

FORM COALITION TO BEAT G. P. TAFT

Probable Climax on Ohio Senatorship Is Alliance of Foraker With Burton.

DICK WORKING FOR TAFT

Anti-Taft Men Say President-Elect's Brother Is Nine Short of Majority—Burton Fighting to Prevent Caucus.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 22.—(Special.)—The candidates for the office of United States Senator from Ohio are today in the fighting ground, and from now until January 12 the machinations of astute political seekers for the office will be in full play.

Mr. Taft is the candidate of the big Ohio political machine. As such, his campaign is being pushed by Arthur I. Vorys. The report that he had been deposed as Mr. Taft's manager is denied by the candidate himself.

There seems to have been no outward coalition against Mr. Taft. All the candidates working for themselves, but under the surface there is indication that such action will be taken when the vote is started and the strongest opponent of Mr. Taft is discovered.

It appears that the field will unite strongly against Mr. Taft. The opposition says that Mr. Taft will be nine votes on the first ballot, conceding him some doubtful members of the Legislature.

JUDGE SCARES REPORTER

FORCES HIM TO TELL WHERE HE GOT INFORMATION.

Newspaper Man Implicates Court Stenographer and Hanford Becomes Wrathful.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 22.—Declaring that a report printed in the Post-Intelligencer on Sunday concerning the trial of J. P. Holt, who is charged with the murder of Henry E. Johnson, a musician at Fort Worden, was unreliable and therefore misleading, Federal Judge C. H. Hanford this morning cited C. E. Hunt, a reporter, and without placing him under oath or regularly summoning him to appear, compelled him to divulge his source of information.

The investigation revealed the fact that the story objected to was authentic and was given by an employe of the court. After the prosecution and defense had rested, Judge Hanford, on Saturday, allowed the jurors to return to their homes without guard until today, when the trial was to be continued.

Addressing Hunt, Judge Hanford said: "You will tell where you obtained this information or stand convicted before this jury of being a liar."

THREE BISHOPS IN SUIT

RELATIVES OF ELIJAH HAYS WANT CHURCH MONEY.

Declare Late Bishop McCabe Got Big Share of Estate for Missions by Improper Means.

WARSAW, Ind., Dec. 22.—Charges involving three Methodist bishops are incorporated in suits filed today to set aside title to lands and other property owned by the late Elijah Hays, of Warsaw, to the missionary board of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The complaint declares that the late Bishop McCabe, by undue and improper advantage, obtained possession of $25,000 belonging to Elijah Hays and wrongfully persuaded and compelled Hays to sign a deed conveying to others that sum of money. It is charged that Bishop McCabe and others persuaded Hays to deed to the Methodist missionary board property valued at $127,000. The suit is brought by distant relatives of Hays.

SANDBAGGED; LOSES $383

C. D. Jeffries, Formerly of Spokane, Is Hobbed in Oakland.

OAKLAND, Cal., Dec. 22.—(Special.)—Charles D. Jeffries, for many years manager of the Spokane Interstate Fair Association and a well-known resident of the northern city, is confined to his room at 724 Fourteenth street today, suffering from the effects of the terrific blow dealt him by two footpads last night, when he was returning from San Francisco. Jeffries was surprised by the two men, who stepped from a shadow on each side of him, at Thirteenth and Castro streets, within a block of his room. He was hit with a sandbag and rendered unconscious before he had an opportunity to observe his assailants. The victim was robbed of $33 in gold and currency which he had drawn from his bank with a view of purchasing some horses in Alameda County.

Detectives worked on the case today, but no clues were found as to the identity of the thugs. John Miller of 275 Twentieth street, found the empty pocketbook which had contained the currency, near the scene of the attack.

BISHOP M'QUAID DYING

Noted Catholic Teacher and Writer Not Expected to Live.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 22.—Bishop Bernard J. McQuaid of the diocese of Rochester, may not live through the night.

Bishop McQuaid was the first Roman Catholic bishop of Rochester, being consecrated in 1888. He was born in New York December 15, 1823, and studied for the priesthood at Chambliss College, Montreat and later at Fordham College, New York. After finishing the classical course there in 1842, he taught for three years. He was ordained in 1848, and took his first church in New Jersey.

He founded Seton Hall College and Seminary and was its president for ten years. Part of this time he was pastor of Newark Cathedral. He was a writer and lecturer of note, and was an earnest advocate of parochial schools for Catholics.

