"Administration," "Liberal" and "Insurgent" Parties Wage Campaign on Different Platforms. Contest Will Be Lively One.

Late political forecasts issued by the managers of the rival factions in the struggle for control of Commercial Club policies leave the result still in doubt The "administration," "liberal" an "in-surgent" forces each claims the victory. The contest comes to a climax tonight in the election of a board of directors. The victory of one or the other factions involves the social conduct of the club. Here are the three rival tickets;

LAND NOT FOR RAILROAD

Realty Purchases in North End Are Probably for Speculators.

Rallroad circles are still agitated over the speculation as to who is buy-ing large amounts of terminal prop-erty in the district lying west of the Harriman and Hill terminal tracts in North Portland. One entire row of blocks between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, from Glisan street to the rail road right-of-way lying along the bank of the river, has been acquired and pur-chases are still going on in that section of the city.

cas at first thought that either the Hill or Harriman interests have been acquiring the property to enlarge their terminal facilities but this is stoutly devided by representatives of both systems. Local officials declare their ignorance of the real purchasers and maintain that their companies have no interest in the big purchases.

The next theory adopted was that some railroad as yet without terminal facilities here is securing the property and the St. Paul road is mentioned in this connection as being the likely pur

The belief is now being advanced however, that the buyers are not rail-roads at all but capitalists with a spe-culative tendency who see in the prop-erty an excellent chance to make a tot of money. They think that this property will be in big demand at a later date for terminals and they see a chance to more than double their in-vestment within a few years. Meanwhile, the property taken as a whole will pay 2 or 3 per cent interest on the Seattle men are mentioned in this seattle men are mentioned in this connection. Sam Hill being one who is thought to have taken a part in the purchase. Although a relative of James J. Hill, by marriage, it is not thought he is acting for the railroads but for a private syndicate. This is the belief of men closely in touch with the local terminal situation. Nowhere have rail-way terminals on this Coast been so expensive as in Scattle and it is natural that capitalists of that city should ap-preciate the potential value of terminal property in this city.

FOUR WIVES MADE FREE

Judge Bronaugh granted divorces to four wives in the Circuit Court yesterday morning. Only one lonesome man thomas Warren, appeared, and he went away in a more unhappy frame of mind than he had come, for the Court refused to untile the knot which Cupid had fastened. When Judge Gantenbein learned that Mrs. Warren lives at Tuckaseigee, Jackson County, N. C., and that the aum-Jackson County, N. C., and that the summons and complaint were mailed to Wayneaville, Haywood County, he continued the case until the wife can be informed that the divorce suit is pending. Warren said he married his wife at Tuckaselgee in March, 1896, and separated from her in October, 1899. He hinted that her fondness for other men was the cause. The Court-jearned from War-to his wife's support for the last ten years, nor made any effort to learn how she is supporting their children. Mollie P. Stearns, cashier in a moving-picture theater, said her husband gam-bled, drank and stayed out until 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning. She said she and her husband had agreed that their child was to be placed in the custody of her sister, a Mrs. Fowler, to be visited and sinter, a Mrs. Fowler, to be visited and supported by both of the divorcess. Mrs. Stearns said shee married Samuel Stearns in August 1905, and that he left her in October, 1907. Ethel Babcock complained that James W. CHURCH CAMPAIGN

Will Introduce Motto "What Would Jesus Do?" Into Every-Day Life.

RETURNS FROM CLEVELAND

Pastor of White Temple Reports Plan Successful and Hopes to Have Portland Congregations Try Experiment.

Dr. J. Whiteomb Brougher, paster of the White Temple, the First Baptist Church, reached home yesterday from a month's trip in the East. One of the cities he visited was Cleveland, Ohio, and it was during the Doctor's stay there that ils attention was called to the remarkable propaganda of living as Jesus would voiced by William B. Wallace, D. D., pas tor of the East End Baptist Church, of Cleveland. This theory, motto, appeal, or what you will, "What Would Jesus Do?" was suggested to Dr. Wallace by a young college student, and struck a responsive

Dr. Wallace at once called together the young people of his congregation, and made a ringing appeal along the line of this motto, and a number of them agreed to make the motto the guiding principle of their lives for two weeks, and then to assemble at the church and report. This was done, and it was Dr. Brougher's privilege to be present at the East End Baptist Church when the "experience" meeting was held pursuant to the plan of Dr. Wallace's young parishioners. "Tes-timony" by a number of the young people who had adopted this question as their arbiter of life-conduct was given, and in-teresting experiences related.

Helped to Control Temper.

"One young man told of his former trials with a bad temper," said Dr. Brougher yesterday. "He was prone to find fault with people; he had cross words for not only strangers but for his own family and friends; the habit was growing on him, and not only caused pain to those about him, but was a source of unhappi-ness to himself. He applied the test of 'What Would Jesus Do' to this falling, and had ever before his eyes the unfailing kindness and tenderness of Jesus. The result was that he had conquered to a great degree this unfortunate tendency. While not reaching his ideal, he had gained a thousand-fold better control of his temper, and he was sanguine that the adherence to, and the belief in the motto had made him a better man.
"A young woman followed who told of her experience in obeying the wishes of her mother. She had planned to attend a social gathering when her mother informed her that she was expected to stay at home with a younger sister, while her parents made a visit. Her first thought was one of resentment and disappoint-ment, but keeping in view the recollection of 'What Would Jesus Do,' she entered cheerfully on her task of amusing her small sister, she told her stories and kept her contented until the return of her father and mother. It seemed the most natural thing in the world to do, afterwards, and the words of the motto seemed to her to indicate her course with the utmost simplicity.

