Of the 90 members of the two houses in the session of the Oregon Legislature, which will be convened at Salem next Monday, 22 are lawyers. Of that number of the legal fraternity 10 are included among the 30 members of the Senate and 12 are members of the House. The next largest number in any one profession or class of business is found among the merchants, of whom there are 13 in all, four in the Senate and nine in the House.

As to professions or business pursuits, the 30 members of the Senate are distributed as follows: Lawyers, 10; doctors, 5; merchants, 4; bankers, 2; manufacturers, 2; druggists, 2; printers, 2; life insurance agents, 1; tailors, 1; real estate and timber dealers, 1.

In the House the 60 Representatives are divided among the various professional and business occupations as follows: Lawyers, 12; farmers, 11; merchants, 9; doctors, 4; real estate and timber agents, 4; druggists, 3; bankers, 2; horticulturalists, 2; manufacturers, 1; printers, 1; traveling salesmen, 1; fire insurance agents, 1; dentists, 1; teachers, 1; advertising agents, 1; transfer agents, 1; capitalists, 1; cattlemen, 1; ministers, 1; dairymen, 1; contractors, 1.

It will be seen from the segregation of the Senate members that there is not a single agriculturist in the 30 members of the upper house. The House of Representatives, however, is represented by 11 farmers from various sections of the state.

The members of the two houses are distributed as to professions or occupa-

Old-Timers Among Solons.

Senator-elect C. W. Parrish, of Grant, was at one time District Attorney of Multnomah County, about 20 years ago. One of the distinguished members-elect of the House, E. W. Conyers, of Columbia County, was the member of the Oregon Legislature in 1889 who cast the deciding vote that sent James W. Nesmith to the United States Senate. Senator Nesmith is the grandfather of Representative-elect C. N. McArthur, aspirant for Speaker in the approaching session of the Legislature.

Undoubtedly the oldest member of the coming session of the Legislature is Representative-elect Conyers, of Columbia, who is 82 years old. Probably the youngest member of either house is Representative-elect Jones, of Douglas County, who is said to be only 24 years old.

Of the 30 members of the Senate only one is known to be a bachelor. He is Dr. George H. Merryman, of Klamath County. The unmarried element, however, has a larger representation in the House, where there are at least eight who have thus far defied the entreaties of Cupid. They are: McArthur, McDonald and Mahone, of Multnomah; McCue, of Clatsop; Brattain, of Lake; McKinney, of Baker; Brooke, of Malheur, and Mariner, of Sherman. There is a vague rumor, however, that McCue, who resides by the sad sea waves, will soon become a benedict.

The Jones family is well represented in the House this eyar. Three of the members will respond to that name in the roll call. They are: George Jones, of Douglas; Linn E. Jones, of Clackamas, and B. F. Jones, of Polk. There is only one Smith in the House this year. He is J. C. Smith, of Josephine. The Smiths, however, are better represented in the Senate, where the names of two of this family appear on the roll call—J. N. Smith, of Marion, and C. J. Smith, of Umatilla, both being members of the medical profession. Two Jones also appear in the list of Senate members, while only one Miller, D. H., of Jackson County, is found among the 60 members of the House. The two Senate members of that name are M. A. Miller, of Linn, and Frank J. Miller, of the same county, who represents both Linn and Lane counties in the legislative halls.

CIVIC FEDERATION MEETS

Legislative Committee Named by Portland Branch of Society.

The board of control of the Civic Federation Society of Portland elected the following legislative committee at its meeting last night: C. W. Nottingham, L. D. Mahone, W. R. Litzenberg, E. F. Allshaw and M. C. Reed, the latter being the chairman of the board. Miss Edith Frederberg, of the Swedish Methodist Church, was elected corresponding secretary of the organization, the election of a secretary and treasurer being left without action until the next meeting, which will be called by the chairman. There was some talk last night of launching a 16-page journal, it being understood that if this was done the Municipal Association would also use it as its official organ. But definite action was deferred until a later meeting.