Bishop McQuaid, who celebrated his 85th birthday last week, has been ill for more than six months.

BIGGY'S DEATH ACCIDENT

All Witnesses Say No Apparent Reason for Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22.—Examination of half a dozen witnesses before a coroner's jury today failed to throw any additional light upon the manner in which W. J. Biggy, late Chief of the Police Department, met his death in the waters of San Francisco Bay. All the witnesses agreed that Biggy was in his usual spirits, that he showed no evidences of intoxication and that there was no apparent reason why he should commit suicide. On the afternoon in question, however, the Chief had declined to severally private that he was being shadowed by private detectives, but the circumstance was a source of annoyance rather than depression.

The jury returned a verdict that death was due to accidental drowning.

ASTORIA SALOON ROBBED

Thugs Active While Policeman Goes to Eat Supper.

ASTORIA, Or., Dec. 22.—(Special.)—The Horseshoe Saloon, on Astor street and 15 men, including two proprietors and the bartender, who were in the saloon, were held up by two masked men about 1 o'clock this morning. The robbers came in through the front door, and after driving all the occupants into a back room, one covered them with a revolver while the other rifled the cashregister, securing $25.

Nothing else was disturbed. The thugs then departed and no trace of them has been found. The robbery occurred while the policeman on that beat was at his supper.

JAPAN GIVES DECORATION

Confers Medal on Captain Who Rescues Marooned Sailors.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 22.—Captain R. D. McGillivray, master of the steamer Jennie, today received a silver medal and diploma from the Imperial Japanese government from the Board of Decorations of Japan. This was conferred because of his heroic action in rescuing six Japanese sailors who had been marooned on Malaspina Glacier after their schooner, the Satsuma Maru, had been wrecked. At the risk of his own life, Captain McGillivray took off six men and reported the matter, so that a revenue cutter was dispatched to the assistance of those left behind. The schooner was wrecked on November 2, 1907, and the Jennie rescued the six on February 8 of this year.

DUKE NEGLECTED HIS DUTY

Failed to Properly Search Shoes of Heney's Would-be Assassin.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22.—The Police Commissioners at the close of an executive session today announced that after a thorough investigation of the circumstances connected with the suicide of Morris Haas at the branch County Jail the day following his attempt to kill Francis J. Heney they were unanimously of the opinion that the derring-do with which he ended his own life had been overlooked by Captain Duke who searched him after the shooting of Mr. Heney in Judge Lawlor's courtroom.

By a vote of 2 to 1 the Commissioners found Captain Duke guilty of neglect of duty and fixed Wednesday, December 23, as the date for imposing sentence.

TO EXTEND WATER SYSTEM

Astoria Water Commission Opens Sealed Bids.

ASTORIA, Dec. 22.—(Special.)—The Astoria Water Commission met this afternoon to open bids for laying 12,000 feet of 24-inch reinforced concrete pipe and 120 feet of steel pipe to replace the wooden portion of the main conduit between the headworks on Bear Creek and Little Bear Creek. Three bids were received as follows: Gooding, Palmberg & Mattson, Astoria, $28,418; Paquet, Globisch & Joplin, Portland, $47,351; Arthur & Bent, Portland, $41,800.

The estimate on this work was about $53,000 and all the bids were referred to the Engineer to be reported upon at an adjourned meeting tomorrow evening. The Commission decided to purchase $2000 of its outstanding 5 per cent bonds for the sinking fund at $1,065.

FALLS FROM TRAIN; DYING

Man Thought to Be Chris Hevitt Is Found on Track.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Dec. 22.—A man supposed to be Chris Hevitt, a wealthy contractor of either Spokane, Wash., or Salt Lake, Utah, was found this morning at Highland Junction by George Evans, a rancher, who heard his groans. The man had evidently fallen from an overland train. Besides a broken leg and serious lacerations of the head and body he sustained concussion of the brain and internal injuries. He has not recovered consciousness.

CASTRO'S DEPUTY TURNS ON CHIEF

Gomez Sets Up New Government and Names Another Cabinet.

REBELS COWED BY FORCE

Departing President Believed to Have Given Out Farewell Message to People of Venezuela.

FORO OF SPAIN, Dec. 22.—Vice-President J. Vincent Gomez, to whom General Cipriano Castro handed over the presidency on his departure for Europe, has established a new government in Venezuela. He has replaced the old ministry with a new body of men, who represent various factions in the state and who have figured prominently in various ways in the country's political history.