Dr. Brougher intends to report to the ministers of Portland the results of his Cleveland experiences, and endeavor to inaugurate a like movement in Portland, making it a universal effort, and not merely a denominational crusade. "Jesus Christ," Dr. Brougher affirmed, "his life, his teachings, and his principles, are the solution to every problem known to hu-man experience. The adoption of that question literally and spiritually will transform every Christian's life, and transform the life and work of many of Dr. Brougher says to carry on this idea in its highest and truest significance "requires the spirit of Christ, the spirit of Christ as manifested in his rare hu-manity, and followed as best it could be followed, by erring mortal man. The significance of the motto means, put yourself in his place. What Christ would do in any crists or affair of human life can be quickly predicated; to do as he would do, is the test. A hard condition sometimes for the sons of men.

sometimes for the sons of men.
If to do were as easy as to know what 't'were good to do.
Chapsis had been churches, and poor men's oottages princes' palaces.
I can easier teach twenty what 't'were good
Than to be one of the twenty to follow mine own beaching.
"But the vital significance of this motto has a tremendous carrying power," con-tinued Dr. Brougher, "even if partially applied. It means charity, to the erring, as well as to the poor; it means love to your fellow-man; it means kindness to man and brute; it means higher citizen-ship, puer morals, loftler ideals, nobler realizations. It is, in the concrete in its workings out, the embodiment of what Tennyson sings:

I hold it truth with him who sings
To one clear harp in divers tones.
That tuen may rise on sterping stones
Of their dead selves to higher things."
Dr. Brougher is fired with the wide possibilities of this motto. He will be in his pulpit twice on next Sunday for morning and evening services. The subject of his morning sermon will be "Lovers Inseparable," and at night he will speak on "Seeing Life in Four Great Cities," in which his Cleveland experiences will be dwelt

LAND FULL OF SOCIALISM

Best and Greatest in the Lot.

PORTLAND, Jan 22 - (To the Editor.) ending your editorial in last Sunday PORTIAND, Jan 22.—(To the Editor.)—
Reading your editorial in tast Sundar's paper, I found many errors and misleading statements in your article headed "Our Real Leieure Classa," and knowing the vast influence your paper has, I ask a little space to correct those, to my mind, errors.

We know that there are people who say that the rich are getting richer and the poor are getting power; we hear it on the street corns, and maybe there is some truth in it. But why should you call these people "so cialists? Because they say themselves that they are? That would not make them so-cialists, any more than it will make a prescher, who receives from one to twenty thousand per year, and spends all the money on himself and family, a Christian, because he says he is. The teaching of Christian, because that, if you have two coats, give to him that, if you have two coats, give to him.

he says he is. The teaching of Christianity is that, if you have two coats, give to him who has none; to be logical, they would have to do this first before they could chill themselves Christians.

You say that it is the true socialistic theory to take away from those that have and give to those who have not. If that is true, will you tell me what is communism? I have learned that socialism is one thing and communism another. And is not commisse another, and is not communism taught to our children in Sunday school, with a lote of other sentimental nonsense?

A few weeks ago my little girl, 5 years old, coming from Sunday school, said: "I thank my heavenly Father." I did not let her get any farther, but told her, as best I sould, that she ought to be thankful to her earthly mother and father, to her teachers and all good people who would do her good. Or is it not teaching communism, when you may "he who has two coats why to him or is it not teaching communism, when you say, "he who has two coats, give to him who has none"? The way you use the words socialist and socialism reminds me of a story I heard some years ago of an Englishman and a German, trayeling in Empliand on the railroad. The German, not having seen the country before, would not his head out of the window to get a better view, and as they wore getting near a railroad bridge, the tron of which came closs to the car, his friend the Englishman, sang out. "Look out!" which made the German put his head out a little farther and caused the loss of his bat, after which he gave his friend the advice not to say look out, if he meant look in.

Counterfeit Coin Thrown Away.

"Another young man told of having received a counterfeit dollar from some unknown source. It was an exceedingly good imitation of the real thing, and he was not in a position where it was an easy matter to lose a dollar. The question of "What Would Jesus Do?" was easily answered in this case, and the dollar was destroyed instead of being turned back into the channels of trade.

"Still another young man confessed an inclination to criticise church members. He said he had a habit of telling all the derogatory things he heard about members of various churches, and generally sneering at the churches and their followers. He said to himself. What Would Jesus Do? and realized the impotence of men to set themselves as judges over their fellowmen. He had curbed his tonsive since then, and felt that he had gained in his own character as a man.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery' supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in con-densed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM---it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

THE MAN WITH DISEASE Should learn—and the sconer the better—that what may seem a trivial case very often has most serious and far reaching effects. The man who tries to be his own doctor is always the patient that later comes to the specialist with the chronic, stubborn, deep-seated case, which is the hardest kind to cure. I can not hope that all men will accept my statement that the quickest, the safest and the cheapest way is by consulting an expert specialist in Men's Diseases at once, but the intelligent man will already be convinced of the value of this advice upon investigation.

MY SPECIALTY INCLUDES

MY SPECIALTY INCLUDES "Weakness," Hydrocele, Varicocele, Blood and Skin Diseases, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Rupture, Tissue Waste, Rheumatism, and all Pelvic and Special Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs and their compileations.

EXAMINATION AND ADVICE FREE

I offer not only FREE consultation and advice, but of every case that comes to me I will make a careful examination and diagnosis without charge. No alling man should neglect this opportunity to get expert opinion about his trouble.

If you cannot call, write for Diagnosis Chart. My offices are open all
