FORTUNE TO FOUR

Spreckels Estate Left Widow and Three Children.

OTHER TWO PROVIDED FOR

Will of "Sugar King" Filed for Probate, and Two Sons Are Named Executors—Amount of His Wealth Not Estimated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—The will of the late Claus Spreckels, which was executed in New York May 11, 1907, was filed today with the County Clerk. Under its terms, the widow, Anna Christina Spreckels, is given a life interest in the estate, which, after her death, is to be divided between her three children, Claus A. Spreckels, Rudolph Spreckels and Mrs. John Ferris, of Kingswood, England, formerly Miss Emma Spreckels. The testament recites that the other two sons, John D. and Adolph, have been liberally provided for during the life of the testator. The value of the estate is not given, but it has been estimated at as high as $50,000,000.

Widow Gets Income for Life. Mrs. Anna Spreckels, who is now 75 years old, will receive the net income of the properties while she lives, after which the three legacies will share alike, except for the provision that Mrs. Ferris' portion is to revert to the estate in case she dies without children before the death of her mother-in-law, England. In the event of Claus A. or Rudolph Spreckels dying before their mother, their share of the deceased's fortune is to be equally divided among the others. Claus A. and Rudolph Spreckels are appointed executors of the estate without bonds, and trustees with absolute power to make such disposition of the properties as they see fit, without being liable for any losses that may be sustained. The witnesses to the will are William W. Cook, of New York; Thomas B. Jones and Richard Thompson, the latter two of Brooklyn. Mr. Cook is a prominent lawyer of New York City.

Simpson and West Vow They Will Not Be Taken Alive—Ryan Knew Not of Search.

ELEPHANT ON HIS HANDS

Mark Twain Now in the Same Fix as Wang, of Opera Fame.

DANBURY, Conn., Dec. 28.—Redding, where Mark Twain lives in an Italian villa, is laughing over a practical joke on Mr. Clemens. Robert J. Collier, the New York publisher, wrote to Mr. Clemens secretary a few days before Christmas that he had arranged to give the humorist an elephant for a Christmas present. He asked them to prepare a place for it and the family, unwilling to risk an injury to Mr. Collier's feelings, prepared to turn the garage into elephant quarters. A few days later a load of hay was received with the compliments of Mr. Collier, who sent word that it was for the elephant to eat. Next came a man who introduced himself as Professor May, a professional elephant trainer, who caused the garage floor to be strengthened. The elephant arrived at night and when Mr. Clemens went to view his gift he discovered in his garage a paper-mache elephant as big as a full-grown cow. Consul J. A. Leonard, Shanghai. ROCHESTER, Minn., Dec. 28.—J. A. Leonard, Consul-General at Shanghai, China, in 1880, died here today of cancer, aged 78.