Not only has Dr. Jose de Jesus Paul disappeared from the councils of the nation, but Dr. Baldo, who is now traveling in Castro's suite abroad, also has been removed from his official position as Minister of Education. General Diego Fernan, the Minister of War, has been temporarily succeeded by General Redulo Olivares, who took a prominent part in crushing the revolutionists six years ago. A new Governor of Caracas has been appointed.

Secret advices from Caracas, where the strictest censorship is being observed, indicate that the whole of Venezuela has been in a ferment ever since President Castro sailed, and that the crisis was reached a few days ago when it became necessary for Acting President Gomez to take decisive steps.

The revolutionary factions played a prominent part in the demonstration against the absent President. These were temporarily checked by a show of force, and later the revolutionary influence that threatened to sweep the country was overcome in a measure by promises that could not be held long in abeyance.

The establishment of a new government in Venezuela has been expected daily and it is probable that it was the outcome of the demands which began almost the day before leaving, Castro, in proclaiming Vice-President Gomez his temporary successor, said to the nation:

"Surround me and lend your co-operation in the fulfillment of my mission as if it were I myself and you will have done your duty."

In the same proclamation President Castro gave utterance to what might be taken as a farewell message: "The Venezuelan nation is already on the road to true prosperity and greatness because of the strict fulfillment of obligations and the condition of the revenues; and because of the state of peace which we enjoy and which it is your duty to maintain, that my work may endure."

On December 14 the people of Caracas arose against the government of the President and burned them in the public places; they wrecked buildings and applied the torch, sweeping through the city and gathering strength and fury with every new act of violence.

Gomez was far from secure. It was brought forcibly to him that he must either withdraw from that office or cast aside those of Castro's ministers who still were trying to force the Castro rule upon the people. Apparently he chose the latter course.

He first declared the country in a state of defense, thereby securing control of the army, and then appointed a new Cabinet.

On several other occasions when Castro has turned over the government to Vice-President Gomez it was freely predicted that Gomez would succeed Castro as president of the country in favor of his candidacy being General Arando, the former Minister of War, who worked earnestly to place Gomez in power.

GETTYSBURG OF TODAY

Veteran Muses Over Scene of the South's Great Defeat.

Edward W. Thomson in Boston Transcript.

Gettysburg! The name is as a sword and a banner and glory and woe and a broken column and a field of graves. Men in Boston told me not to go. The place, these acute critics said, was made ridiculous by multitudes of preposterous monuments. One may, after getting safely out of Boston, pity these critics. For the field of Gettysburg is a most touching spectacle, noble, worth traveling across oceans to see, as an epitome of the poetic, simple, good, generous heart of the American democracy. Every Federal regimental line of the three days of July fighting is marked out by bronze tablets and the immortal Army of Northern Virginia is placed in eternal position by the Government of the re-united states. Oh, the wide circled graves of the host of indistinguishable dead—little nameless tablets for each fallen soldier! One would covet a place there, so heroic it seemed to have poured out life's blood for duty without leaving even a name, saying in the aching hearts of those who knew that their beloved must lie among the unrecognized slain of Gettysburg. And what is a name or any monument or tablet of that field? All the inscribed are nearly forgotten. Visitors ask about some hero very famous in his time (and mine): "Who was he?" In effect, the dead there are all alike, essentially unnamed, becoming quickly unrecognized, even as the winds of night and the memories of war. And the wholly unnameable when the final roll call is sounded, shall surely be as familiar as any to the judgment seat nor less applauded by the shadowy hands of heaven.

Our range of colors for shirts is almost unlimited, but greens and tans in plain shades are leaders.

There is art, and even great art at Gettysburg, rarely, in certain shafts and bronze equestrian and standing statues of the marshals of the hosts that were. But art is small, insignificant, concealed; a toy, a diminished, cuffed idea, at Gettysburg. The grand, natural spectacle and the sense of the figures "did here" reduce to a sort of triviality the memorials which most obviously celebrate the heroes artistically. Strangely proper seemed the homelier work of the horse and gun, and men, devised lovingly by the village stone cutter, he striving so vainly to symbolize the man or the regiment, the horse and the gun, the soldier folk who gave him his commission after putting hard hands down into poor pockets to pay his quest for the horse and the gun, and men, devised lovingly by the village stone cutter, he
