His son, Howard Cosgrove, today telegraphed to the physician at Paso Robles that the Northwest was experiencing an unusual storm and suggested that it might be well to delay Mr. Cosgrove's departure until con-

likely to be any delay in traffic. It is feared that if Mr. Cosgrove returns while the weather is cold and at a time when there is likely to be a sudden break the effect on him might be severe. It is expected that a definite reply will be received tomorrow from Paso Robles. Word comes that Mr. Cosgrove is improving
