SALEM, Or., Jan. 11 .- (Special.)-McArthur's election as Speaker of the House was made unanimous shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon. The name of the caucus nominee was presented to the House by Campbell, chairman of the caucus. Munkers, of Linn, man of the caucus. Munkers, of Linn, representing the House minority, nominated his colleague, Corrigan, of Yamhill, for Speaker. McArthur cast a complimentary vote for Conyers and himself received the votes of the other 50 Republicans present.

Corigan voted for Munkers and reserved the votes of seven of his Demo-

Before the vote could be announced officially, Corrigan, after thanking his supporters, withdrew and moved that McArthur's election be made unanimous. which was held in the Capitol build-ing at 11 o'clock this morning, and nominated McArthur, of Multnomah-Clackamas, by acciamation. Libby, a Statement member from Marion Coun-ty, was the only man refusing to go into the caucus. The other absentee was Farrell, of Multnomah, who had been excused by reason of the death of his father, Hon Sylvester Farrell,

The caucus was assembled promptly at 11 o'clock by McCue of Clackamas, temporary speaker, and Campbell of Clackamas, was made chairman of the neeting. Eaton, Mc linney and Jaeger were appointed a committee to request the attendance of Jones of Douglas, who reached the caucus hall later, and Libby of Marion, and at the same time to invite members of the press to the meeting. This motion was adopted by the caucus, having been made by Mc-Arthur. Campbell was selected chairman on motion of Conyers of Columbia, while the motion of McCue of Clatsop prevailed that Mahono of Multnomah hould be secretary.

McKinney of Baker placed McArthur in nomination. He said that it was the duty of the members of the House to proceed to a Republican organization of that body. He pointed out that Oregon was a state of wide and diver-sified interests and that McArthur, as a native son of the state, was acquainted with those interests and the needs of the state. Mention was made of Mc-Arhur's management of the recent Presidential campaign in this state as secretary of the Republican state central committee, an accomplishment, said McKinney, that fully demonstrat-ed McArthur's political efficiency.

McArthur's nomination was warmly seconded by Abbott of Multnomah, and Conyers of Columbia. The latter was a member of the Oregon Legislature in 1860, and assisted to elect United States Benator Nesmith, of whom McArthur is a grandsom.

Jones of Polk, on behalf of the Statement members in the caucus, pre-sented the name of Patton of Marion, which was seconded by Jaeger of Mult-Before a vote could be taken, Patton withdrew his name and, on motion, the nomination of McArthur was made by acciamation. In accepting the nomination, McAr-thur modestly said that other members of the House probably were better qualified for the office, but, in addition to thanking his supporters, assured the nbers of the caucus that it would be his purpose to preside with dignity, honor and fairness. He referred to the pledge he filed in announcing his can-didacy for membership in the Legislature, in which he declared that he would not take dictation from any man or set of men, and said that he was qually independent now when elected. The candidate for Speaker invited the co-operation of all of the members of the House for a strictly business ses-sion of that organization in the interest of the state and its needs. Nominations for some of the desk positions were closely contested. This was particularly true of reading clerk, for which there were four applicants, requiring two ballets to determine the winner. By agreement the four men were considered candidates for the job without the formality of any nominations being made. The first ballot resulted: Trill, of Mulinomah, S; Holman, of Polk, 14; Stringer, of Marion, 11; Withycombe, of Benton, 14. Before the second ballot was taken, Stringer and Trill dropped out. Withycombe was then nominated by a vote of 20 to 18. On motion of McArthur, the caucus recommended to the committee on clorks that some provision be made for recommended to the committee on clerks that some provision be made for Holman, since, with the amount of work required of the reading clerk, there is urgent need for an assistant. The bailots by which the candidates for the other desk and subordinate positions were determined were as follows: Chief clerk, W. F. Drager, of Marion, 30; Walter C. Winslow, of Majon, 19; assistant chief clerk, George Nemer, of Douglas, elected without opion, 19; assistant chief clerk, George Neuner, of Dougias, elected without opposition: calendar clerk, J. R. Latourette, of Multnomah, 43; C. N. Ryan, of Multnomah, 7; sergeant-at-arms, D. C. Ely, of Morrow, 58; W. W. Smith, of Clackamas, 5; J. F. Hodges, of Marion, 5; Y. G. Freeman, of Linn, 2; doorkeeper, J. F. Singer, of Multnomah, 13; W. H. Luckey, Lane, 32; L. H. Zeigler, of Wheelor, 1; L. L. Matthews, of Douglas, 3; mailing clerk, W. F. McAdams, of Folk, 45; J. N. SCRAP IN SENATE

Opposes Motions for Various Investigation Committees and Junket Trips.

