COSGROVE SOUTH: MEAD HOLDS OVER

Governor-elect Gives Up Plan to Take Oath Outside of State.

POSTPONES TRIP TO NORTH

Hopes to Avoid All Complications by Going to Olympia as Soon as Weather Conditions Will Permit-Health Better.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. IL -(Special.)-The announcement, received today from Governor-elect Cosgrove, that he will not leave Paso Robles at present, has again put some uncertainty upon the matter of who will be chief executive of this state after tomorrow. Provided Mr. Cos-grove does not attempt to take the oath office in California, it now appears that there will be no question raised, but should he do so, his action is practically certain to precipitate a suit in the Supreme Court to determine whether Lleutenant-Governor M. E. Hay or prec-ent Governor A. E. Mead is acting Gov-Hay Refuses to Discuss Plans. Both Governor Mead and Mr. Hay are taking it for granted that the delay in the arrival of Mr. Cosgrove is but a mat-ter of a few days. Mr. Hay today declined positively to say what course he would pursue. If Mr. Cosgrove attempted to qualify in California. It is his in-tention, however, if Mr. Cogrove lets matters rest as they are, temporarily, to make no claim for the Governor's seat, pending the latter's return.

Mead Will Hold Over.

Governor Mead, under such circumstances, would continue to act as Governor, and quo warranto proceedings would not be instituted.

Howard C. Cosgrove, the Governor-elect's son, says he knows nothing of his father's plans, further than the brief nt contained in the telegran received by him today, to the effect that the Governor-elect would not leave Paso Robles for the present. The tele gram was in reply to the one dispatched last night by Howard Cosgrove, declar ing that because of the bad state of the weather here, it would be suicidal to his father to return at this time. "I do not meditate suicide," reads the Governor-elect's telegram. "Will remain in Paso Robles. Am improving rapidly."

To Avoid Complications, His Aim.

"I do not believe that father will take the oath of office in California," said Howard Congrove. "Such course would pre cipitate a contest in the Supreme Court which is the very thing he has been seek ing to avoid by his recent contemplated return to Washington. I know nothing definitely, however. Futher, of course is his own judge of what is best."

When asked about the rumor that Mr. Cosgrove might try to be sworn in at Pase Robles on Wednesday, Dr. It is the intention of the Governor-elect to go to Olympia for the purpose of qualifying, and, as far as I know, he will take no steps to be sworn in at the hotel. In fact, I have been in-formed that he has abandoned that plan."

OBJECT TO LUMBER TARIFF

Allege Changed Duty Would Ruin Main Business of State and Entire Northwest - Appropriate $85,000 in 40 Minutes.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 11 .- (Special.)-For the first day of the session an un usual amount of business was transacted by the Washington Legislature today, in cluding the passage of an appropriation bill providing for the expenditure of $85, 000 or as much thereof as may be neces-sary for the expenses of the session, and the adoption of a resolution protesting against the removal of the lumber duty. This is the earliest action ever taken by the Washington Legislature in the matter of providing for its own expenses, and is the largest initial appropriation ever passed for that purpose.

The bill required five minutes to pass the Senate, was immediately transmitted to the House and had passed that body within #0 minutes after its appearance in the Senate. The lumber resolution recites that the lumbering industry is the leading one in Washington, employing 100,000 men to whom are paid annually $75,000,000 and has for many years been the mainstay of the Pacific Northwest. Fear of the trans-fer of the lumbering industry to Can-ada is expressed, and an effect on wages and general business similar to the "bit ter experience under the free trade Wilson bill a decade ago," is predicted if the duty is removed. The resolution is directed to the committee on ways and

In the Senate, Cotterill (Dem.), of King County, and Rosenhaupt (Rep.), spoke against the resolution and there were three diasenting votes. Todd (Dem.), Young (Rep.), and Buck (Rep.) voted against it in the House; Hanson (Rep.) clining to vote.

The caucus programme was carried out smoothly in both houses. Leonard O. Meigs is Speaker of the House, and A. S. Ruth President pro tem of the Senate. Heretofore on the first day the Legisla-ture has contented itself with organizing and perhaps adopting a few routine con-current resolutions. Today three bills were introduced in the Senate. No. 2 was by Booth, increasing the number of Superior Judges in King County from six to seven, and was made a special order for Wednesday.

Bill No. 3 provides for an additional Superior Judge in Pierce County, making four in all, and was made a special order for January 19. The Senate also passed a joint memor ial asking for the relinquishment of tw sections of San Juan County, now in a military reserve, for use by the State University as a biological station. In addition the House passed/a con-current resolution endorsing an appro-priation by Congress of $1,000,000 for the construction of roads in Alaska.

CHARGE FILIBUSTER ATTEMPT

Mysterious "Patronage Clique" Said to Be Formed to Block Moves.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 11 .- (Special.)-The charge of attempting to organize a force in the Senate sufficient to prevent the enactment of progressive legislation such as the local option and race track gambling law, is laid at the door of some members of the Senate who, yesterday, got 25 of the Senators together, ostensibly for a conference on Senate patronage, preliminary to last night's

The ground for the charge that the real purpose of the conference was to organize for the purpose of controlling legislation is based principally on the conspicuous absence from the conference of W. H. Paulhamus, Senstor Ralph Metcalf, Senator John D. Bassett, Senator J. A. Falconer and others, who are strong advocates of the local option bill.

The story has been carried to Lieutenant-Governor Hay that an attempt has een made to organize the Senate against through by the insurgents two years ago against Lieutenant-Governor Coon. The fact, however, that some of Hay's closest friends in the Senate were instrumental in getting the conference, among them being Senator Ruth and Senator Robert Booth, of Senttle, indicates that the movement is not directed against him.

The leaders in the conference deny strenqously that it had any other pur-pose than to confer on patronage. Paul-hamus and Metcalf, who were insurgents last year, were not invited to the con-ference because, it is claimed, some of the Senators thought they had been un-duly active in behalf of J. W. Siayden's candidacy for Speaker, and that they had tried to get control of both houses.

The progressives in the Senate, who are very suspicious of the purposes of the conference, say the reactionaries cannot hold together more than is members. These are Huxtable, Smithson, Cameron, Eastham, Ruth, Roberts, Rydstrom, Fat-land, Knickerbocker, Williams, Allen, Piper, Booth, Smith and Cline. Among others who are known to have attended the conference were Anderson, Hutchinson, Whitney, Stephenson, Cox, Preshy, Stewart, Biair and Potts. The progressives promise to force an early test this week to determine the nature of the alignment.
