up the Maiheur County irrigation project. Other resolutions adopted included a firm indorsement of the forestry policy now in practice, also the reclamation service, passage of a bill similar to the Portland Board of Trade bill, pertaining to water rights. The latter resolution brought forth a spirited discussion from Senator Walter Pierce, of La Grande, who opposed the measure, and Dr. Whithycombe and Judge Low-

CLUB MAY ENLARGE

Multnomah Club Members to Vote on Question.

DIRECTORS HOLD MEETING

Entire Organization Will Have Voice as to Whether Club Purchases King Tract for Addition to Present Field.

Following a lengthy discussion of the proposal to buy the King tract, adjoining the present grounds of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club on the south, the board of directors of the club last night voted to submit the proposed purchase to a vote of the entire membership on the night of the annual election, February 3, 1909.

Several of the club directors believe the quoted price of the tract, $50,000, to be too high, and therefore did not care to undertake the responsibility of adding such an indebtedness upon the institution. Other members of the board who are heartily in accord with the proposition, claim that the same spirit was shown when it was proposed to buy the present site, and these members point with pride to the magnificent equipment now the fruit of that investment. They also claim that the adjoining four acres and a fraction, comprising the King tract, are absolutely needed by the club, for their present houses are inadequate for the requirements even at the present time.

The present site of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club forms a natural amphitheater, of which the proposed purchase is a part. Owing to the fact that this property adjoins the club and is a part of the old Tanner-Crook gulch, which now forms Multnomah Field, the acreage would form a most welcome addition to the present grounds, for the reason that it will afford an ideal site for the new clubhouse as well as affording an opportunity for enlarging the grounds as laid out at present. Track athletics will form a prominent part in the sports of the club next year, and the present field, while commodious enough in most respects, is hampered in length and width in many instances. In the 100 yards dash and the 120 yards hurdles it has been necessary for the runners to make a small turn at the end of the course. If the property is added to the club, the field, by diagonally crossing the field, to make a straightaway 220 yards course.

The friends of the new movement intend to work hard to accomplish the ratification of the purchase by the club and will labor from now until February 3 for that purpose.

THEY ALL WANT OLSON NOW

LITTLE INFELDER SEEMS TO BE GOLD MINE.

McCreddie Refuses All Offers for Ivor, and Expects Big Sensation From Him.

Infelder Ivor Olson, McCreddie's youngster, whom he picked up over a year ago, and who played with the consent of the Portland team with the Hutchinson (Kan.) team last season, is a player very much in demand these days. Scarcely a day passes that the mail does not bring the Portland manager an offer for Olson. In fact no less than 12 clubs have signified their willingness to either buy or trade for this player.

Naturally all of these offers cause McCreddie to smile serenely, for he is now assured that he is in possession of a prize on the order of Joe Tinker and Bill Sweeney.

"Will I sell him?" answered Manager McCreddie, in response to a query. "Well I should say not. I have not a single man for sale and the buy. As far as Olson is concerned I would not part with him at this time under any circumstances. I believe that I shall have a hard time holding him here for another year, for he is the most promising big league timber I know of at this stage of the game. From what Jay Andrews, my former player with Portland, and who managed the Hutchinson team, says, this lad Olson will be the sensation of the Coast next Fall, and Jay ought to know, because he has played in the major leagues several seasons. The 'nothing doing' sign is out when any one desires to propose the sale of this youngster."

Ivor Olson was purchased by Manager McCreddie from the Wichita club of the Central League, in the Fall of 1907, but owing to a salary dispute he refused to report. However, before being black-balled, he came to time but then it was too late for McCreddie to use him, so he turned the young player over to Jay Andrews.