SELLING BACKS HIM UP

Motion Carries by One Vote to Refer All Such Resolutions to Special Committee-House Will Select Its Clerks.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 11 - (Special.) - Creation of joint investigation committees furnished material for the usual first 'scrap" in both houses. Appointment of these committees is an old custom, their function being to investigate departments and institutions of the same government, and to report their findings before the close of the session. These committees furnish berths for clerks and junketing trips for members. The usual crop of motions for appointment of these committes sprang up in each House and were referred to the respective committees of Hart, Beach, Bailey and Chase.

The clerkship issue was sprung indirectly this afternoon when Senator Kay offered a resolution for the appointment of a bommittee on resolutions to which all resolutions must be referred before action is taken thereon. This was opposed by Senator Beach who said that he has a resolution of his own to introduce and did not want it held up indefinitely by a committee. Kay explained that numerous resolutions will be introduced for a multitude of purposes and that aumerous resolutions will be intro-duced for a multitude of purposes and that in order that the Senate may act advisedly the resolutions should be passed upon by a committee. The resolution was adopted by a majority of one vots. If custom prevails, Kay will be chairman of the committee.

custom prevails, Kay will be chairman of the committee.

Later the fight was renewed when Senator Hart, of Baker, introduced a resolution for the appointment of a joint committee to investigate the State Blind School. Kay objected to the resolution and asked that it be referred to the special committee. Kay asserted that this is one of numerous resolutions that will be introduced for the investigation of state institutions and offices authorizing the employment of a large number of useless and incompetent clerks who will do little or no work. Senators Hart and Beach insisted that since the state is spending millions of dollars on state institutions the Legislature should investigate the manner in which the money is spent. The same attitude was taken by Senator Smith, of Marion, and Bingham, of Lane. Selling and Nottingham joined in the opposition to that plan of ham, of Lane. Seiling and Nottingham joined in the opposition to that plan of investigating institutions and agreed that if an investigation is to be had, competent persons should be employed to expert the books as any business man would have his books experted. Senator Hart finally consented that his resolution go to the committee. Then Senator Mulit moved the reconsideration of the vote by which the Senate earlier adopted Bingham's resolution for the investigation of the State Treasury. This motion prevailed and this and all other resolutions of the same nature went to the committee.

The usual small army of applicants for The usual small army of applicants for clerkships thronged the House and Sen-ate chambers eagerly awaiting the deci-sion of the committees that were named to apportion these subordinate plums. FLOOR PRIVILEGES REDUCED

Only Former State Officials Will Be Given Seats in Senate.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 11. — (Special.) — Senator Beach, of Multineman County, today secured the adoption of an amendment to the Senate rules which will restrict the exercise of the privilege of extending the courtesies of the Senate to outsiders. Heretofore It, has been the practice to extend the courtesies of the Senate to any person upon motion of a Senator. Senator Beach wanted the rules amended by limiting this favor to state officers. He pointand former state officers. He point-ed out that this would permit the ex-tension of courtesies to former mem-bers of the Legislature. He explained that in the past many persons secured the privileges of the floor and then abused the favor by lobbying. Senator M. A. Miller opposed the limitation, saying that the Senate is such an exclusive body as to require such a restriction."

J Miller, of Linn, and Butler opposed and finally Lee's plan was abandoned When the Electors met it was the opinion of Marsters that the session should be private. The reason for secrecy was a mystery to the newspaper men, but they marched in and Marsters neglected to insist that they be ejected. The subject then broached by Lee showed the reason for the desire of "executive session."

Lee and Marsters were candidates for messenger. Lee stated that it had been customary for the four Electors to share the perquisites with each other, and if he were the messenger he would gladly continue the custom. GAS ON THE STOMACH

The Experience of a Minneapolis Woman in Finding a Remedy for Indigestion.

The symptoms of stomach trouble vary. Some victims have a ravenous appetite, some loathe the sight of food. Often there is a burning sensation in the stomach and a feeling as of weight on the chest Sometimes the gas presses on the heart and leads the sufferer to think he has heart disease. Sick headache is a frequent and distressing symptom. The tonic treatment for stomach trouble is a comparatively new idea but it is sound in principle and shows satisfactory results in cases where other treatment had failed. Mrs. J. S. Wilder, a saleslady, of No. *828 Ninth street, S. E., Minneapolis, Minn., found no relief from stomach trouble until she tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Speaking of her case, Mrs.

Wilder says: About four years ago I was suffering stomach trouble, which with brought on by irregular and hurried eating. I was confined to my bed for three days at a time with headaches due to biliousness. My stomach felt as though there was a lump in it and the gas on my stomach gave me awful distress. I had severe pains in my back, my complexion was sallow and I was nervous and irritable. It made me short of breath to go up stairs. In the morning there would be a brown coating on my

The doctor gave me only temporary relief and after I had been sick for a year I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills upon the advice of a friend. The pills worked wonders for me.