Owing to the snow and cold weather, the mass meeting of the society, which was held at the Taylor-street Methodist Church last night, was poorly attended. Bishop Smith, of the Methodist Church, and Mr. Jamieson, of the White Temple, delivered stirring addresses, advocating more work along the line of civic righteousness, and less theory.

FACES CHARGE OF MURDER

GRAND JURY INDICTS SLAYER OF T. J. M'GALLIARD.

S. Osborne Edwards Firm in Story That He Shot Richelieu Watchman in Self-Defense.

S. Osborne Edwards, the young man who shot and killed Thomas J. McGalliard in the Richelieu lodging-house Tuesday night, was yesterday indicted by the Multnomah County grand jury on a charge of murder in the first degree.

Edwards, with his cousin, Wheeler Caudill, 19 years old, engaged in a dispute with McGalliard over the renting of a room, and in the ensuing quarrel McGalliard was killed, while Caudill received a wound in the arm which resulted in his being taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, where he is a prisoner in the custody of a deputy sheriff. Caudill is being held as an accessory to the murder.

Edwards yesterday repeated his explanation of the shooting, wherein he declares that McGalliard assaulted him when Caudill asked the landlord a question, implying that the Richelieu was a disorderly house. At the time this question was asked, according to Edwards, McGalliard was escorting him and his brother to a room for which they had applied and the lodging-house keeper immediately struck Edwards and knocked him down. The prisoner also declares that McGalliard kicked him while he was down, and it was this which caused him to draw his gun and shoot. Edwards yesterday exhibited several bruises on his legs, which he says were inflicted by McGalliard.

Coroner Norden held an inquest over the remains of the murdered man, but there were no new developments and the jury returned a verdict that McGalliard came to his death from gunshot wounds inflicted by S. Osborne Edwards, whom the deceased was trying to eject from the Richelieu rooming-house, of which he was night watchman.

Edwards and Caudill arrrived in Portland Tuesday afternoon from Cresswell, Lane County, where they had been working for about a year. Previous to that time they lived in North Carolina.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 6.—(Special.)—Fire this afternoon completely destroyed the roof of W. Padden's frame building on Main street and ate its way into the Log Cabin saloon. The total damage to both buildings and to furnishings amounted to $1500. The fire was caused by a defective flue.

ALLEGED ACCOMPLICE IN ANNIS MURDER ON HIS WAY TO COURT BETWEEN TWO OFFICERS

THORNTON JENKINS HAINS.

SCANDAL SPRUNG IN TRIAL OF HAINS

Prosecutor Attempts to Show That Thornton Hains Loved Mrs. Hains.

PRISONER DENIES CHARGE

On Stand for Six Hours, Captain's Brother Fails Seriously to Contradict Former Testimony, but He Varies Some Details.

FLUSHING, L. I., Jan. 6.—For more than six hours today District Attorney Darrin kept Thornton J. Hains under a ceaseless fire of cross-examination, and while the defendant frequently admitted that he could not remember some of the minor details, the main essentials of his direct testimony remained unshaken.

Hains, charged with the killing of William E. Annis, told the court that he had been ill yesterday. This, he declared, caused him to be forgetful. He was still under the prosecutor's fire when the court adjourned.

District Attorney Darrin led the defendant to admit that when Annis' boat was nearing the float he told Captain Hains he was going home, and left the Captain standing on the dock, showing every evidence of mental disturbance. Hains said he walked about 30 or 40 feet toward the clubhouse, and when he turned around Captain Hains had disappeared. The shooting followed.

Justice Crane informed counsel that they must have their evidence in by Saturday night.

Armed with a batch of affidavits from Mrs. Hains, District Attorney Darrin put Thornton Hains through a grilling cross-examination, endeavoring to show that he had threatened Annis with death long before the shooting.

