RAILROAD KEEPS PROPERTY

T. R. SHERIDAN LOSES FIGHT AGAINST S. P.

Suit Over Town Lots in Marshfield Alleged to Be Plaintiff's by Subsidy Is Lost. The jury in the case of T. R. Sheridan, of Roseburg, to recover property at Marshfield, Or., valued at $250,000, from the Southern Pacific, which has been on trial in the United States Court, yesterday rendered a verdict in favor of the defendant. The property consists of town lots. Sheridan said he was entitled to the land by reason of a grant as a subsidy in building a railroad. The Southern Pacific asserts that the railroad acquired title to the land from the Spruckels Brothers of San Francisco in connection with a railroad deal. It is probable that Sheridan's attorney

Melzer Well, promoter of a get-rich-quick scheme, appeared before United States Commissioner Marsh yesterday afternoon to receive extradition to New Mexico, the scene of alleged depredations. Well had a method of high finance that was just next door to burglary. He would send East to a big wholesale house and order a quantity of goods in the name of some small Western retail house. When these goods would arrive he would palm himself off as representative of the company, get the goods by merely paying the freight charges and proceed to sell them. No institution on earth could meet his prices. His last offense was committed at Roswell, N. M., and naturally he doesn't want to go back. The hearing was taken up and continued to February 2.

FITTING TEMPLE PLANNED

AL KADER TEMPLE, MYSTIC SHRINE, IS ENTHUSIASTIC.

Something Unique, to Be One of Most Beautiful Buildings in City, Is Hope of Nobles. At the psychological moment, and from an inspirational standpoint, illustrious Potentate L. G. Clark, of the Al Kader Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, sprang the proposition of a new temple for the order in Portland. The enthusiasm with which the plan was received, and the selection of such well-known business men as H. P. Palmer, W. C. Bristol, E. P. Beckwith, J. G. Mack and H. L. Pittcock, is an assurance of the stability of the project. Something unique and beautiful is
