THE MORNING OREGONIAN, TUESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1909.

Possibility of His Defeat for President of the Senate Appears Remote.

CAUCUS EIGHTEEN WANT

Of These, 15 Are Pledged to Vote for Bowerman-Sixteen Votes Needed to Elect in Session of Sen-- How They Stand,

Should the 15 Republican State Senators, who have agreed to mucus for the President of the Oregon Senate, carry out that plan, there is little doubt that Bowerman, of Gillam, Sherman and Wheeler, will be chosen to that office in Salern next week. The caucus plan seems so well cinched, by the individual and written agreements of the 18, that caucus failure is regarded as a very remote contingency.

mote contingency. Sixteen votes will elect the President on the floor of the Senate, and ten will control the IS in cancus. Howerman has the avowed support of 15, including him-self, with a likelihood that soveral others will be added to it—Kay of Marion and Abraham of Domilas, and perhuse Beach will be added to it it is any of Marion and Abraham of Douglas, and perhups Beach and Ealley of Multoomah. So big did Bowerman loom up in the fight yester-day that Beach, who has been heading the opposition, called on him, for the purpose, it is supposed, of opening up friendly relations. Beach had just heard the news that behave of Beach and fine news that Beach had just heard the news that Johnson of Benton, Coffey of Multinomah and Parrish of Grant were in the Bower-man camp. This was a big surples to the Beach forces, although not to the Bowerman element. It meant the col-lapse of the Beach-Balley-Hodson game of politics.

r politics. In some quarters the prediction was unde that Beach and Balley would re-udiate their cancus agreement, in order o carry their fight to the floor of the Senate, where they would be alded by the five Statement Republican members, who have thus far refused to go into caucus, and the seven Democratic memers, making a total strength of 14. But this project would not defeat the anons, since to reduces Bowerman's sup-ort to 15. Kny, of Marion, would have to port to 16, Kay, of Marion, would have to be induced to stay out of caucus. But Kay declared in Portland Sunday that any game to defeat caucus would meet with his opposition and that should any of the parties to the caucus agreement repudiate it, he and his influence would stand in the breach. At the present time, the line-up of the 27 Receibless members is as follows:

At the present time, the inte-up of the 23 Republican members is as follows: Pledged to caucus and Bowerman-Hart, Parrish, Merryman, Coffey, Not-tingham, Scholfield, Barrett, Wood, Bing-ham, Dr. J. Although in some quarters it was said yesterday that Bailey and Beach might now oppose a Republican caucus, this is not generally believed. The Bower-man forces say they do not believe it, and that they wish to maintain ami-cable relations with the two Multnemah men, if for no other reason that that they have agreed to a caucus that will keep the Senate organization in the Republican family. In the Speaker fight, McArthur still maintains a long lead ahead of Pation, the Marion Statement candidate, and his forces are perfecting plans for a House caucus. Up to last night 27 Re-publican Representatives had signed the caucus call, and the completion of required 31 caucus pledges appears to be a matter of but a day or two.

The purpose of the amend-ment is to extend the jurisdiction of the Commission to all public service utilities, including street railways, electric light and gas companies, telegraph and telophone companies. In order that the enlarged duties of the Commission can be attended to prop-erly, the amendment will provide that the membership of the Commission be increased from three to five. It has not been decided finally to present such an amendment, but the legislative com nittee of the club has the matter under serious consideration. Forty-fifth Precinct Club to Meet.