Thornton J. Hains announced that at a dinner with the Captain and his wife over a year ago, he had complained bitterly of Annis because his manuscripts had been refused.

"Did you tell Mrs. Hains at that time that you would get even with Annnis?" asked Mr. Darrin.

"No, I didn't."

The witness said that he had learned from the servants that Annis had often visited at the home of Captain Hains.

Denies Any Threat.

"Do you ever remember of saying to Mrs. Hains about Annis, 'I don't want to meet that man, I will have to shoot him if I meet him, for you know I have threatened to shoot him on sight?'"

"No, I did not."

Thornton Hains declared that he never told Mrs. Hains that he was going to write to the Captain about her.

"Is it a fact that when Captain Hains was in the Philippines you called on Mrs. Hains and said to her, 'my God, you look sweet,' and grabbed her by the arm?"

"Your honor," said the defendant, "I'm a prisoner here—"

Mr. McIntyre interrupted and said that if the District Attorney would agree to call Mrs. Hains he would have no objection to the line of testimony. Hains, however, declared it was not true.

The District Attorney asked the witness if he had not said to Mrs. Hains that he would like to kiss her if she wasn't his brother's wife.

Family Scandal Charged.

The defendant's face became fiery red and he bit his lips and, turning to the court, made a protest in loud tones against the question. Mr. McIntyre, however, directed his client to answer and the witness said:

"No."

Further questions as to whether the witness had sought close relations with Mrs. Hains was overruled.

"JEFF" GOES TO GYM

Friends of ex-Champion Say He Is Getting Ready for Johnson.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—That J. J. Jeffries, in response to the request of the sporting public that he attempt to wrest the heavyweight championship from the present champion, may decide to don the gloves again is a belief that is strengthened tonight by the announcement of those close to the former champion that he will begin light gymnasium work tomorrow, and continue working out three times a week, for a time at least. Jeffries himself continues to deny that he has decided to fight Johnson, but those closest to him expect the statement from him at any moment that he will try conclusions with the new champion.

BIG RUGBY MATCH AT HAND

Stanford Will Try Conclusions With Australians on February 6.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Jan. 6.—Arrangements for the rugby match between the Stanford fifteen and the "Wallabies," the all-amateur team from Australia, which is expected to arrive this month, are being perfected. The provisional date set for the game is February 6.

The expenses of the Stanford rugby team during its recent trip to British Columbia amounted to $2297.65, according to the report just issued by Manager Stewart. That figure leaves a deficit of $137.65, the northern team having guaranteed $2160.

RED WING, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special.)—In one of the roughest games of the trip, the Oregons won from the Red Wings in the second game of basketball tonight, by a score of 27 to 9. The temperature is 30 degrees below zero here, but has no bad effects on the Oregonians.

CONTRACT LET FOR BRANCH

U. P. WILL BEGIN GRAYS HARBOR WORK AT ONCE.

Officials of Road Holding Conferences With Waterfront Owners. Hope to Agree Very Soon.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Jan. 6.—(Special.)—"The contract for building the Grays Harbor branch of the Union Pacific road has been let to Caughren, Winter, Smith & Company, of Spokane and Seattle. The price will not be made public, but it does not include the construction of the bridge across the Chehalis River. That is to be a separate contract."

This is the important information given out today by Vice-President J. D. Farrell, of the Union Pacific, who with H. F. Baldwin, chief engineer, and W. C. Toomey, general right-of-way director, arrived in Aberdeen yesterday.

"We have come to Grays Harbor," continued Mr. Farrell, "to endeavor to reach an understanding with the owners of waterfront property and have had several conferences, the result of which cannot be stated until we have completed all our work. If we cannot settle it amicably and satisfactorily, we will possibly go further east and cross the river below here. We have two routes surveyed and the plan we will follow will be determined by the result of our conferences. This ought to be known in two or three days."

Mr. Farrell said that the Union Pacific will be extended in the Straits of Fuca country and that surveyors have been in the Olympic Mountain territory.

