LYSONS LOSES CLERKSHIP

Familiar Figure at Olympia Without Political Job-Meigs Will Call House to Order This Morning.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 10 .- (Special.) -L. O. Meigs, of North Yakima, will be elected Speaker of the House tomorrow without opposition. At a conference this morning the supporters of J. W. Slayden, of Tacoma, checked up their strength and found 35 votes out of the total of 89 Republican members. Mr. Meigs was sent for and the question of appointments to committee chair-manships was discussed. Mr. Meigs stated to the Slayden men that he had promised only the chairmanship of the committee on appropriations. The Slay-den men then announced their with-drawal from the contest, asking only for fair treatment.

This afternoon a caucus call on the Speakership and the positions of chief clerk, sergeant-at-arms and assistant cierk, sergeant-st-arms and assistant sergeant-at-arms was circulated among House members. The call brought 73 members to the House chamber at 3 o'clock, J. A. Fancher, of Spokane, was chosen chairman, and T. J. Bell, of Tacoma, secretary. In behalf of the Pierce County delegation, Mr. Bell withdrew the name of Mr. Siayden as a candidate, pledging the friendliness of the Pierce County delegation to Mr. Meigs. As Slayden was the only opponent of Meigs, no caucus vote was ponent of Meigs, no caucus vote was taken on Speaker. Meigs will appoint Frank H. Renics.

of Seattle, chairman of the appropria-tions committee. Renick was chairman of the King County steering committee.

Lysons Loses Clerkship.

The defeat of Lysons for chief clerk emoves a familiar figure from the legislative roster of employes. For five sessions he has been secretary of the Senate, but this year, finding opposition among the King County Senators to his re-election, sought the chief clerkship of the House. A political fight was made on Lysons by Senators, who ac-cused him of unfairness toward certain candidates in the expenditure of campaign funds, Lysons having been score-tary of the Republican State Central Committee. Members of the Senate took a hand in the House contest in took a hand in the House contest in getting votes for Grinstead, which lined up with Meigs several weeks ago. Loren wrinstead, of Seattle, was chosen chief clerk of the House over J. W. Lysons, of Seattle, by a vote of 36 to 25. Joseph Wilson, of Pierce County, was the caucus choice for sergeant-at-arms, and George F. Bancroft, of Seattle, for assistant. Both were selected. tie, for assistant. Both were selected without opposition.

Meigs to Call House to Order.

The House will be called to order tomorrow morning by Mr. Meigs, who was chief clerk of the House in the last session. As he is the choice for Speaker, he will probably call some other member to the chair until the costs has been cost. The Senate will other member to the chair until the vote has been cast. The Senate will be called to order by Lieutenant-Governor Charles E. Coon, who will preside over that body until Wednesday, when the change of administration takes place and M. E. Hay becomes Lieutenant Governor. The new mem-Lieutenant-Governor. The new mem-

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 10 .- (Special.) OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 10.—(Special.)
—The Supreme Court will be called upon to determine the qualifications of M. E. Hay for the office of Lieutenant-Governor. While Lieutenant-Governor Charles E. "Rather than have anything sensational about the controversy over the office," said Mr. Merrit, "it has been agreed that there shall be no display of force, as is generally the rule in matters of that kind. Mr. Coon cannot institute the proceedings until Mr. Hay has taken the oath of office.

"Mr. Coon's term expires Tuesday afternoon. Wednesday he will relinquish the office to Mr. Hay, who will perform the duties of the office pending the decision by the Supreme Court.

"There can be no legal question as "Rather than have anything sensa-

Either man as a de facto officer could legally perform the duties of the office. I am not advised as to the contentions that will be raised, but presume they will be the same as those heretofore reported, and will question the eligibility of Mr. Hay on alleged violations of the primary law."

It has been previously reported that Lieutenant-Governor Coon would insti-tute, some kind of proceeding to oust Mr. Hay and that the charge would be that Mr. Hay had violated the provi-sions of the direct primary law placing sions of the direct primary law placing restrictions upon payment for advertising by a candidate for a party nomination. lation had swarmed out into the streets and certain hardy ones endeavored to selze her. She smashed the bottles of whiskey over the heads of two of them, and the others stood at a distance. Finally Mayor Arthur Hall deputized the street of the street of two young men as special officers, and they, with the aid of others, succeeded in getting her to the rallway station. She had lost her ticket in the melee, but kind-hearted citizens promptly subscribed funds sufficient to send her back to Newberg. It is as a result of these experiences that she is meditating upon the question of whether it becomes a real "lady" to want a drink when she is in a dry town.

That He Who Runs May Read

We installed one year ago typewriters in our prescription department. At first it seemed too radical a change from the old methods of writing directions and labels in longhand.

Too often, however, does it happen that the best druggist, like the best physician, is a mighty poor scribe, much to the confusion and despair of the unfortunate patient.

Our typewritten labels are neat, always legible, and our patrons, time and again, exclaim with delight when, in the half-darkened sickroom, they find directions not only legible but pleasantly easy to read without danger of error. Using as we do a double-color ribbon, labels for external mixtures, liniments and the like are written in red ink, while labels for prescriptions to be given internally are written in black. This is but one of the many improvements which we miginated and have installed at our dispensing counter, the largest and best-equipped in this country.