TOWN PARTLY DESTROYED

Port Essington Suffers Loss of $100,000 From Fire.

PORT ESSINGTON, B. C., Jan. 6.—This town was partially destroyed by fire last night. The fire, which started in the annex of the Caledonian Hotel, was caused by a defective flue. On account of there being no water pressure and the severe weather prevailing, it was found necessary to blow up the buildings east and west of the fire center. The total loss will amount to about $100,000, partially covered by insurance. Other losses included about 151 small cottages and their contents and part of the wharf.

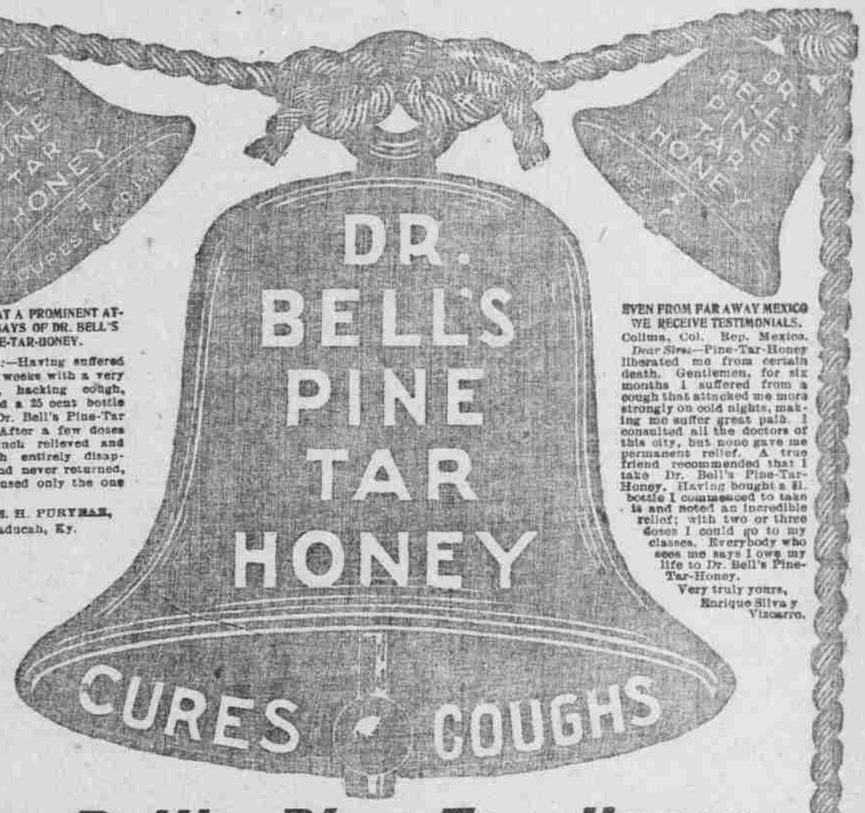
READ WHAT A PROMINENT ATTORNEY SAYS OF DR. BELL'S PINE-TAR-HONEY.

Gentlemen:—Having suffered for some weeks with a very annoying, hacking cough, I procured a 25 cent bottle of your Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. After a few doses I was much relieved and the cough entirely disappeared, and never returned, I having used only the one bottle.

Judge E. H. FURYMAN, Paducah, Ky.



EVEN FROM FAR AWAY MEXICO WE RECEIVE TESTIMONIALS.

Colima, Col. Rep. Mexico.

Dear Sirs:—Pine-Tar-Honey liberated me from certain death. Gentlemen, for six months I suffered from a cough that shaken me more strongly on cold nights, making me suffer great pain. I consulted all the doctors of this city, but none gave me permanent relief. A true friend recommended that I take Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. Having bought a 25 bottle I commenced to take it and noted an incredible relief; with two or three doses I could go to my classes. Everybody who sees me says I owe my life to Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey.

Very truly yours,
